Cut Down Expenses, Arms Conference Made Success, Removed Odium of Bourbon Failures.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Feb. 14.—What the Republican party has accomplished in Congress since it came into power and what it has done in international affairs through the Armament Conference formed the subject of an address by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge to the Republican members of the Massachusetts Legislature at a dinner here tonight.

The three great objects of the United States in the Armament Conference, said the Senator, were the limitation of armament, the termination of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance and the attainment of "all we could for the benefit of China, in which the dominant feature was the return of the province of Shantung."

SUCCEED IN OBJECTS.

"In all three of these objects," he continued, "we were successful. I do not underrate in the least the earnest good will and co-operation that we received from all our colleagues representing the other nations, but the lead in the conference belonged to the United States, because we issued the invitations and the lead we had throughout. Almost every proposition, certainly all of any importance, was brought forward by the American delegation."

The Republican party since it last came into power, has made a record in international and domestic accomplishments by which it may ask the country to stand "without fear or misgiving," said Senator Lodge.

Urging Republicans to pay no heed to the outcries of political opponents who call the present Congress a "do nothing" body, but rather to "go forward in the good old Republican way and carry on," Senator Lodge reviewed the achievements of the party since it gained control of Congress in March, 1919.

REMEDIAL LEGISLATION.

"I know," he said, "I am speaking within bounds when I say that no Congress in time of peace has ever shown such an amount of important, effective and remedial legislation as has been enacted by the present Congress since it has been in session."

The Republicans, he said, "found the worst situation economically which any party in the country had ever been called upon to face and we have a right to be proud of our record."

Senator Lodge dwelt at length upon the fruits of the Armament Conference which, he said, "we owe to the wisdom of President Harding in summoning it." More was done by the conference for the world's peace in twelve weeks, he added, "than has been done anywhere else in twice as many years."

When the Republican party gained control of Congress in 1919, it proceeded to reduce appropriations of the Wilson administration for the last year by $1,500,000,000, Senator Lodge said. "It also repealed war appropriations aggregating more than $8,000,000,000 and continued to reduce them until for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, the appropriations stood at $3,900,000,000."

FIREPROOF HOSPITAL IS URGED.

Santa Monica Building Needs Outlined Before House Body by Osborne.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Fearing that further delay on the part of Congress in the building of a fireproof hospital at the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle might result in case of fire in a terrific death loss due to the present wooden construction of the hospital building there Congressman Osborne appeared today before the Building Committee of the House and urged immediate provision for a modern and fireproof structure, large enough to accommodate all the present patients and provide additional facilities for other veterans.

In presenting the matter to the committee, Congressman Osborne said in part:

"I called to the attention of your committee at the hearing the condition of the hospital at the Home. It is of wooden construction, built more than thirty years ago and is extremely dangerous to the inmates from the constant possibility of fire. In order to bring it graphically to the attention of your committee, I have had the officers of the Home take pictures of these wooden buildings and to each is attached a description of the buildings. There are twenty-two of these photographs. You will notice that all of the buildings are either two or three stories in height. Many of the inmates are bed ridden and located in the second or third stories where there is poor ventilation and poor facilities. In the event of a fire it would be almost impossible to get all of these helpless veterans out. Such a calamity would be a great scandal to the country.

"I respectfully ask that you and your committee in considering the hospital needs take into serious consideration the desirability of building this hospital. There is a provision in the bill that the cost shall not exceed $1,500,000. I hope and believe that the proper building can be constructed for less than that amount."

Band Gets Through Wall of Government Warehouse, but is Frightened Off.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A plan to get possession of 200 barrels of whisky valued at $400,000 by the simple expedient of removing them from a government bonded warehouse through a hole cut in a brick wall into an exporters' warehouse, was frustrated today by prohibition agents and police.

The thieves left some partly eaten sandwiches when, apparently, they were frightened away by the approaching police. The police believe at least a dozen men were involved.

Collins Going to London; Trying to Gain Release of Kidnaped Men.

Ulster Correspondents Say Temper is for War, and Fear Violent Action.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Shooting continued throughout Tuesday in Belfast. Four more persons were killed and many were wounded. . . The total casualties since since last Saturday up to tonight were twenty-two persons killed and more than sixty wounded. The wounded list does not embrace the cases of many persons suffering from minor injuries.

British troops were brought into Belfast today to restore order. They hardly had assumed their duties before one of the soldiers was shot and wounded.

MAY FREE PRISONERS.

In the political sphere the principal news of the day was an announcement by Michael Collins, head of the provisional government in Ireland, to Winston Spencer Churchill, British secretary for the colonies, that Mr. Collins was in a position immediately to secure the release of a number of the kidnaped Ulsterites. Mr. Collins started from Dublin for London tonight in order to consult with the British government on the situation.

The general convention of the Sinn Fein has been set for February 21 and it is considered in political circles here that a majority vote in favor of the treaty between Ireland and Great Britain will result.

BRITISH AID NEEDED.

Lord Birkenhead, high chancellor, referred in the House of Lords tonight to Michael Collin's apprehensions of an attempt by extremists to wreck the treaty by methods of violence. He declared it was the plain duty of the British government and the obvious dictates of policy that they should support those men in Ireland who, under almost inconceivable difficulties, were making a courageous attempt to carry out the treaty.

With reference to the suspension of the evacuation of British troops, the lord high chancellor said the government considered, in the present situation of extreme tension, that continuance of evacuation would not now be justified. Declaring that he still hoped the discussion between Sir James Craig, Ulster Premier, and Michael Collins would be renewed, he said: "We should be deceiving our-

Fake Stock Cases Crowding Court Dockets; Daugherty to Clear Them.

Millions Taken from Gulls; Land and Mine Swindles Hold the Palm.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Dockets of the Federal courts throughout the country are swamped with fake stock swindling cases in which more than $140,000,000 has been taken from incautious investors, Atty.-Gen. Daugherty said tonight.

There are, he added, a total of 480 of these cases in the Federal courts in which 374 persons have been arrested or indicted.

"It would take one judge working twelve months a year, 1,000,000 years to clean up the docket" Mr. Daugherty said.

Most of the cases, he explained, were fake oil stock companies, although the swindling schemes ranged from bucketshops and mining stocks to patent "elephant catcher" promotions. Rich harvests are reaped by swindlers, he asserted, because people do not take pains to investigate what they put their money into.

TIME FOR ACTION.

The Department of Justice, Mr. Daugherty continued, comes into the prosecution of such cases through violation of the postal laws in the use of the mails to defraud, but he declared that in his opinion the matter was one for State action. A conference of State blue-sky commissioners should be held to frame a uniform law carrying a uniform punishment for stock swindlers.

Quoting from his reports Mr. Daugherty said that the northern district of Missouri led in the amount involved in pending fake stock cases with a total of $31,792,000, while the northern district of Illinois had the greatest number of cases with forty-three; the northern district of Texas stood second with forty-two cases and the southern district of New York had thirty-eight cases.

As an instance of schemes appealing to credulous investors Mr. Daugherty cited "the famous Everglades case" in which $750,000 had been obtained on the stock of a company formed to drain and farm rich Florida lands and sold on the argument that there was no frost in Florida. After the stock had been disposed of, he added, the frost came.

This case, he said, had been pending in Chicago several years and had already cost the government about $200,000 but he was studying the advisability of pressing it.

UNIONS MUTTER THREATS.

Nation-Wide Coal Strike on First of April Proposed at Meet of United Mine Workers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 14.—Threat of a nation-wide coal strike on April 1 of both bituminous and anthracite union miners was proposed today to the special convention of the United Mine Workers of America by the union scale committee as the weapon to preserve present basic wages for soft-coal miners and win increases for anthracite workers.

As soon as the report was presented, the convention adjourned by an almost unanimous vote until toomrrow, without any action or debate on the scale proposal. Likewise, the threatened fight in behalf of Alexander Howat, the Kansas leader, who was expelled from the union, failed to come before the 2000 delegates, but it was said it might develop later.

In brief, the committee demands included:

Refusal to accept any wage reductions in soft coal fields, the fight being to preserve present basic scales without any general increase; adjustment of "inequitable differentials" within and between districts, entailing wage advances for some miners; increase of 20 per cent in wages for anthracite tonnage workers, and $1 a day for day laborers; abolition of the automatic penalty clause for fining miners or operators violating working agreements; limitation of the eight-hour day to the time of entry and exit from the mines; pay and one-half for overtime; double pay for Sunday and holiday work, and weekly instead of bi-weekly or monthly pay.

As a preface to the demands the report declared any wage cuts would reduce miners' pay so as to bring "poverty, suffering and degradation in any mining localities" and added: "We do not believe the public asks that its fuel needs be supplied at the expense of a degraded citizenship."

Attending the convention as "observers are Parry B. Dynes of this city, and W. H. Rogers, former president of the Iowa miners, who are now employed as labor conciliators by the Federal Department of Labor."

POOR BISCHOFF'S DUPES.

Investigation Shows Foreigners' Modest Savings Went to Line Nest of "Financier" and Aides.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Investigation of the operations of Raymond J. Bischoff, 25-year-old promoter, today revealed that more than $7,000,000 had been "borrowed" from poor persons, mostly of foreign extraction, during the past two years by three men who held out the lure of rich returns.

The amount of the borrowings ranged from a few dollars up to one "loan" of $8000. The average was approximately $200.

Of the $7,000,000 total Bischoff was declared to have obtained approximately $4,500,000 while Leslie Harrington and M. P. West, whom Bischoff accused of imitating his methods of business, were said to have obtained the remainder.

HARRINGTON HUNTED.

Warrants charging Bischoff and two of his aides with obtaining money under false pretenses were issued yesterday and the police are now searching for Harrington, who was declared to have left the city. West was taken today in a raid on the offices of the Western Land Operators' Company.

The raid on the offices of the company was made last night at the request of 300 creditors. Just as the police believed they have established a connection between the working of Bischoff and Harrington, so have they come to the belief that the Western Land Operators' Company was connected with the other two and that the three were operating huge swindles jointly.

Jude Landis appointed a receiver for the Western Land Operators' Company. Judge Landis said it was indicted that Bischoff, Harrington, the land company and others were working along similar lines, and that they might have been working together.

GREAT BLACKHAND PLOT SMASHED IN RAID HERE.

Fortune Extorted Under Threat of Death; New Attempt Foiled; One Suspect Shot, Eight Held.

An organized conspiracy to extort large sums of money from wealthy Los Angeles business men by threats of death was cut short last night by Federal officers, deputy sheriffs and private investigators, who arrested eight men after a gun battle in a house at North Broadway and College street. A ninth man, desperately wounded by a bullet fired by one of the raiders, managed to crawl away in the darkness and escape. His capture is expected at any moment.

The men under arrest are:

John Marich, 31 years old.
Emil Gutte, 49.
Mike Kassich, 44.
August Bellich, 28.
Frank Sergo, 44.
Jack Randoff, 28.
Harry Akolas, 27.

All are foreigners, said to be Russians. They were docketed at the jail "for investigation." In addition, Randoff was held on charges to be made by the U. S. Marshal.

Forty-five thousand dollars was extorted from one Los Angeles citizen within the past few weeks, according to the statement of investigators last night.

NEW ATTEMPT MADE.

The plot was brought to the attention of the authorities through the efforts of the gang to get $25,000 in cash from the president of one of the largest corporations in Los Angeles, a man of large wealth and great determination.

Last Wednesday this man received a letter typewritten in red ink and signed B.H.S. (Black Hand Society,) It instructed him to place $20,000 in currency in a described spot in a vacant lot at the rear of the house at Broadway and College street. He was informed that unless he did so he would be killed.

The recipient of the letter promptly advised the authorities and a "plant" was arranged. Four bundles of paper, clipped to the size of national bank notes, with a $1 bill at the top and bottom of each, were taken to the designated spot by the object of the plot, while the Federal agents, heavily armed, hid in the vicinity prepared to shoot when the blackhanders appeared. The night was rainy and the light uncertain. Further, the keeper of a gasoline filling station was directly in the line of fire at the critical moment and, rather than take a chance, the officers did not then pursue their advantage.

Two days later a second letter, similarly written and signed, was received by the corporation head. It sarcastically acknowledged receipt of $8 "on account" and peremptorily demanded $25,000, instead of the $20,000, first mentioned. It closed with another threat to kill. "This time we will not let you off," it said.

THIRD ATTEMPT.

On Monday came a third letter. It said: "This is the third and last

KENYON TO LEAVE SEAT ON FEB. 24.

Senator Named to Bench by President Ready to Quit at Any Time.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Senator Kenyon of Iowa, who recently was appointed a circuit judge by President Harding, said tonight that he would retire from the Senate and assume his position on the bench not later than February 24. He added that he would write Gov. Kendall of Iowa to that effect tomorrow.

If his unemployment bill, which would provide for stimulating work on public improvements in slack times, is disposed of before February 24, Senator Kenyon said he would retire from the Senate that much sooner. He explained that he was remaining in the Senate primarily to obtain action on this bill.

It was today made the special order of business for the Senate tomorrow, and he expects it to be disposed of by February 24 at least.

THEATER BUILDERS HELD.

Nine Men Concerned in Construction of Knickerbocker Accused by Coroner's Jury.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Nine men were ordered held for the grand jury by the Coroner's jury which brought a verdict tonight in connection with the collapse of the roof of the Knickerbocker motion-picture theater January 28, resulting in death of ninety-eight persons.

The nine men, all of Washington, were: R. G. Geare, the architect of the building; J. H. Ford, the engineer who designed the roof structure; Morris Racher, building inspector when the theater was constructed; Frank L. Wagner, the builder; Donald Wallace, general superintendent of construction; R. G. Fletcher, superintendent of the Hammett Fireproofing Company, which built the walls; John L. McDonald, the contractor who erected the steel; Thomas L. Costigan, engineer and computer for the District of Columbia Building Department, who passed on the plans, and Julian R. Downman, the assistant building inspector when the building was constructed.

LONG DELIBERATION.

The inquest was begun last Tuesday and scores of witnesses were heard before the jury began its deliberation behind closed doors. It was out seven hours before it returned its findings.

FAULTY CONSTRUCTION.

The jury declared that the collapse of the roof was due to faulty designing and construction and inadequate supervision and inspection.

It also submitted a number of recommendations, one being that "all theaters and places where the public assemble be closed and kept closed until such time in which their safety is assured."

Dist.-Atty. Gordon said tonight that the case would be submitted to the grand jury as soon as possible.

JURY IS IN SESSION.

That body is in session now and the opinion was expressed informally that it would be in a position to take up the Knickerbocker findings by the last of this week. Those who were recommended held for the grand jury were not taken into custody tonight but it was said they would be given an opportunity to appear at the District Attorney's office the first thing in the morning. Their bonds, Mr. Gordon said, would be $5000 each.

The coroner's jury in its findings recommended that there be a thorough revision of the building code in the District of Columbia with heavy penalties provided for violation of any of its clauses.

It noted that no special qualifications are essential in filling the position in the office of building inspector; that the testimony showed a lack of knowledge of conditions and proper supervision of buildings erected in the district; that the reports made by field inspectors were unintelligent and that little or no attention was paid to them, they apparently being made only as a matter of form and not with any idea of following up, or checking any defects, showing the lamentable lack of appreciation of responsibility.

It is also noted, the jury added, that many of the witnesses testifying in the case had done so with much evident unwillingness and mental reservation.

HOLD PRIEST IN MURDER.

Verdict a Shock to Montreal.

Father Delorme Accused of Slaying Brother; Money Motive Alleged.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTREAL (Que.) Feb. 14.—One of the most dramatic scenes ever enacted tonight in the Coroner's court of Montreal took place, when at the conclusion of the adjourned inquest into the death of Raoul Delorme, wealthy student, the jury returned a verdict of murder against the dead man's brother, Father Adelard Delorme.

The priest was arrested upon a warrant issued by Coroner McMahon, charging him with the crime. The denouement was not entirely unexpected.

NIGHT OF KILLING.

Following these preliminaries Prosecutor Walsh immediately asked Father Delorme to take the stand. The crown prosecutor after questioning him as to his age and length of his residence in Montreal, requested him to relate his experiences on the night his brother was killed.

The new part of his evidence related to his movements after midnight of the night of the murder.

The priest said he had made up the furnace fire in his garage, and had started his car running to find if something was wrong with the gasoline intake. This was to offset evidence already given that the motor had been heard running after midnight by a neighbor. The witness said he locked all the doors and went up to bed about 1:30. He believed his sisters were awake, because they did not usually sleep while he was downstairs.

At 2 a.m. the telephone bell rang. He went downstairs and answered it, and for a moment heard nothing. Suddenly he heard several moans, and then the line went dead. He went back to bed. At 3 a.m. the telephone bell rang. He answered it once more, but there was nobody on the line.

PHONE RINGS AGAIN.

At 4 a.m. the telephone bell rang again. He answered it instantly and there was no response. He got the operator on the line and she told him that the calls had come from a pay station and that a man had been calling. He told her who he was and eventually got the chief operator on the line. He insisted on her finding from what place the calls had come. She answered that it was impossible to find out. He explained to her about the other calls and said that he was being continually disturbed. She told him that if anybody else called during the night she would not ring him. He was not disturbed again that night.

Father Delorme explained that he came to have a sprained wrist on the morning following the tragedy by slipping on an icy sidewalk. He said his brother's income from property was over $10,000 a year, but that it was nearly all taken by the upkeep. He told of persuading his brother to take out an insurance policy for $25,000 Christmas Eve, and also accounted for his revolver and the disappearance of cartridges saying he had bought it for protection and had fired at a target.

ADMITS HAVING WILL.

Father Delorme admitted that he had had his brother's will in his possession, but denied that he had ever read it. Notary Belanger was sent to get the will which, it turned out, left practically everything to the priest.

JURORS CAUTIONED.

Coroner McMahon cautioned the jurors today that although Catholics, they were not to be influenced by the fact that a priest, a servant of the church, might be affected by their decision. They stood 7 to 1 on their verdict finding him criminally responsible for his half brother's death.

Father Delorme was unmoved by the verdict and walked briskly

MEXICAN REBEL EXECUTED.

Gen. Antonio Pruneda Faces Firing Squad After Trial; Iron Hand of Obregon Rules.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—The iron hand of President Obregon, which has been used sparingly during the fourteen months of his administration, now is effectively gripping the incipient revolutions in Mexico, which in the past month have been more frequent than at any time since the last change in government.

This morning Gen. Antonio Pruneda, former commander of the Federal troops in the State of Chihuahua, met death at the hands of a firing squad. He had been convicted by a court-martial on charges of rebellion in connection with the activities of Gen. Francisco Murgia, former Minister of War.

Eight of Pruneda's officers, who came to the capitol Sunday by direction of the War Office and who were taken into custody with him, are being held for court-martial. The trial of Pruneda lasted throughout Monday night and the verdict calling for death at the hands of a firing squad was announced at six o'clock this morning. Shortly afterwards Pruneda was executed. He met death calmly. He pleaded innocence of the charge laid against him. Pruneda once held high military commands in the States of Coahuila, Chihuahua and Tamaulipas.

It is reported here that in the States of Chihuahua, Jalisco, Vera Cruz, Coahuila, Oxaca, Michoacan and Durango, there are small bands which are attempting to intimidate the inhabitants. In some instances they have sacked and burned haciendas and small villages.

Gen. Antonio Ruiz and Capt. Lugardo Perez of the Federal army were executed this morning in Chihuahua City after having been found guilty of rebellion by a court-martial.

HARDING DISAPPROVES TAX PLANS FOR BONUS.

Also Opposed to Issue of Government Bonds; Congressmen Are Worried Over Outcome.

BY GRAFTON S. WILCOX.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—President Harding has rejected both plans for financing a soldiers' bonus proposed by Republican leaders in Congress. They are apprehensive the Chief Executive is preparing to ask them again to postpone all bonus legislation. Today the President let it be known that he is opposed to imposition of special taxes, to a return to any taxation which has either been reduced or eliminated, or to paying a bonus through issuance of government bonds.

Tomorrow the President will communicate his views officially to the Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee by letter.

CONGRESSMEN WORRIED.

What his recommendation will be is worrying every Republican member of Congress who has been promising soldier bonus legislation at this session.

Some leaders are convinced the President will reassert to Congress that the country cannot stand the financial strain of a bonus.

Representative Fordney, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, insists tonight bonus legislation will be passed at this session.

In some quarters a belief is held that the President may favor some sort of a general sales tax as a means of financing the compensation bill, but Republican leaders have informed him a careful canvass of the situation shows that a sales tax will meet defeat because of the opposition of agriculture, labor and other elements. Furthermore, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has taken the position that regardless of the merits of the sales tax as a basic scheme for taxation, it would cause administrative difficulties to add it to other forms of taxation.

UPHOLD MELLON.

On the suggestion of a bond issue the President stands back of Secretary Mellon's recent declaration that new borrowing by the government would seriously embarrass the extensive refunding operations which must be undertaken during the coming year. The President is said to be convinced it would not be possible to obtain funds for the bonus through a bond issue without causing an increase in interest rates and disturbing the Liberty bond market.

The bonus question was again a subject of debate in the Senate today.

Senator King of Utah, Democrat, assailed Republican leaders for their vacillating attitude on the question and chided them for running to President Harding with their troubles.

"I recall," said Senator King, "that it was not very long ago that our Republican friends were denouncing the Democratic party for its subserviency to President Wilson. It was charged that we were rubber stamps. Where is the boasted independence of the Republican leaders and the Republican party today?

AFRAID TO ACT.

"This brave and courageous Republican majority is afraid to act. It does not dare act in the daylight. It is afraid to act in the darkness. It is shouldering upon the Executive the entire responsibility of formulating bonus action.

"They are afraid of the farmer vote if they impose a certain line of taxes. They are afraid of the business man's vote if they lay taxes upon certain commodities or upon certain lines of business. They are afraid of the soldier's vote, if they do not respond to the apparent demands of a large number of former service men. They are afraid of their shadows. They are afraid to act.

"Confessing their impotency they go hat in hand and on bended knee and beg the President to help them out of their dilemma."

Senator Watson of Georgia, Democrat, appeared as the champion of the bonus. He undertook to answer Senator Borah's attack yesterday on the measure and insisted the soldiers were entitled to the bonus.

"I would not like to reproach the memory of George Washington and yet Washington and his soldiers of the Indian Wars accepted a bonus," he said.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Excited trading and a big jump in prices kept the wheat pit of the Chicago Board of Trade in a whirl today on 'change here. The scene at the opening especially was one of the wildest witnessed for some time and although the disturbance was later somewhat subdued, the market was again seething at the close.

The major part of the rise of 6½ cents a bushel in the price of wheat which took place at the outset was retained when the closing gong halted further business, with the market at 1.35¼ to 1.38¾ a bushel for May option and 121¾ to 1.21¾ for July, the two months in which speculative dealings are at present centered.

Tonight, leaders who had acted on a belief in higher prices, were credited with having as a rule bought additional holdings today instead of selling out. According to current gossip, the bulk of the day's selling came from miscellaneous sources, and was chiefly to secure profits resulting from the sudden bulge in values.

The advances in prices here followed gains made yesterday at Liverpool and other foreign market centers while American markets were closed during yesterday's holiday.

Leslie R. and Clarence H. Their appeal to the Federal Circuit Court had failed. It is estimated that they cleaned up about $40,000.

DIRIGIBLE ROMA TO MAKE COAST TRIP.

ARMY PLANNING FLIGHT FROM WASHINGTON TO BAY CITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—A transcontinental flight by the 600-foot dirigible Roma via the south end of the Rocky Mountains to San Francisco is contemplated by Army Air Service officials, they announced today.

The Roma has been equipped with Liberty engine motive power since her trip from Langley Field, Virginia, to Washington, to be christened and formally commissioned. Trial flights with the new engines probably will be made late this week.

Within two or three months air service officials expect to fly the Roma from Langley Field to New York and to operate her between New York and Chicago for a number of trips as a test of the commercial possibilities of dirigibles of the Zeppelin type.

If the results of these tests warrant, it is expected that the transcontinental flight will be attempted. The probable route will be by way of St. Louis, thence southwest to avoid the necessity of climbing to high altitudes in crossing the mountains.

BANCA ITALIANA CREDITORS MEET.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, Feb. 14.—The receivers for the Banca Italiana Di Sconti met today with a committee of the bank's creditors to arrange part payment of its current accounts. The creditors demanded 72 per cent payment, 8 per cent in stock, and the remainder on account. The receivers contended that 62 per cent was all that the bank's assets could stand, 7 per cent of which should be in stock and the remainder on account. A compromise between the receiver and the committee was expected today.

selves if we remained blind to the fact that in the next few weeks we are going through the most grave and critical period probably, in living memory. I am still of the opinion that if the men in the two countries who are of good intention and desirous to see the treaty succeed will co-operate, there is still great prospect that we may be so fortunate. The one hope at the moment is that under any provocation and disappointments we should keep cool heads and quiet tongues."

POLICE AT BORDER.

All available northern police are being moved to the frontier from the quieter areas according to the Daily Mail's Belfast correspondent and the boundary will soon be lined with ten thousand armed and disciplined men. The difficulty of preventing "the guns going off of themselves" under these circumstances is emphasized by the correspondent, who says that in Pettigoe in County Donegal the rival forces are separated only by the width of a street while at Belcoo and Belleek, County Fermanagh, they are watching each other from the opposite ends of the bridge.

The danger is not confined to the frontier, he adds, owing to the antagonism of the Sinn Feiners and Orangemen in various parts of Ulster, the results of which were evidenced in the shooting and bombing in Belfast yesterday.

The British government is vitally concerned over the latest developments and their possible affect on the House of Commons. Many Conservatives who hitherto have supported the government's Irish policy in the interest of peace are said to be losing faith in the prospect of a settlement and may withhold support of the bill establishing the Free State when it comes to the second reading Thursday.

TERROR CONTINUES.
[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BELFAST, Feb. 14.—Snipers continued their grim work in the disturbed sections of Belfast this morning, and by midday the death toll since Saturday had been increased to nineteen by the death of three men who were victims of bullets in the streets during the noon hour. The number of wounded at the same hour had reached the total of approximately fifty.

Shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon, heavy bursts of fire occurred in the Falls Road district, the shots coming from the Unionist section in Northumberland street in the Sinn Fein quarter. Gunmen in the latter quarter immediately retaliated and a fierce revolver duel continued for a considerable period.

Shots were fired into Royal avenue, the main thoroughfare of Belfast, then crowded with shoppers. One man was wounded and the driver of the ambulance which was rushed up to carry him off reported the ambulance had been fired upon.

TELLS OF TRAGEDY.

Martha O'Hanlon, aged 13, who was wounded in the neck and arm by the bomb which exploded in Weaver street last night, said at the hospital this morning that she and a number of companions were skipping rope on the sidewalk when the bomb was thrown among them. She and most of her companions were wounded by splinters. One of these wounded was the O'Hanlon child's sister, who died shortly afterward.

On Beachfield street in East Belfast, a girl was struck in the breast by a bullet, which pierced her body. The Society of Friends in Belfast announced they would hold a meeting tonight to pray for peace.

The efforts announced in the House of Commons yesterday by Winston Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, to arrange a meeting between Sir James Craig and Michael Collins, as suggested by the provisional government, are not likely to succeed, it is understood. The Ulster Premier is said to have ignored the proposals and to have reiterated his demand for the immediate release of the kidnaped Unionists.

DUBLIN WORRIED.
[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—Great apprehension has been caused here by the British government's cessation of military evacuation, as it is believed by many leading Irishmen that this act plays directly into the hands of the opponents of the Anglo-Irish treaty. Speedy fulfillment of the London government's promise to evacuate Southern Ireland had created the impression here that the British were acting in good faith, and in that there was reality in the powers granted to South Ireland by the treaty.

Interruption in evacuation is feared in many quarters as indicating a change of front on the part of the British Cabinet. The military authorities in Dublin are not believed to be responsible for the move. It was learned today that the Cabinet was not supposed by the provisional government to have been consulted on the suspension of evacuation activities, and that Michael Collins takes the view that it is a fresh example of "meddling by the War Office, acting in the old spirit."

DE VALERA CAMPAIGN.

One explanation offered here for the suspension of evacuation is that the local commanders, in view of the recent incidents in Southern Ireland, refused to take the risk to the men and equipment that would be involved in the troops' departure. Mr. Collins places responsibility on Eamonn de Valera's campaign of resistance to the provisional government.

Today's issue of Mr. De Valera's newspaper, the Republic of Ireland, shows the strengthening of this attack. It urges Arthur Griffith to remember that Mr. De Valera is President of the Irish republic and that the Free State is yet in the far future. The journal attacks the bill introduced in the British Parliament giving powers to the provisional government as a masterpiece of camouflage."

On the same paper Robert C. Barton, who was one of the Irish delegates who negotiated the free state treaty, has a long article contradicting statements of Mr. Collins and asserting that the treaty was signed under duress.

TILT AT INQUEST.
[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ENNISKILLEN (County Fermanagh, Ireland) Feb. 14.—Lively exchanges marked the opening of the inquest here today on the bodies of the four Ulster special constables killed Saturday at Clones.

Coroner James Milligan referred to the Ulster volunteer movement as creating the present situation. He was warmly taken to task by a juryman, while another juror said all the trouble rested on Premier Lloyd George, whom the juror called a "weak-backed Premier."

If there was Christianity in the South of Ireland, he added, this never would have happened. The Coroner adjourned the inquest until February 21.

DOHENY SATISFIED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The reasons for the formation of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic no longer exist, in the opinion of Edward L. Doheny, president of the association, who announces he favors the Irish Free State. Mr. Doheny had taken an active interest in the association, founded by Eamonn De Valera. He underwrote the recent $4,000,000 Irish relief funds and has been one of the largest individual contributors to the Irish cause.

Commenting on the recent action of the executive committee of the association in adopting a resolution supporting De Valera's fight for absolute freedom, Mr. Doheny said:

"I don't think any man or group of men has the right to set themselves up as representing the opinions of the vast army of Irish sympathizers. I have only just heard of that meeting. The full executive body of the association was not present at the meeting, nor was its president.

"I am in favor of the treaty and I think the vast majority of Irishmen are. Give the new arrangement a chance. In twenty or thirty years from now, after a neighborly relation has developed between Great Britain and Ireland, then it will be time to strike out for the republic if the people want it."

With 124,391 separate advertisements for the month, The Times not only eclipsed all previous January records, but increased its lead over the second morning paper to the enormous figure of 36,731 want-ads as compared with a Times lead in January, 1921, of 29,747 want-ads.

call. We mean business." Directions as to placing the money were repeated.

Last night a second "plant" of paper and a small amount of money was arranged. The bundles of paper with marked bills on top were placed back of a signboard on the corner opposite the oil station.

The neighborhood was literally aswarm with armed officers, including all available Federal officers and the entire night force of the Sheriff's office. All were warned of the desperate character of the men sought and told to shoot on sight.

Three deputy sheriffs perched on the roof of the brick house at 840 North Broadway, where the gang was later found to have headquarters. Others were hidden on other adjacent roofs and between houses.

FIRE AT FIGURE.

Shortly after dark a furtive figure was observed sneaking toward the signboard. As the man reached for the money five sawed-off shotguns roared with a staccato accompaniment of pistol shots.

The man leaped, twisted, fell and wriggled away like a snake in the dark. Blood stains were found in his wake but he made good his escape into No. 840, carrying the "money."

The officers then rushed the suspected house in pursuit. As they came in six or seven revolver shots blazed at them from doors and windows. The place was surrounded and eight men overpowered as they tried to escape from the ground floor rooms.

They had the "money" but there was no trace of the wounded man. No one of the attackers was hurt. The eight were lodged in the County Jail. All were armed with revolvers.

The authorities declare them to be members of the biggest and best-organized Black Hand outfit now operating in the United States. Several are yet to be arrested, but there is reason to expect their capture today.

In the house at 840 North Broadway was found evidence that it has been used for some time as headquarters for the gang, all the members of which made their home there. The typewriter with which the death letters were written, a machine of peculiar type faces, was found and held as evidence.

NAMES SHIELDED.

A special request for the withholding of all names was made by the officers last night, as they fear any persons named will be slain by the gangsters still at large.

One of the inspectors expressed the belief last night that the gang may have been instrumental in causing the death of William Desmond Taylor, film director, whose murder is now occupying the attention of the police.

Several prominent Los Angeles men have lately received the gang's letters, The Times learned last night, and in at least one instance they were successful in extorting $45,000 from the victim. Threats of death which the officers say were not idle ones accompanied each letter.

COURT OF JUSTICE TO CONVENE TODAY.

JOHN BASSETT MOORE AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVE AT THE HAGUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

THE HAGUE, Feb. 14.—The international court of justice created under the terms of the Covenant of the League of Nations will hold its first public session here tomorrow with Chief Justice Loder presiding and with a bench composed of a number of international jurists, including John Bassett Moore of the United States. The scene of the opening ceremony will be in the great hall of justice in the peace palace.

The great hall is a singularly beautiful chapel-like chamber paneled in carved oak with a seating capacity of 400, including the large rectangular gallery along one side.

The eleven judges and four deputy judges were elected from a list of eighty nominees, comprising candidates designated by panels of arbiters from the States which are members of The Hague Court of Arbitration, or by bodies similarly composed.

The statutes of the court consist of sixty-four articles prescribing that the members of the court be elected for nine years, being eligible for re-election, and prohibiting them meanwhile from exercising any political or administrative function.

The requisition papers from the State of North Dakota were held to be in proper shape, the Governor's office said, and it was intimated the extradition would be ordered.

NAVY YARDS TO LOSE CONTRACT

Leviathan Will be Fitted Up by Private Firm.

Harding Backs Attitude of Chairman Lasker.

Steamer to Form Nucleus of Trans-Atlantic Line.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board has decided to award the contract for reconditioning the liner Leviathan to the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company tomorrow, it was said today on high authority, and the board will meet at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to ratify formally this decision. The Newport News company was the lowest bidder for the repair work.

Chairman Lasker lunched with President Harding today and it is understood left with the impression that he had the President's support in the stand he has taken to award the contract to the lowest bidder instead of permitting Navy yards to do the work.

TRANS-ATLANTIC LINE.

Under plans now being worked out by the Shipping Board, the Leviathan, when it is reconditioned, will form the nucleus of a trans-Atlantic passenger line under the American flag to compete with the largest liner under foreign flags.

Under a ship subsidy plan which is now in the hands of President Harding and probably will be transmitted to Congress by the end of next week, it was said that the Leviathan and other former German trans-Atlantic liners, the George Washington, America and Princess Matoika will be sold to one of the three or four recently organized American steamship companies which have already expressed a willingness to bid for the ships, to provide a trans-Atlantic steamship service under the American flag comparable with that given by some of the foreign companies now in the trans-Atlantic passenger trade.

BACKING OF HARDING.

Lasker's intention became known late today after it had been said at the White House that the administration's attitude in the matter of the Leviathan was that the contract for reconditioning should go to the company which made the lowest bid under the award called for some time ago by the Shipping Board. The Newport News company's bid was $8,200,000 and all the bids as called for will expire at midnight tomorrow if not previously acted upon.

The administration took this view, it was stated, notwithstanding the efforts of New England people to obtain the work for the Boston Navy Yard and the adoption by the Senate of an amendment to the independent offices appropriation bill providing that unless otherwise directed by the President the Shipping Board should obtain navy-yard estimates for all repair work in excess of $5000 before letting contracts to private bidders.

NOTHING TO GAIN.

The view of President Harding, Secretary Denby, Chairman Lasker and President Powell of the Emergency Fleet Corporation was said to be that there would be nothing to justify the government in throwing out the bids already made on the Leviathan and in asking new offers. The bids, it was declared, had been made in good faith, and the government had nothing to do with favoring one community at the expense of another in awarding such contracts. Furthermore, it was added, the government was not attempting to take on any more business ventures, but was trying to get out of business.

In discussing the proposed new American trans-Atlantic steamship service today, Shipping Board officials said that among those who expressed a desire to bid for the fleet of four vessels, to which may be added four new ships of the 535-foot class, were the Roosevelt Steamship Line, the Moore & MacCormick of the Brady interests and the Harriman steamship line. There was also a possibility, it was stated, that the International Mercantile Marine Company might bid.

The International Mercantile, it was said at the Shipping Board today, has released the board from the contract which it maintains it has to recondition and operate the Leviathan and has left the "Shipping Board a free agent." This contract was made when John Barton Paine was chairman of the board, but Chairman Lasker has never recognized its validity.

COX ANSWERED BY REPUBLICAN.

McCormick Cites Party's Work in Rebuttal.

Senate Address Takes Rap at League.

Democratic Extravagance is Also Exposed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Republican achievements were set forth in a speech in the Senate today by Senator McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the Republican Senatorial campaign committee, in reply to the recent address of James M. Cox, Democratic Presidential candidate in the last election.

The Washington Arms Conference, the Illinois Senator declared, had done more for peace and against war than has the League of Nations during all the twelve months of its existence.

Former Gov. Cox, the Senator declared, proposed to have the Democratic party stand behind the League as a campaign issue despite what Mr. McCormick said was the recent decisive repudiation of it by the American electorate.

ON "PROSPERITY."

Senator McCormick asserted, as Gov. Cox presented the Democratic issues, the Democratic leadership holds: "First, the world-wide and short-lived prosperity which feverishly followed the armistice was Democratic.

"Second, the economic depression into which the whole world has since fallen was wrought, not by the waste of war, but by the Republican party.

"Third, the Democratic leaders believe that although the greater part of Europe is maintaining armies of which she cannot meet the cost and although her debtor governments have not overcome their deficits and that although they cannot pay the interest due America, we should lend and lend more, more and more.

"Fourth, the Democratic leaders still hold the irrevocable conviction that we must put upon our necks the bonds of the League of Nations."

Senator McCormick also took note of Gov. Cox's declaration that he intended to fight Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, for re-election because Senator McCormick said Mr. Lodge loved the League too little and America too well.

Europe must settle her political differences, reduce her armies and retrench her expenditures before we can grant her new credits, Senator McCormick declared. "The sum of interest annually due the United States from seven European countries which have 2,000,000 armed men would amount to $285,000,000—a sum equal to more than half the annual cost of their armies.

READY TO HELP.

"America stands ready to help, but not if advances which she makes indirectly maintains in Europe thousands of public functionaries while she is dismissing them by the thousands at home, not if the advances which she makes indirectly maintains great armies when she has almost disarmed by land and when she and other maritime powers by agreement have limited arms by sea; not if her advances indirectly keep alive the rivalries and animosities which thwart the fruitful work of peace in which she would help Europe."

REWARD OF $10.

A reward of $10 will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person stealing copies of The Times from premises of subscribers.

Subscribers also will confer a favor by telephoning The Times, Pico 700, 10391, if The Times is not delivered to them by 7 a.m. weekdays or 8 a.m. Sundays.

The Times-Mirror Company.

Senator McCormick detailed what he declared were waste and extravagance of the Democratic administration and economies of the present administration. The country, he said, was coming to know that the legislative program already written "is more far-reaching and promises more constructive measures" than any former Congress.

"A Republic administration, with rigid frugality," he said, is spending millions less than was voted and has submitted for the year 1923 estimates lower than those submitted for the previous year by the Democratic administration by nearly $800,000,000.

"In three years we have slashed by two-thirds the original prodigal spending program of our Democratic critics. The rejection of the profligate Democratic estimates so conserved the resources of the government that since the Republican victory in 1918 the national debt had been diminished from the surplus revenues by over $2,000,000,000. Furthermore, the Revenue Act passed by the present Congress will reduce Federal taxation by the estimated amount of $750,000,000.

PREGENOA DISCUSSION REQUESTED

Lord Hardinge Conveys Views of Great Britain in Regard to Conference.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Feb. 14. — Lord Hardinge, British Ambassador at Paris, has conveyed to the French government a request for a sort of pre-Genoa conference of experts to be held in London at the earliest possible moment. This is the British counter to the French demand for a three-months' postponement to examine the questions to be discussed at Genoa.

The British experts have their case ready and it is believed the French also, so the proposal was made that they get together to arrive at some general agreement before the opening of the full dress conference. This is considered all the more necessary inasmuch as the differences between the French and British point of view seem rather to turn on exact interpretations of the resolutions passed at Cannes and it is felt that such differences can be settled face to face much easier than through correspondence.

The British now are more ready to consent to some postponement, declaring the Italian political situation is a strong factor. "We are not tied absolutely to March 8," said a British official. "We are willing to consent to a reasonable postponement but we think that three months is too long."

The morning was consumed with the reading of charges and counter-charges as to the unfitness of the hospital of Dr. Henry Waldo Coe for the treatment of insane soldiers. Dr. Coe testified Bent had come to him expressing fear that Dr. Wayson might have the power "to railroad him to an asylum." A few days later Bent shot himself.

A Scientific Revelation!

Although you would never suspect it from their stylish appearance. Trupedics are anatomical shoes.

The reason that they are so wonderfully comfortable is because they fit perfectly.

They are made in three types (note diagrams below) because science has proved that there are three types of normal feet instead of merely one.

If you wear a shoe of a different type than your foot how can you expect comfort?

Come in, try on the three types of Trupedic shoes and make comfort a certainty.

OLD OREGON TO BE MEMORIAL.

"Bulldog of Navy" Won't Go to Scrap Pile.

Will be Rendered Incapable of Fighting Again.

Plan to Restore Famous Ship to Former Condition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Under scrapping provisions of the naval treaty, the historic battleship Oregon probably will become a stationary floating memorial to her great days as "bulldog of the Navy."

Her big guns that roared in triumph at Santiago will be silenced; the pulse of the huge engines that drove her 14,000 miles to reach the fighting front will be stilled forever; but in appearance she will remain as she was to stir the pride of future generations of Americans.

The Oregon and the Illinois may be interned under "provisions of part 2, III (B)," a table attached to the treaty says. And part 2, 3 (B) of the document reads:

MADE INCAPABLE.

"A vessel shall be considered incapable of further warlike service when there shall have been removed and landed, or else destroyed in the ship:

"All guns and essential portions of guns, fire control tops and revolving parts of all barbettes and turrets.

"All machinery for working hydraulic or electric mountings.

"All fire control instruments and range finders.

"All ammunition, explosives and mines.

"All torpedoes, war heads and torpedo tubes.

"All wireless telegraphy installations.

"The conning tower and all side armor or alternatively all main propelling machinery.

"All landing and flying off platforms and all other aviation accessories."

PLANNING DETAILS.

The special naval board planning details of the scrapping programs has given some thought to the problem of bringing the Oregon within the requirements of the treaty when it becomes effective and yet retaining the ship much as she was in the days of her career.

Board members are satisfied that ample authority for this has been provided and the future of the ship as a monument to the valor of the men who gloriously sailed and fought her under Clarke in 1898 seems assured.

It may be necessary to cut slits in the barrels of the thirteen-inch main battery rifles and other guns, filling the slits with soft material and painting over to preserve appearances. They could not be fired thereafter. Moving parts of turrets would be similarly disabled and to avoid stripping off the conning tower and side armor, the main shaft that drove the Oregon on her great voyage from San Francisco to Santiago, probably will be cut and left to lie idle in its bearings.

WILL BE RESTORED.

It appears likely that efforts will be made to restore the hero ship as nearly as possible to her exact appearance on the day she overhauled the Colon racing down the Cuban coast after the last survivor of Cervera's fleet. The Spanish cruiser failed then to keep up the high speed for which she was built while the Oregon, despite 14,000 miles of gruelling running behind her, exceeded her trial speed and the roar of her first 13-inch shell, sailing over the Spaniard's decks as the bull dog ran down the greyhound, sent the Colon to her death on the beach rather than surrender afloat.

The Oregon had no wireless equipment nor aviation accessories in those days. She has been refitted many times as naval fashions have changed, but when she becomes, at last under the treaty, an important relic of the great fighter she once was, she will look as she did when in her prime.

MOUNT RAINIER IS CONQUERED.

Climbed for First Time in History in Midwinter Season.

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 14. Mount Rainier was climbed for the first time in its history during midwinter. Jean and Jacques Landry and Jacques Bergues, mountaineers and Charles R. Perryman, a motion-picture camera operator, accomplished the feat heretofore considered impossible. The quartet left on their final dash from Anvil Rock, their base, 10,000 feet high, at 4 a.m. yesterday. They returned fifteen and one-half hours later, exhausted by their arduous climb over ice and numbed by the chilling Arctic winds.

"We made it. We left our names in a bottle on the summit. We are too exhausted to talk," they said.

BIDS LET FOR NEW STATE ROAD WORK.

The firm bid $275,482.50 on reinforced concrete construction, and $274,394 on bituminous asphalt macadam.

Rhodes & Price of Hilt were lowest bidders on the improvement of 16.7 miles of State highway between San Felipe and the easterly boundary of Santa Clara county, their offer being $195,390.70 for metal pipe and $203,466.50 for reinforced concrete pipe. Grant Smith & Co. were lowest on construction work between King City and the south side of the Salinas River in Monterey county, with a bid of $23,500.

COMIC VALENTINE HAS "COME BACK."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The comic valentine is back. During the war there was little demand for these bits of grotesque art and snappy verse, and it was thought they had passed forever. Today Park Row dealers in novelties expressed keen regret that they had misjudged the public's taste, for demand exceeded supply, and a "corner" would have brought a moderate fortune overnight.

SEEK CHANGE IN SHIPPING.

California Growers Would Improve Methods.

Criticise Facilities Now Being Offered.

Attack Refrigeration and Car System.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—Fruit shipping and refrigeration facilities afforded California shippers by the trans-continental railroads were sharply criticised here today at a conference of growers and other representatives of agricultural interests and it was decided to appoint a committee to ascertain what improvements could be made in the situation.

OFFICERS SELECTED.

E. M. Sheehan, manager of the California Grape Growers' Exchange, was made chairman, and Frank T. Swett, president of the California Pear Growers' Association, secretary. Sheehan said he would announce the other members of the committee tomorrow.

The committee will act in an advisory capacity to the Growers' and Shippers' Protective League, it was announced, conferring with that organization as to the possibility of improvement in traffic service.

Representatives of the Pacific Fruit Express, the refrigerator car service maintained jointly by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Railways, said there was no just cause for complaint, as 8300 new cars would be placed in service soon on the Southern Pacific and 2500 on the Santa Fe.

CRITICISE CAR SYSTEM.

The chief critic of the car system was E. L. Goodsell, a director of the Fruit Auction Company of New York City, which auctions a large amount of California fruit in eastern markets. He said the cars should have cork insulation instead of mineral waste, saw dust, etc., to prevent freezing and heating of shipments and recommended the use of fans at diagonally opposite top corners of the cars to distribute cooled air evenly.

Goodsell asserted that ships to transport Pacific Coast food products to New York and to Europe should be not less than 8000 tons gross, have a speed of sixteen knots to land cargoes in New York in fifteen days and in England in twenty days and cabin accommodations for 120 passengers to lessen the cost of operation. He said there should be built fifteen steamers to give a weekly service to New York and every fortnight to England. Such steamers would cost $3,000,000 each and could be built if the shippers would guarantee sufficient tonnage for a period of years.

CHESNEY WILL GET 1921 EDISON MEDAL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. — Cummings C. Chesney, electrical engineer of Pittsfield, Mass., will receive the 1921 Edison medal at the tenth midwinter convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineering here Saturday evening. The award was made for early developments in alternating current transmission.

The medal previously has been awarded to Elihu Thomson, Frank J. Sprague, George Westinghouse, William Stanley, Charles F. Brush, Alexander Graham Bell, Nikola Tesla and W. L. R. Emmet.

PICKFORD-FAIRBANKS STUDIO INCORPORATED.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 14.—The Pickford-Fairbanks Studios Company, understood to be backed by Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, filed articles of incorporation here today in the offices of Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan. The company has a capital stock of $250,000. The following are named directors: John Fairbanks, Robert Fairbanks, Charlotte Pickford Smith, Jack Pickford and John G. Mott. The company will be located in Los Angeles.

PERSHING TELLS OF PROPOSED NEW ARMY.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 14.—"We ar working today for the establishment of the peace army under the laws passed in 1920," Gen. Pershing told members of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce today.

"This new peace army would consist of three elements: the Regular Army, the National Guard, which generally speaking is under the supervision of the War Department, and a general reserve to be organized.

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE DOG HERO

Canine Had Protected Maid From Attack by Two Kidnapers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SILVER CREEK (N. Y.) Feb. 14.—Lydia Harris, a maid in the home of C. D. Livermore, risked her life yesterday to save a dog which recently has protected her from attacks. The Livermore house caught fire, the family and the maid escaping in night clothing. After they had arrived at a neighbor's house, Miss Harris thought about the dog and rushed back to the burning buildin to bring it out in safety.

A few months ago, two men tried to kidnap Miss Harris while she was on her way home late at night, but the dog she saved today drove them away.

ROSIKA DOLLY WILL WED SOON.

Rosika Dolly.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Dolly sisters, famous dancers, widely known in the West, are in imminent danger of marriage. At least one of the sisters, Rosika, has told friends since their return a few days ago from England that she is to marry soon. Her fiance, she says, is George Brookshank, son of an English railroad magnate.

Rosika is quoted as saying:

"This is going to be my farewell tour in America. I am going back to marry the most wonderful boy in England. I just cannot wait until my engagement ends here."

Millions Asked in Action Just Come to Light.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The filing of a $25,000,000 suit against the New York Stock Exchange, the estate of Jacob H. Schiff and other defendants named as managers of the reorganization of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company for alleged failure "to account for profits derived from coal lands owned by the company," became known today when Supreme Court Justice Giegerich granted a motion to eliminate Seymour L. Cromwell from the list of defendants.

The suit was brought by the Mercantile Fire Insurance Company and the Narragansett Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Providence, R. I.

PLAYERS MUST SIGN UP FAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—All Cub players will have to sign their contracts before going to the training camp, it was announced today. William Veeck, president of the Chicago Nationals, before leaving for New York to attend the National League schedule meeting, declared the club did not intend to pay the bills of athletes who neglected to sign contracts before making the trip. Mr. Veeck gave no hint that there were any holdouts.

JOIE RAY IS AFTER RECORDS.

Star Middle Distance Runner Will Try to Set Precedent This Year.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Joie Ray, crack middle distance runner of the Illinois Athletic Club, announced today that he would attempt, during the year, to set a precedent for a number of records broken by an individual in one season.

Last night Ray broke a world's record of twenty-seven years standing by negotiating a mile and a quarter at the Seventy-first Regiment games in 5m. 35 2-5s. The old mark, 5m. 38 4-5s., was set at Bergen, N. J., on Sept. 2, 1895, the year Ray was born, by Thomas Conneff, of the New York Athletic Club.

Two weeks ago in the Milrose A. A. meet at Madison Square Garden, Ray made a mile and a half in 6m. 42 2-5s., a new American indoor record time. In that event he lapped the entire field of opponents, including Harold C. Cutbill of Boston.

Ray will next try for a new record in the mile.

TOILERS POUNCE ON POLY.

Mechanics Defeated by Manual Arts in Opening Track Meet of Season.

Manual Arts' cinderpath experts sprinted away from Poly yesterday afternoon in the first meet of the City League season, winning at Wilson Field by a count of 69⅓ to 43⅔. Sid Foster's athletes cornered first honors in practically every event on the program, while an occasional blue ribbon, added to a sprinkling of seconds and thirds had to satisfy the Mechanical contingent.

The big upset of the afternoon occurred in the half mile. Thomas of Manual, considered a sure winner, was preceded to the tape by both Niersbach and Plate of Poly, the time being 2 minutes 4 seconds flat. Lynch startled the assembled multitudes by heaving the shot almost out of sight.

The results follow:

100-yard dash—Shultz (Manual Arts) first, Hughes (Manual Arts) second, Brothers (Manual Arts) third. Time, 10 2-5s.

880—Niersbach (Poly) first, Plate (Poly) second, Thomas (Manual Arts) third. Time, 2m. 4s.

220—Shultz (Manual Arts) first, Niersbach (Poly) second, Rowe (Poly) third. Time, 22 2-5s.

440—Smith (Poly) first, Hansen (Manual Arts) second, Harris (Manual Arts) third. Time, 55 4-5s.

Mile—Mitchell (Poly) first, Plate (Poly) second, Hite (Manual Arts) third. Time, 4m. 52 2-5s.

High hurdles—Towle (Manual Arts) first, Rich Blewett (Manual Arts) second, Dickenson (Poly) third. Time, 15 3-5s.

Low hurdles—Towle (Manual Arts) first, Dickenson (Poly) second, Haig (Manual Arts) third. Time, 28s.

Pole vault—Ades (Poly) and Stahl (Poly) tied for first; Scott (Manual Arts) third. Height, 10ft.

Relay—Won by Poly.

TIJUANA RESULTS.

In this latter event Clermont, who was strongly supported in his first appearance of the season, was unplaced.

WILL BREAK GROUND FOR STADIUM MAY 1.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Feb. 14.—Ground will be broken May 1 for a Gonzaga university athletic stadium, which will be finished in time for use in next fall's football games, university alumni announced today.

The stadium is to be in the form of a horseshoe, and will seat 28,000. A regulation football gridiron, quarter-mile track, baseball diamond and field, tennis and handball courts, and facilities for hockey matches, pageants and carnivals will be afforded.

The alumni have charge of the financing of the stadium.

PICKED FLEET ELEVEN TO GO BY THE BOARDS.

Ships to Keep Their Star Players Next Fall, According to Plans of Admiral Eberle.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

As constituted last year, the Pacific Fleet football team has faded out of the sport picture. Not that this means the elimination of football in the fleet, but simply a revamping.

And it was explained to me by Admiral Eberle the Pacific Fleet team, so-called, next year will be the champion of the various ship teams. In other words, there will be no fine combing of the ships of the fleet for star players such as existed in 1920 and 1921 and assigning them to intensive football practice for a period of two months or more.

Each ship will keep its star players and have its own, separate and distinct team. The sub base, the air force, the destroyer forces and the capital ship forces will engage in a strenuous elimination series, winding up in a final game for the championship.

The winner not only gains the title but earns the right to represent the fleet in all outside games, such as for instance the annual Armistice Day struggle at Pasadena on November 11.

Admiral Eberle believes this plan will create a better spirit and engender more rivalry than was possible with the one star team representing the fleet. Incidentally the Admiral is looking out for the efficiency of the fleet, and he does not believe that taking men away from duty for months at a stretch to let them play football comes under that head.

The Admiral is not opposed to football, as some have pictured him, but is on the contrary a keen enthusiast and one of the game's strongest boosters.

In the first baseball game of the season the U.S.S. New York nine yesterday defeated the Fort MacArthur soldier team by a score of 2 to 0. The pitching of Wyatt, who struck out ten men, featured the brawl. The short score follows:

U.S.S. New York........	2	5	1
Fort MacArthur........	0	2	3

Batteries: Wyatt and MacLendon; Hagerman and Wilson.

The pulling race between the Tennessee and California will be staged at 7 a.m. sharp this morning. There will be twelve men in each boat aside from the coxswains. Thousands of dollars have been wagered on the result, and the race should be a thriller over the three-mile course.

The Tennessee's crew is composed of Engel, boatswain; Collins, Romano, White, Allenborg, Settbarn, Coffey, Rock, Fields, Spurdic, Turner, Perksey and Gardner.

DEMPSEY NOW IN WINDY CITY.

Champion Gets Chatty on Various Subjects.

Denies That He is Engaged to Bebe Daniels.

Heavyweight Boxer is Just Dying for Scrap.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Jack Dempsey, world's champion prize fighter, left at noon today for New York in response to what he said was an urgent message from his manager, Jack Kearns, that he was about to sign the champion for a match in London or Paris, presumably with Georges Carpentier. Dempsey reached here from the Pacific Coast this morning, and told of Kearns's message between trains.

Dempsey talked freely on many subjects with the flock of newspaper men who met him at the train to ask questions concerning reports that he was engaged to Bebe Daniels.

"Course Miss Daniels and I are not going to get married," he said. "She'd pick some one better than I."

Replying to a question, he said he expected to get married the first.

"What first?"

"First chance," replied the champion.

Dempsey said he was "itching for a fight."

"I've just bought a home and I'll have to take a lot of socks on the chin to pay for it," he said. "I don't care whether its Wills or Georges that gives me those socks. Anyone the public wants suits me."

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, said today he had about despaired of getting a paying match for the champion in the United States and was looking for new fields abroad.

He has no definite plans, he said, but is considering several propositions in the rough—one of which is to go abroad for a match with Georges Carpentier and another to go abroad for a vaudeville tour.

The trip abroad will not mature for at least a month, he said.

NEVADA BASKETERS TO TOUR IN NORTH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 14.—University of Nevada's basketball team leaves here February 16 to tour the Pacific Northwest, playing the University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural College, Willamette University, Pacific University and the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland.

SPORT SHRAPNEL By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

It has been claimed that there is nothing certain in baseball. In one particular case we beg leave to differ. The Coast League offers one certainty, the same being that the Portland team will not be as putrid as it has been for several seasons past.

For a number of seasons the Beavers collectively have looked like something which the cat dragged in. The team, from its lowly position in the cellar, smelled to heaven. In other ways, however, it did not ascend.

The McCredies at one time produced some good teams and developed many high-class players. They won four pennants in five years, starting this drive in 1910 and terminating it in 1914. Prior to that they had fashioned a flag winner in 1906. But with their final success in 1914 the interest of the elder McCredie seemed to wane, due possibly in a measure to ill health. For the most part he was content to supply his really able nephew Walter with only mediocre material, and Walt ceased to be the league wiz and the most feared manager in the circuit.

For the past couple of years the club has been a thing of horror. Shunned at home, the crowds which greeted it on the road suggested a quarantine of the ball park. People stood up and cheered it just as they would cheer a case of smallpox.

These remarks are not for the purpose of pulling the record on the judge, as he was one of the league's big figures during the trying days of 1906, and we prefer to remember him for this and five pennant winners which he backed. The judge simply slumped.

Rather, the foregoing is for the purpose of leading up to a move which plainly will benefit the entire league. This is the purchase of the Portland franchise by Brewster and Klepper, former owners of the Seattle club. Although they have had the team but a short time, they give evidence of duplicating their achievement in Seattle, when inside of two years they made the "baby team" of the league a contender.

Brewster is said to own the bulk of the Portland stock, but Klepper appears to be the active head. Bill Kepper has been described as

LANTADOS GETS SPEED FROM HIS FAST DADDY.

Sired by Cruzados Whose Celerity Was Shown in Pony Derby in Chicago in 1902.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Gladness grows in our heart every time we pick up the old trail of the bangtails that leads back to the halcyon days of Washington Park, Chicago. It was there in 1902 that we had the privilege of giving the once-over to the famous Cruzados, the day star of Lucky Baldwin's aspirations for the derby of that year. Cruzados, by the way, is the daddy of Lantados, the speed marvel of Tijuana, who many turfmen regard as the best horse California has ever turned out.

In the foregoing year, the son of the Emperor of Norfolk, Master Cruzados, if you please, came to Chicago early in June with a reputation that would have made Man O'War turn a cock-eyed look of jealously his way. Lucky Baldwin told us that Cruzados was the fastest and best horse he had ever owned, and this piece of information was verified by a number of Californians, who had come east to witness the big blue ribbon classic.

SHORT ON LOOKS.

On looks, Cruzados didn't impress us any too favorably. It appeared as if there were too much daylight under him, and the general contour of his body was framed more on the delicate lines of a sprinter. Proof most positive of his great speed was what we wanted as we were about that time delving deeply into the chances of the various candidates of the great American Derby. We therefore played the role of a rail bird at Washington Park, and were rewarded by a spin that almost jerked the split second hands out of our chronometer.

We therefore made up our mind

Mat Bout at Union League Club Tonight.

What looks to be one of the best wrestling matches of the season will take place tonight at Union League Club gym, when Constantine Romanoff, claimant of the Pacific Coast heavyweight championship, meets Jack McDonald, Canadian heavyweight champion, in a finish match. Both men are in the pink of condition as they have been training hard for the match the last two weeks, Romanoff at the Union League Club and McDonald at another local gymnasium. Romanoff weighs 195 pounds, and McDonald 215 pounds. The match will be preceded by three good preliminaries the semi-wind-up being between Morris Bloomfield of the U.S.S. Idaho, welterweight champion of the United States Navy, and the Masked Marvel, a sensation from the East.

RUBIDOUX, MURPHY DRAW.

Banties Box Upsticks in Feature Bout at Doyle's; Fans Deride Verdict in Semi-Wind-up.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

Ad Rubidoux and Dynamite Murphy boxed to a draw at Jack Doyle's pavilion last night. Whatever chance Murphy had of getting the verdict was marred by his holding-on tactics. Much clinching prevailed throughout the set-to. The first round was about upsticks. Murphy, however, cut loose in the second and landed a number of rights to the face, thus gaining the session. The third found Rubidoux coming back with a vengeance.

After Murphy had raised a lump under Ad's left eye in the early part of the round, Rubidoux put over a number of rights to the face and lefts to the stomach and had the round by a good margain.

Murphy landed two hard rights to the jaw in the finale that shook Rubidoux up considerably, but Ad evened matters with right uppercuts. The draw decision was well received.

Not so, however, was the reception of the verdict in the semi-wind-up when the judges awarded the bout to Chick Roach over Bud Soules. The crowd yodeled its displeasure, the majority believing Soules had either won or was entitled to a draw. In the first two rounds and in the early part of the third, Soules had a commanding lead. He kept beating Roach to the punch and opened a cut under

TALK GOLF IN HOTEL FOUNTS.

Nabobs from All Over Are in Pasadena.

Indulge Obsession on the Near-by Links.

Lack of Municipal Courses Here Scored.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

One hears nothing but golf talk at the big Pasadena hotels. They are brimful of golfing tourists from all parts of the country, including such nabobs as Hugh Chalmers of the Chalmers Motor Company, Detroit, who rises with the dawn to indulge his golf obsession on either Midwick or Pasadena links; W. G. Harvey, president of the Illinois Electric Company, who is doing the Pasadena course in the 80's; T. J. Hartley, lumber king from Everett, Wash.; J. L. Igleheart, president of the Evansville Milling Company, from Indiana; C. W. Gress, banker from Cannon Falls and Minneapolis; J. T. McChesney, president of numerous corporations in Everett, Wash.; F. S. Vreeland, president of the largest bakery company in New York State; A. R. Fay, transportation manager for the Swift Company of Chicago, and so on ad finitum.

One particularly interesting visitor is H. W. Tisdall from Toronto, Can., a manufacturing jeweler, whose business he declares is one of the best barometers of trade, since it is the first to feel hard times and the last to experience the sweets of prosperity—and he is not worrying a bit about his. Canada, he says, is prosperous and daily becoming more so. It also is golf crazy.

SOME CLASS.

Hence it is peculiarly interesting to Los Angeles to hear that Toronto alone, with a smaller population than Los Angeles, has ten first class golf clubs and three municipal courses — and more planned for.

Mr. Tisdall says the municipal golf course has become a necessity in Canada and they are multiplying all over the country. Moreover, he says, the established golf clubs are overcrowded and all have waiting lists for several years to come. He cites one that is now being started, with a limit of 700 membership. They offered the shares at $100 but after three days were selling them at $200—and sold out before the expiration of two weeks.

Of course Canadians cannot play during their stern winter, although a few valiant souls do sally forth with red balls and try to play in the snow.

SKATER TO DEFEND TITLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SARANAC LAKE (N. Y.) Feb. 14.—Arthur Staff of Chicago, professional skating champion, is here to defend his title against a large field of fast and experienced skaters in a three-day meet beginning today. The events today are the semifinals in the 220-yard, half-mile and two-mile events.

AMERICAN SKATERS TO INVADE NORWAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAKE PLACID (N. Y.) Feb. 14. The United States and Canada will be represented at skating events to be held in Norway next winter, according to plans of Julian T. Fitzgerald of Chicago, president of the International Skating Union of America. He intends to have the amateurs picked by their performance in a series of events on a new international circuit, to start at Winnipeg and end here.

FOREIGNERS TO TRY FOR SKI LAURELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAKE PLACID (N. Y.) Feb. 14. Canada, Switzerland, Norway and Sweden, in addition to the United States, will be represented at the annual international ski jump here February 22, under the auspices of the Sno-birds' Club, E. Des Baillets, club director, announced today.

The sno-bird jump is a natural one, no steel tower or wooden platform having been erected to attain the great height it affords.

BENGALS TAKE ON TROJANS.

Oxy and U.S.C. Dedicate New Basketball Pavilion Tonight.

Featuring a basketball game between Occidental and U.S.C. an exciting program will mark the opening of the Trojans' recently completed basketball pavilion tonight. Unless something unexpected happens the Tiger five will be snowed under, as Occidental isn't exactly bragging about her casaba representatives this season. However, whenever a team wearing the orange and black hooks up with a set of athletes dolled up in red and gold, the spectators may be sure of seeing some real scrapping.

Occidental's quintet held a light practice on the new floor last night.

Preceding the main event the U.S.C. freshman five will have a tilt with one of the local prep teams, probably Manual Arts. An exhibitions by the U.S.C. gymnasts will also be staged before the Tigers and the Trojans get together.

RUBIDOUX AND MURPHY DRAW.

Chick's left eye that bothered the latter considerably. From the middle of the third round to the finish, Chick slammed his man rather hard.

The result of the other bouts were as follows: Bobby Ertle-Sailor Kramer, draw; Ralph Lincoln won over Baby Blue; Jimmy Marcus beat Frankie Oldrich; Franck Nelson trimmed Norton Davis in three rounds and Young Sumner put it on K. Jack Price.

BUILD GOLF LINKS AT MAMMOTH CAVE.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—To satisfy the demand for all-year golf without being dependent on resort courses, a group of golfers from Chicago and other northern cities are building links of their own near Mammoth Cave, Ky., it was announced today by A. J. Musselman of the Glen Oak Golf Club, one of the charter members.

Golfers have been going south in ever increasing numbers during the winter, thronging the links along the Gulf Coast despite the long distance to be traveled and the inconvenience of being two days away from their business in case of emergency.

BOS TO CROSS CUES WITH PERCY COLLINS.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—The brunt of the foreign invasion falls upon Ary Bos, the young Hollander who holds the European championship, as the players moved into the second day of the international class A 18.2 balk-line billiard championship at the Manufacturers' Club. Bos meets Percy N. Collins of the Illinois A. C., Chicago, a former national title holder. It will mark the first real contest for Bos since his arrival in this country.

GARDNER PEEVED AT PREXY OF SEATTLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 14.—Harry Gardner, Seattle pitcher, who owns a ranch at Canby, near here, announced today that he had received a contract from President Boldt of the Seattle club, but that unless Boldt retracts certain statements he made in a letter which accompanied the contract, Gardner would not return to the Seattle club, but might accept a berth as manager of a team in the Utah Independent League, which had been offered him.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, Jan. 1 (By Mail.)—Zenzo Shimidzu, Japan tennis star, is to be married soon to Miss Setsuko Fukushima, daughter of a prominent resident of Sendai, and will leave with his bride almost at once for America. Shimidzu was a member of the runner-up team in the Davis cup championship tournament. He goes to New York in the employ of a large Japanese commercial corporation. The bride-to-be is likewise a tennis player who has won great popularity locally. She is a musician of considerable talent and is much interested in artistic floriculture.

THE FIRST HUNDRED THOUSAND

HUNDREDS of Pierce-Arrow Cars have completed their first hundred thousand miles, owned by men more susceptible to faithful performance than lured by new body designs or mechanical improvements. But why not have both? The new cars have the potential hundred thousand, yielded more easily and more economically, with bodies equally beautiful, but expressed in the styles of today and tomorrow.

[illegible] Polo Four Arrives With Horses.

[illegible] Matches to Open Next Saturday.

[illegible] Club Has Program on for Today.

The animals of some of the [illegible] polo ponies in the West, [illegible] to be used by the crack [illegible] outfit in the western [illegible] that start at the [illegible] Country Club Saturday [illegible] arrived at the local [illegible] yesterday. Together with th[illegible] belonging to Midwi[illegible] and those of the Ar[illegible] Del Monte, Denv[illegible] and other clubs tha[illegible] have arrived and will arrive prior to Saturday, the Midwick stables will be crowded almost to overflowing with high-class animals.

On the strength of their recent games, the crack Army squad which arrived yesterday from the Monterey Presidio is given a great chance to win the Hogan trophy, emblematic of the western "flat" championship. The cup is now held by the Midwick four by virtue of its winning last year. Denver, which defeated Riverside this week, is also given a chance to score in the prize play, while San Mateo and Del Monte are both looked on as strong contenders.

COMPLETE PLANS.

Plans for the opening of tournament play at Midwick Saturday were completed yesterday when Capt. Carleton Burke announced that a parade of at least thirty players, mounted on their crack ponies, would circle the field prior to the first game, in which a senior Midwick team and the Army outfit cross mallets.

Low-goal competition will be completed at the Riverside club this afternoon when the teams of the Midwick and Denver clash. Tomorrow high-goal honors will be settled when Riverside's crack four tackles the Midwick's flashy aggregation.

the "pawnbroker" of baseball, due to his penchant for selling players. However, it must be admitted that he is a hard bargain driver, always gets something worth while in return and invariably has a dangerous team in the field. Comparatively new in the game, he is one of its shrewdest figures.

No strong lady in her most cyclonic mood ever did a more thorough job of spring housecleaning than is being enacted on the Portland baseball premises. Right now the place is all littered up, but order is being brought out of chaos, and the former junk heap and scrap pile will be succeeded by orderly arrangement.

Klepper will have around thirty players in camp at Pasadena when the Beavers open spring training on March 1, and probably more than half of them will be new to Portland uniforms.

Klepper's first deal as a Portland magnate went far toward making the Beavers. In return for Pitchers Johnson and Pillette, Detroit sent him Pitchers Crumpler, Sutherland, Park and Middleton and Infielders Sargeant and Hale. Johnson and Pillette both were promising pitchers, but hardly sensational. It is doubtful whether either is ripe for the majors. They would have won a bunch of games for Portland, but their loss is offset about double or treble by the seasoned men received in return.

Sutherland, Middleton and Parks are seasoned right-handers and should win better than half their games. Crumpler, who performed with the Seals last season, having been placed there by Detroit, has plenty of stuff, but thus far has not been very dependable. If he ever settles he will be a big winner. Sam Ross, holdover, is a good left-hander.

Hale is a good third baseman and heavy hitter, while Sargent is very close to major-league caliber and extremely aggressive.

Meantime, the new Portland owners proved rather loose with their money. Catcher Frank Bruggy, obtained from the Phillies, stood them better than $6000; they slipped Salt Lake $2500 for Walter Leverenz, southpaw, while Outfielders Chuck Gressett and Charley High, and Freeman, a youthful pitcher, cost them more than a bit of change. McCann, the new shortstop, came more easily. The Athletics have loaned him to Beaverville for the season. Purchase of Jim Thorpe from Toledo shows Klepper to be a good showman.

Tuck Turner, new Portland manager, picked up Freeman while scouting for the Athletics and is said to have the goods, though with what label on them remains to be seen. Pitchers held over from last season are Ralph Coleman and Ellison. The former formerly pitched for the Oregon Aggies, and Ellison won his baseball diploma at the University of California. The staff as a whole should measure up to Coast League standards.

Bruggy comes West a highly touted catcher and, with Rowdy Elliott, probably will do the bulk of the backstopping. Del Baker will share the first-line work, with Rip King sitting in the third row from the front.

Jimmy Poole, a capable first sacker, will be back on the job. Marty Krug, a smart second sacker, may be traded to Seattle for Kenworthy, and it would not be a great surprise to see the Iron Duke leading the Beavers on the opening day of the season. McCann will open the season at short, with Sargent pulling the Ajax stuff at third, leaving Hale for utility duty. Sargent, having been good enough to play regularly with Detroit, is regarded as having the edge. If Gressett and High bear any professional resemblance to Dick Cox and Merle Wolfer the Portland outfield will be covered like a doormat with hoof prints and will show a punch at the plate.

If you can find any likeness between this bunch and the chronic tailenders of recent years, then you would mistake Strangler Lewis for a bed-ridden invalid.

Possibly not a pennant winner, but perhaps a contender. Given a little time and Klepper probably will repeat his Seattle record.

Anyway, this rejuvenation of an erstwhile tailender is the most interesting scientific phenomenon which the P.C.L. has to offer at present.

LANTADOS HAD SPEEDY DADDY.

that unless the scion of the Emperor of Norfolk was an arrant "morning glory" he almost had the rich classic tucked up under his withers, and we placed him in the forefront of our affection.

PONY DERBY.

Unluckily, however, for the prestige of the Baldwin stable and the enthusiasm of the California contingent that was present in Chicago at the time, Martin Nathanson sprang the derby trial special, known as the Pony Derby, at Harlem, about a week before the real stuff. The distance was one and one-eighth miles, and each entry was to carry 112 pounds. A number of prospective derby starters faced the barrier before an immense crowd—a crowd that had evidently been drawn to the course to get a hint or two on what to expect a week later in the route that tells.

Cruzados was a decided favorite and had an immense following. Off none too well he shot to the front, making the famous clubhouse turn and running with the speed of a distempered wind, held a good advantage when straightened for the back stretch run. It was here, that McChesney, undoubtedly the best horse in the Middle West for several seasons about this time, and Belle's Commoner streaked after the pride of the Golden West.

On the far turn the duo had nailed him. Then suddenly Cruzados, evidently spent, stumbled and caromed onto McChesney, who was thrown off his stride and went down in a heap. Both Cruzados and McChesney were injured, but not seriously. Belle's Commoner went on and easily won the race, but Cruzados finished in the ruck. Sore disappointment was depicted on hundreds of countenances when the son of the Emperor of Norfolk sloshed home, far behind the winner.

Baldwin was taunted about his flivver, but got back at his teasers by challenging any 3-year-old in the world on behalf of Cruzados for a match race up to a mile for $20,000. Sam Hildreth accepted the defi for his McChesney, and the match was made for the following week, but fell through for some reason or other.

Both horses had evidently been injured more than was at first suspected in the Pony Derby, and their owners evidently thought best not to take any undue chances. One thing about Cruzados, however, that will never be forgotten, was the dazzling speed he uncovered for the first five furlongs in this Pony Derby, a speed which the mighty Lantados has evidently inherited.

GOTHAM BILLIARD EXPERT ON TOP.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14. E. T. Appleby of New York, national champion, won his match tonight in the international class A 18.2 balkline billiard tournament, defeating J. E. Cope Morton of Philadelphia, 300 to 206, in thirty-five innings. Appleby had high runs of 91, 43 and 26. His average was 8 3-35. Morton's best efforts were 25, 21 and 20. His average was 5 3-35.

COACH RESIGNS.

VERMILLION (S. D.) Feb. 14. John W. Stewart, athletic director at the University of South Dakota, has resigned. He declined to state the reason.

The President's voice heard by the nation

On Armistice Day, President Harding talked to a crowd gathered at the grave of the Unknown Soldier, in the National Cemetery at Arlington. His voice was heard simultaneously by vast throngs in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

In this modern miracle that seemed to knit our nation into one great family, Exide Batteries played an important part; for Exides were relied upon to provide current for the amplifiers that magnified the President's voice. Exides also supplied the power to send the words over the telephone wires, just as when you telephone it is an Exide Battery that carries your voice.

The development of the storage battery and its place in peace and war has been little else than a record of the Exide. The original starting and lighting battery for automobiles was an Exide. The Exide, made for your car today, has built into it all the lessons of the past.

The result is a ruggedly efficient battery that you can depend upon to last a very long time. This means even something more to you than the maximum comfort in motoring; it means dollars and cents economy.

LAEMMLE COMES HOME.

UNIVERSAL CHIEF TO TELL OF PLANS OF COMPANY

By Grace Kingsley.

Arriving in town today from New York will be no less a person than Carl Laemmle, president of Universal. It is reported that he will have some important plans to disclose concerning certain big productions which Universal is planning. He will attend the opening of "Foolish Wives" at the Mission tonight, along with all the great ones of filmland.

Mr. Laemmle will at once on his arrival go into conference with Messrs. Thalberg and Stern, and announcements will be made later. Of course, too, the inevitable golf hounds will present him with the usual number of golf sets, which he will as usual hang on the wall and promise himself and his friends to use, but which will probably go to rust. He is to remain in the West two months, returning to New York late in the spring.

Eric Von Stroheim, author of "Foolish Wives," remains in New York for the time being at least. He is writing a novelized version of "Foolish Wives," for Doubleday, Page and Company. "Foolish Wives" in the meantime continues to draw heavily in New York.

Reginald Barker has completed "The Storm," with House Peters starred, and it is likely will make another big feature for Universal. Priscilla Dean has just finished a picture, and is taking a short vacation, while Marie Prevost, Frank Mayo and Gladys Walton are absent, making personal appearance tours throughout the country.

Harry Myers is turning the Santa Monica coast into a fair imitation of a desert island, and is making "Robinson Crusoe" down there. Robert F. Hill is directing, and Gertrude Olmsted, Noble Johnson, Josef Swickard, Gertrude Claire, Percy Pembroke and others are ably supporting Myers in the name part.

Picturesque scenes of "With Stanley in Africa," starring George Walsh, are being made these days down in the Los Angeles River, where the same flows through Universal City. A serious case of influenza has taken William J. Craft from his duties as director, and Art Flaven is replacing him for the time being. Louise Lorraine, playing opposite Walsh, was ill last week with the flu, and Jessie Virginia Lee, an actress from the East, has been doubling for her in some of the water and jungle stuff with the lions and leopards.

Miss Lorraine, to do her entire justice, objected very much to anybody's doubling for her, as she is entirely fearless as regards stunts, but the company decided it could not lose time, and so Miss Lee has been placed in those scenes in which a double could be used. So Miss Lee has been falling overboard out of boats and leaping in among the tigers during her substitute days.

Mildred Harris in Vaudeville.

Mildred Harris, former wife of Charles Chaplin, and a screen star, has deserted the pictures for the stage, according to word just received from New York. Miss Harris has gone into vaudeville, and is playing the Keith circuit in the East. Later she is to come to the Coast, and will be seen at the Orpheum here.

The former star is appearing in a comedy sketch, supported by Beatrice Morgan and S. Miller Kent. Reports are to the effect that Miss Harris is making a success. The sketch is called "Money Talks," and was written by Edwin Burke.

Charlie Ruggles in Films.

Charlie Ruggles, famous on the stage as a comedian, and who at present is playing in Avery Hopwood's much discussed "The Demi-Virgin," in New York, is likely to succumb at last to the lure of the movies during his summer vacation.

This thrilling announcement is made by no less an authority than his own brother, Wesley Ruggles, the director, who is planning to present his brother Charles in a series of comedies.

The productions are to be known as the Wesley Ruggles Productions, and will probably be made at the United studios, though this has not been definitely announced. The names of the stories, likewise, have yet to be announced, but it is understood that they are to be written by a well-known screen writer.

Back in New York Ruggles has been associated during the past few years with some of the most successful comedies, including Avery Hopwood's "Ladies' Night," "The Gold Diggers," and others.

And while we are speaking of Mr. Ruggles, it may not be out of the way to announce the fact that Mrs. Ruggles, who has been known to the screen heretofore as Virginia Caldwell, has decided to let the world know her real name, and call herself, professionally as well as in private life, Virginia Ruggles.

Connie Talmadge Tours.

Leave it to Constance Talmadge to take advantage of her first rest since she has come to California to enjoy the sunshine. She is taking a motor trip through Southern California these days. Frances Marion in the meantime, is working early and late, preparing Miss Talmadge's next story to be made at United studios.

Charles Gerrard Busy.

If there is any plain or fancy deviltry going on in a picture, you can bet that Charles Gerrard is behind it all. Gerrard has just gone East to appear in a film production of "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

Frank Mayo Denies.

In great perturbation of spirit, Frank Mayo, Universal star, wires to ask that denial be entered in this column of the sayings against Hollywood which are attributed to him.

"I have just seen what was sent to California papers purporting to come from me," wires Mr. Mayo. "I never saw such a distorted story in my life. It is true I talked to a reporter about my personal appearances in New York, said I did not live in Hollywood, and I thought more amusements were needed there, nothing more. Was thunderstruck at the way my personal talk was used. I have never made any statement against anybody or any place in my life. Please make this denial as strong as possible. Hollywood suits me, and I am coming back to California and my friends in the profession with the same feelings I always entertained."

Ruth Roland Hurt.

At the risk of being charged with conducting a Ruth Roland Calamity Column, I must record the fact that Miss Roland has been and gone and done it again. I mean she has suffered another injury.

The good old irony of fate is still at work. Miss Roland, while merely sitting on a saw horse for a publicity still, fell from it, yesterday, and wrenched her back. However, her injury is not considered serious, even though painful, and she will be back at the Hal Roach studios at work again in a day or two.

Fairbanks Bulletin.

Since completing his new story, temporarily titled "The Further Adventures of Zorro," Johnston McCulley, who wrote "The Mark of Zorro" for Fairbanks, has been co-operating with Doug's scenario department in the preparation of the star's new vehicle which has been given the working title of "The Spirit of Chivalry."

The McCulley story, which features the further adventures of the dashing character so strikingly portrayed by Fairbanks in "The Mark of Zorro," will be published serially by one of the popular magazines, after which Doug plans to put it into celluloid as a sequel to the first Zorro film. By waiting until the story appears in print, Doug will be enabled to take full advantage of the advertising thus obtained and can also count on support from the reading public for the film version.

It will be necessary to produce the second Zorro feature at a time when the services of those players who took part in the first picture can be obtained. At present practically all of these are under contract with other companies. While no definite time can be announced for the start of production on the McCully story, it is believed now that it will follow "The Virginian," which Doug plans to do this summer when weather conditions are favorable for picture taking in the country which Wister used as the locale for his famous book.

"TOL'ABLE DAVID" SHOWS AT GARRICK.

The story of David and Goliath is given a modern counterpart in "Tol'able David," Richard Barthelmess's first starring vehicle, which is featured at the Garrick this week. Barthelmess as David Kinemon, a mere stripling of a youth, in one of the most thrilling fight scenes ever depicted for the screen, attacks and kills a veritable giant of the mountains in the performance of his duty.

Aside from the fight scene, which is the high spot of the production, the story holds the audience enthralled from beginning to end. The cast is capable, each player seeming to be admirably chosen.

An excellent comedy, "A Rambling Romeo," furnishes laughter.

DANCERS IN PROGRAM.

A number of Ernest Belcher dancers furnished the chief entertainment last night at the St. Valentine dinner and dance at the Vista del Arroyo in Pasadena. The dancers have been preparing for this event for a number of weeks and an unusual number of graceful dances marked the program. Lena Baskette, talented daughter of Belcher, appeared in an oriental cymbal dance and a toe specialty, while L'Indenne did a Valentine Gavotte. Among the other dancers taking part were Blanche Courtney, Dorothy Lambdin, Dorothy Brown, Leona Christenson, Louise Vercota, Elizabeth Cohn, Betty Weadon and Betty Gallagher.

DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED

Los Angeles Investment Company Holds Annual Meeting.

About a thousand stockholders of the Los Angeles Investment Company at their annual meeting in Trinity Auditorium last night reelected the entire board of directors and made a rising vote of confidence in them and thanks for their efforts last year. The directors are former Senator Frank P. Flint, president; W. H. Harrison, general manager; W. T. Jeffries, J. W. Burns, W. B. Corwin, A. C. Brode and Dan Murphy. Mr. Flint and Mr Harrison explained the finances of the company. The former said the last half of 1921 was a record-breaker and predicted that 1922 will be the most prosperous year in the company history. The plans call for development of the company's 2000 acres in the southwest, which center around Fair View Heights.

MUSICAL.

BROADEN ORCHESTRA.

ORGANIZATION OF WOMEN SHOWS CHARACTER.

By Edwin Schallert.

Symphonically this is a period of ambition. On every hand are to be noted new progress and endeavors. The stem of the musical vine is strongly rooted, and its branches are many. Each seems to be flowering and flourishing.

It is for this reason that the concert of the Woman's Symphony Orchestra last night at Philharmonic Auditorium was notably interesting. As a musical event it disclosed a fulfillment and a promise. It showed that materially this organization is beginning to justify its name; it revealed the foundation for larger achievements.

The program was an index. Beethoven's Symphony No. 6 led off the selection of numbers. It was played in its entirety, and it was given with a full complement of the instruments necessary, with possibly one or two exceptions.

Director Henry Schoenefeld has really succeeded in assembling an excellent body musical. He has brought together not only the violins and violas and 'cellos, the flutes, the oboes and clarinets that are necessary for the symphonic material, but he has also secured an assortment of brasses which are obtained only with difficulty, in view of natural and conventional limitations.

Strictly considered, there was much to be desired musically in the result as far as the Beethoven symphony was concerned, but this was compensated by the pleasingness of the smaller pieces. It is sufficient, however, that the orchestra made the effort to arrive at its objective symphonically, although discretion might have dictated the choice of a lighter work than the "Pastorale."

The first movement was played with a verve and freedom that was highly creditable, but this spirit was not so well maintained in the Andante molto moto, nor the Allegro. The final movement was stronger.

Elgar's Serenade, Grainger's "Mock Morris" dance and Berlioz's Marche Hongroise were very successfully rendered. They developed all the charming characteristics of the ensemble. They were graceful and at times sparkling, filled with a freshness and a light which arise from a true prettiness of intonation and a sympathetic feeling. They were indeed a pleasure.

George Walker, the basso, who was soloist, attained his most effective impression in his rendition of his final group. The Schubert number in particular was well sung. He managed with technical skill the difficult florid passages in Handel's "Honor and Arms." Vocally he has the fault of a lack of color. One misses lights and shades of tone. Some of his notes are vaporous in quality. He is, however, well schooled and though not a brilliant singer, a generally agreeable one.

It would seem that with reference to the symphonic number there is room for Mr. Schoenegeld to drive a little harder for effects, and too little color and character The tendency was toward a diffuse tone and too little color and character. In the "Serenade" and the "Mock Morris" the color scheme was much broader and was well marked by the director's baton.

Saint-Saens Concert.

A memorial to the late Camille Saint-Saens, one of the greatest of French musical geniuses, was afforded in the concert of the Philharmonic Orchestra last Sunday afternoon at the Auditorium. The program was one of the most enjoyably popular of the season, and proved a notable tribute for this reason, as well as its excellent renditions by the organization under Walter Henry Rothwell's baton.

Several of the numbers were new at these concerts — the "Marche Heroique," the Ballet Music from "Henry VIII" and the symphonic poem "Le Rouet d'Omphale." Truly delightful was the presentation of these, especially the "Henry VIII" music. The climax was the gypsy dance, which had to be repeated. It is one of the finest bits of scintillant color in the art gallery of Saint-Saens. And Mr. Rothwell's reading was splendid.

As soloist Viola Ellis disclosed a rich contralto voice. She uses it with genuine good taste, and while she is somewhat too conscious of her music at the cost of a song's significance, she proved herself enjoyable vocally. Her numbers included the two famed arias from "Samson and Delila" namely "Amour viens aider" and "Mon coeur s'ouvre a ta voix."

The orchestral program comprised, beside the numbers mentioned, the Barcarolle, "A Night in Lisbon;" the Bacchanale from "Samson and Delila," and the prelude to "Le Deluge." In the last Sylvain Noack showed his excellency of tone in the solo section.

Question of Studios.

The fate of the former Realart studios, and incidentally of the Long Island studio in New York, will probably be decided during the visit of Adolph Zukor to this city. Both plants are at present closed, and it is a question of reopening one or the other.

Rumors have it that Mr. Zukor is in favor of the Long Island studio reopening, and the delayed arrival of John S. Robertson and George Fitzmaurice in this section indicates that there is a strong possibility of the New York reopening. However, the balance may be turned in favor of former Realart, which it to be known as the Paramount Wilshire.

Jack Pickford Leaves.

Jack Pickford has left for New York City. It is understood that he has some business arrangements to make regarding the filming of his next feature. Just what this will be is now a matter of doubt. The indication are that it will not be "The Tailor-Made Man."

There are other attractions, of course, for Jack beside business, especially in musical show circles in Gotham.

Alice In "Locked Out."

Alice Calhoun has begun work on her third picture at the western studios of Vitagraph. Edward Jose is directing. The temporary title is "Locked Out."

WALLACE FOR FORD SCHEME.

Looks With Favor on Sale of the Plant.

Engineer Mayo Finishes His Testimony.

Aims of Manufacturer Told by Witness.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Henry G. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, looks with favor upon Henry Ford's offer for the purchase and lease of the governments nitrate and water-power projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., if its terms are sufficiently definite and binding to make sure the plant will be operated continually for the manufacture of fertilizer.

Dr. Richard C. Tolman, director of the fixed nitrogen research laboratory of the department, announced the secretary's position with regard to the Ford offer in an authorized statement which he read today before the House Military Committee. The secretary's views as expressed by the witness, were that if the terms were as outlined, the proposal would result in making available a considerably increased supply of fertilizer in time of peace and give assurance of adequate supplies of explosives in case of need.

MAYO FINISHES.

The statement was read by Dr. Tolman after the committee had completed an examination lasting more than five hours of W. B. Mayo, chief engineer and personal representative of Henry Ford. Mr. Mayo's testimony included repeated statements that Mr. Ford intended to manufacture fertilizers in their completed forms at the maximum production capacity of the Muscle Shoals plant, and would make every effort to manufacture them at a minimum cost to the farmers.

Mr. Mayo took issue several times with committee members who called attention to the section of the offer regarding fertilizer manufacture, saying there was no provision in the offer to compel the manufacture of the fertilizers but only of some necessary ingredients. In each instance the witness declared it was Mr. Ford's intention to execute the contract, in the event Congress accepted it, in good faith, and that included the production of fertilizers.

At one point Mr. Mayo said the Detroit manufacturer had been invited by the government to make the offer and Congress could "take it or leave it at its face value."

TO GIVE GUARANTEE.

Representative Parker, Republican, New Jersey, asked if Mr. Ford would be willing to give a guarantee that he would not mortgage the properties.

"I believe Mr. Ford would be willing to do anything of that kind to protect the government's interests," Mr. Mayo answered.

In response to a question as to what Mr. Ford's intentions were with reference to supplying the agricultural needs of the country, Mr. Mayo said:

"It has been his dream to make fertilizers so cheap that everybody can use all he wants. He also hopes to make raw materials at a lower price for tractors and trucks, and thus reduce their cost."

QUINN ANGRY.

Representative Quinn, Democrat, Mississippi, attacked committee members who, he said, had attempted to read things into Mr. Ford's contract, that plainly weren't there. "We have great respect for Mr. Ford in our country," Mr. Quinn continued. "We call him Uncle Henry, and we believe he will give us cheap fertilizer just like he has given us automobiles."

"Isn't it a fact that instead of there being tall trees down there for the wind to whistle through, there will be smoke stacks and hundreds of thousands, millions of men, going to work?"

"We hope so," said the witness.

"Then, will fertilizer be one of the wastes that Mr. Ford can give to the farmers?"

"That's one of the possibilities," Mr. Mayo replied.

Asked for a statement of Mr. Ford's objections to reducing the lease clause from 100 to 50 years, Mr. Mayo said:

"On account of the size of the project and the amount of capital to be used in its development, Mr. Ford felt fifty years would only be a beginning. Probably fifteen or twenty years would be required to develop the full power possibilities."

CHAMBER'S FUND DRIVE IS STARTED.

Forty Teams Begin Work to Obtain Money to Buy Site for New Building.

The campaign for funds for the proposed Chamber of Commerce building was opened yesterday at a luncheon at the Palais Royal attended by more than 400 workers, a majority of whom inaugurated the drive by pledging personal subscriptions running into thousands of dollars. Those present included officers of the chamber and forty team leaders and teams of ten members each.

W. T. Bishop, first vice-president of the chamber, delivered the keynote address, emphasizing the fact that the drive is for loans and not for donations and that nonmembers of the chamber may purchase the $100 building notes.

The drive for building funds is expected to be concluded the 22nd inst., when teams and members of the chamber will gather at the Ambassador for the chamber's annual banquet. Silver cups will be presented to the teams that top the list in the amount of money collected and in the number of subscriptions turned in.

Among the speakers who addressed the workers yesterday, in addition to Mr. Bishop, were Sylvester L. Weaver, former president of the chamber; W. M. Garland, W. Ross Campbell, D. Hamburger and Joseph Scott. All spoke of the necessity for a new Chamber of Commerce building and predicted complete success for the fund campaign.

REBEL LEADERS ARE SENTENCED.

Passengers See Bodies of Three Hanged Near Chihuahua.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 14. Three members of the Mexican rebel band that crossed the border into Mexico near near here last Wednesday were executed Sunday night near Guadalupe, a border point thirty miles southeast of El Paso, according to a report received by Gen. Mendez, commander at Juarez, from the officer in command of the expedition sent to intercept the rebels.

Passengers arriving on the Mexican Central train from the south reported seeing the bodies of three men hanging from telegraph poles north of Chihuahua City and two dead lying close to the railroad at a point further north.

LODGE LAUDS G.O.P. DEEDS.

been in," the Senator continued, "they have reduced appropriations asked for by the departments of $5,337,000,000, to $1,428,000,000. This was the work of the present 'do-nothing' Congress. Somebody did something."

Referring to the Revenue Act of 1921, Senator Lodge said:

"I should have been glad personally to have made those surtaxes on incomes lower than they were finally agreed upon, but we were compelled to get the money somewhere and it seemed to the Republican majority of the Congress that the most important relief to be given to business and the country was by termination of the excess profits taxes.

"It was thought also of the first importance to get rid of the transportation taxes on freight, passengers and express packages—a direct burden on all the business of the country."

REVENUE BILL.

The revenue bill, he declared, has really brought a large measure of relief from taxes to which little attention has been paid. The total reduction on the best analysis which can be made will reach $835,000,000 for the calendar year.

Speaking of the bill for the funding of the debt, Senator Lodge said:

"The United States has no intention of playing the part of a usurer, but it was the money of the American people which was lent to the Allied and associated powers in their time of greatest need. The debts which the United States owed to those powers she has paid in cash and has questioned none of them.

"We are well aware that some, perhaps many of the nations indebted to the United States, cannot now pay their principal or interest, but some arrangement must be made to place that great debt upon a business-like basis and to secure what is properly due to the United States and her people, for it was the people who lent the money."

In his account of the achievements of the Armament Conference, Senator Lodge said that abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance removed a "soil in which the seeds of war might easily grow."

The four-power treaty merely provides, he continued, "that we shall respect each other's rights in such (Pacific) possessions and dominions, and that if controversies arise we shall consult before taking any further measures. There is no alliance in it; no military or naval force is hidden in those simple paragraphs. The only obligation we assume is that of consultation."

CHINA SETTLEMENT.

Speaking of the Chinese settlement, he said:

"The United States refused absolutely to accept the propositions in regard to Shantung in the Treaty of Versailles, and believed then and believes now that that province should be controlled by China, of which it has always been a part. But of the eight other powers at the table in Washington, six had ratified the Treaty of Versailles and had accepted that clause relating to Shantung. Therefore, the only way to get that wrong undone was to bring about negotiations between Japan and China directly. This was effected by the good offices of the United States, represented by Mr. Hughes, and Great Britain, represented by Mr. Balfour. The result has been that Shantung goes back to China practically unburdened."

ALIMONY REDUCTION PETITION CONTINUED.

F. Mason Hopper, cinema director, wants a reduction of his alimony order of $400 a week, and his plea will be heard by Judge McLucas Monday, to which date the hearing was continued from yesterday. HATTIE'S STORY TO BE REVEALED

Next Sunday's "Times" Will Portray Romance of Aged Woman.

Who is Aunt Hattie? At 93 years she got just seventy Christmas cards this last Yuletide and had almost as many callers.

Aunt Hattie is a remarkable woman, whom The Times has found in an institution for the aged right here in Los Angeles. Her story will be told in the Sunday edition by Henrietta Boeckman.

It is a character sketch no less romantic than true.

CITY BUSINESS SHOWS GROWTH

Great Volume of Work is Reported by Clerk.

Increase Indicates Rapid Strides Forward.

New Systems Expedite the Vote Tallying.

The tremendous volume of business handled by City Clerk Domingues and reflecting the growth of Los Angeles to a city of the first rank is shown in the annual report of Mayor Cryer, which was received by the City Council yesterday. During the calendar year ending on December 31, last, the City Clerk's office caused the publication of more than 1715 ordinances and resolutions enacted by the Council, transcribed the proceedings of the Council, covering 4000 pages of typewritten record, and received from the public and officials of the city government 3700 petitions, protests, reports and communications. Rents on city property aggregating $10,518 and street railway and other franchise returns amounting to $159,212.22 were collected by City Clerk Dominguez, and he collected from licenses, $1,549,624.07. The license department provides the city government with the largest share of its revenue, with the exception of that received from general taxes, which are assessed and collected by the county and turned into the City Treasury by the County Tax Collector.

NEW VOTE COUNT SYSTEM.

City Clerk Domingues has put into operation a new system of tallying votes at the various elections, which has greatly expedited the work of election officers and reduces to a minimum the possibility of errors when the ballots are being counted. This system has now been adopted by nearly every incorporated city in the State, which speaks for its popularity and successful operation.

During the year the City Clerk mailed 50,000 postal cards to taxpayers, giving notice of various street improvement actions to be under consideration by the Council.

The City Clerk now maintains branches with a deputy city clerk in charge of each, in the Los Angeles Harbor, Wilmington and Van Nuys district, and these offices have proved of great convenience to the public in those sections in the transaction of city business.

NEW PLANS WILL SPEED DRY CASES.

Quick Action Assured to Prisoners Who Desire to Enter Guilty Pleas.

U. S. Atty. Burke yesterday put into operation a plan of handling a certain class of prohibition amendment violation cases that he is sure will cut the expense of the prosecution and give the defendants who desire to plead guilty quick action, instead of being compelled to stay in jail for weeks, where bond cannot be given, as has been the case in many instances.

The U. S. Attorney will provide against useless arrests by compelling the prohibition agents to make a report to his office of the evidence they may have in particular cases. If is it deemed sufficient upon which to file a complaint this will be done. If not, the matter will be dropped right there, instead of having the cases fall to pieces before the U. S. Commissioner, after a big bill of fees has been piled up.

Where a defendant pleads guilty, an information will be filed against him, and the matter taken up before the court the next Monday afternoon and disposed of. Where they do not desire to plead guilty an examination will be necessary before the commissioner.

This will relieve the commissioner of many cases, and his bill will be eliminated. Recently witness fees before the commissioner have amounted to more than the fees before both of the local Federal courts, and the fees of the commissioner have mounted.

This arrangement will do away with a numerous class of city police who have been witnesses in cases where the guilt of the defendant was hardly denied, at the rate of $1.50 a day, only to be repeated before the grand jury, if taken there, and an additional $3 a day if the case goes to the court.

A special deputy will have charge of all the liquor cases in Mr. Burke's office, and an extra stenographer has been provided. It is believed that the new arrangement will not only be satisfactory to defendants who have been allowed to remain in jail interminably, when all they wanted was an opportunity to plead guilty.

JEWISH AID DRIVE NEARING SUCCESS.

COMMITTEE ANSWERS MANY QUESTIONS AS TO NEED FOR MORE FUNDS.

With Louis M. Cole as zone chairman, Adolph Fleishman, city chairman, and Albert M. Rosenthal of Indianapolis as one of the foremost workers, Los Angeles' campaign for $300,000 of the $14,000,000 fund asked by the American Jewish Relief Committee is today in the process of "going over the top."

So many questions have been put to the leaders, all of them easily summed up in these words, "Why are you having another drive?" that the leaders are quoting the six reasons given out by the national committee for the appeal. They are as follows:

For aid of starving Jews in Russia; for economic rehabilitation for all Jewish refugees; for cultural work "that the spiritual part of them may not die;" for care of children outside Russia; for repatriation; for sanitation and medical relief.

Linked with the question asking "why a drive?" comes always this other remark, "I thought Hoover's American Relief Administration was caring for Russia."

In reply to this is Mr. Hoover's own written indorsement and commendation of the Jews' present effort in which he declares the "united efforts of the Jews of this country are needed in order to meet the Russian situation."

Word received here from David A. Brown, national campaign chairman, who was recently in Los Angeles, says:

"The Knights of Columbus and the Salvation Army, through their chief executive officers, have not only commended the purposes of the $14,000,000 nation-wide appeal being made by the American Jewish Relief Committee, but have bespoken for the campaign the generous support of Christians as well as Jews."

TRUCK VICTIM DIES.

Police who investigated the accident learned from Mustol that he was driving a large truck loaded with furniture when he lost control of the machine at Second and Los Angeles streets, and drove into a crowd of pedestrians. Compton and three others were injured.

Mustol was taken from a mob that gathered following the accident, and removed to Central Police Station. He is under investigation.

How to Make a Gray Hair Remedy

Mrs. Mackie, the well-known New York actress, now a grandmother, and whose hair is still dark, recently made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following simple remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in 2 oz. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use come in each box. One box will last you for months.

"It is safe, does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."—[Advertisement.

NEW PLAN FOR BOULDER DAM.

Inclusion in All-American Project is Urged.

Reclamation Service Head Submits Report.

Tentative Itinerary of the Commission Told.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Feb. 14.—Inclusion of government authorization for construction of the proposed Boulder Canyon Dam, keystone to the $50,000,000 Colorado River reclamation project, in the original Imperial Valley bill providing for the all-American canal was recommended today by Director Davis of the United States Reclamation Service.

Such was the information made public here this afternoon by Secretary F. H. McIver of the Imperial Irrigation District, through a telegram received from Congressman Swing, now in Washington, sponsoring the proposed Colorado River plan.

According to Congressman Swing's telegram Director Davis suggests straight governmental authorization for the building of the Boulder Canyon Dam to be incorporated in the bill, providing for the construction of the All-American Canal and Laguna Dam.

MEETING FOR THURSDAY.

Expedition of legislative action by Congress is to be gained by the co-ordination of the two projects, so loosely inter related, it was said. Such proposed legislation should be introduced at an early date, Congressman Swing asserted. He asked for constructive suggestions from the Board of Directors of the Imperial Irrigation District, and the subject will be submitted to the board for decision at the meeting next Thursday, Secretary McIver advised.

The further information that Secretary of Interior Fall had not yet signed the Davis report was contained in Congressman Swing's telegram.

TENTATIVE ITINERARY.

Touching on the report that there would be a meeting of the Colorado River Commission in El Centro, March 20 and at Los Angeles a few days later, Congressman Swing wired that Secretary of Commerce Hoover, chairman of the commission, has arranged no other dates for the western trip of the commission except next March 15, at Phoenix, Ariz. However, it is considered likely that the commission will proceed on to the Imperial Valley on this tour of inspection to collect first-hand data and that the commission will meet in El Centro about March 20, to confer with irrigation experts here on the ground.

"At the last conference of the Western intercollegiate association of Women Students in Berkeley a frank discussion of smoking was held," she added, "and it was agreed that there was nothing to be feared from smoking among college women in the West."

PREDICTS NEW ERA OF SOARING PRICES.

EDISON COMPANY OFFICIAL SAYS YEAR WILL SEE GREAT CHANGES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A new era of soaring prices during 1922 was predicted today by William Maxwell, first vice-president of Thomas A. Edison Company, in an address before the Edison Jobbers' Association.

"Extraordinary expenditures by States and municipalities for public works—probably similar expenditures by the Federal government and the soldier bonus plan, if adopted, would combine to bring about a secondary period of inflation," he declared.

"I don't think it is a good thing," he continued, "but it seemingly is inevitable. And the plans of business men should take it into account.

"I expect the prices of practically all commodities to strengthen materially, and I shall not be surprised if we see $1.50 wheat, 75 cent corn, 20-cent cotton, by July 1. Quite obviously increased business activity will tend to check the liquidation of labor."

GANGWAY; MOUNTAIN IS SKIDDING

Village in Italy in Path of Huge Mass of Rocks and Scenery.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—Engineers have decided to attempt to dynamite the mountainside which has broken away and is moving forward steadily on the little hamlet of Malmo, near Clermont Ferrand. If the huge mass of rock is broken into smaller sections it is hoped the village may be saved from entire destruction.

Before workmen proceeded on the job a picturesque incident occurred of which the principal actor was Abbe Rebord, the aged village priest. On the mountainside, hewn in rock, was a shrine containing a statue of St. Caprais, who since time immemorial has been worshiped in the region. Processions to the shrine were made annually, while the pious villagers never passed without saying a short prayer.

Destruction of the cherished statue preyed so heavily on Abbe Rebord's mind that he decided to brave the danger and scale the rocks in order to save it. The villagers tried to dissuade him but without avail so they all accompanied him. The brave old priest fetched the beloved saint's image from its dangerous position and then, at the head of a triumphant procession, carried it to a church in a neighboring village until it can be replaced into a fresh niche on the mountain.

TOBACCO MEN CO-OPERATING.

Growers Adopt California Marketing Plan.

Crop Will be Sold at Profit Under New Method.

War Finance Corporation is Aiding Association.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LEXINGTON (Ky.) Feb. 14.—From the days when buyers went from barn to barn and bought tobacco, to the highly organized Burley Tobacco Co-operative Marketing Association, which this year is advancing as much money to growers on a 40 per cent basis as was paid for the entire crop last season, is the progress made in marketing Kentucky's annual Burley tobacco crop of approximately 200,000,000 pounds.

The farmer's fight for good prices for his product has been one of ups and downs. The 1920 crop brought him the highest price he ever received for his tobacco, but the 1921 crop, that cost upward of 18 cents a pound to grow, was sold at a loss, the season's average being 14½ cents.

CO-OPERATIVE SELLING.

With a view to averting a repetition of this, Judge Robert W. Bingham, Louisville newspaper owner, became interested in the co-operative marketing plan, and in company with several growers, visited Barney Baruch in New York and laid before him a plan for financing the crop.

On March 28 a meeting of tobacco growers from Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia was held here, at which Aaron Sapiro presented the plan under which California fruit and grain growers and other producers are organized. From this meeting the movement to organize the Burley tobacco growers was launched, and after several months, 85 per cent of the crop was pledged and the Burley Tobacco Co-operative Marketing Association incorporated in North Carolina.

STATE IN CO-OPERATION.

When the Kentucky General Assembly met the first of the year, the Bingham co-operative marketing bill was passed in record time and the association then incorporated in Kentucky. In the meantime, however, the association had secured 117 tobacco warehouses in Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky for its exclusive use. The War Finance Corporation and banks in the interested districts pledged almost $6,000,000 to the association.

On January 26 the warehouses here were opened for the receipt of pledged tobacco and it was graded upon delivery by the grower and a check for an estimated value of 40 per cent of the worth of the crop advanced to the growers. Four days later the houses throughout the burley district were opened and tobacco began to pour in.

SIGN FOR FIVE YEARS.

This plan will be in operation for at least five years, the farmers having signed up for this period of time.

Prior to 1904, the barn to barn sale was in vogue. After this period the loose leaf warehouse, where the tobacco was taken by farmers and auctioned off, was used extensively.

The first attempt to form a tobacco pool took place in Cincinnati in 1897, but was short lived. The famous Equity Society, with its attendant night riding and other evidences of dissatisfaction, was organized in 1905. The Burley Society was organized along similar lines the next spring. After several years the equity disbanded. The Burley, however, continued to operate. It is said that never more than 30 per cent of the crop was pledged to it in any year.

The loose leaf warehouse system has been in use during the last few years and there are now several hundred such houses in Kentucky alone, with many others in the adjoining States.

The crux was reached in January, 1921, when farmers offered their high-priced 1920 crops for sale. The average price paid on the opening day on the whole was far below the cost of production, and many growers faced ruin.

PHILADELPHIA FIRE COSTS HALF MILLION.

SCHOOL LUNCH ROOM SUCCESS.

Dallas Official Reports on Operations.

System Started by Women of Clubs.

Five Per Cent Profit Goes for Breakage.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DALLAS (Tex.) Feb. 14.—Annual receipts from lunch rooms maintained at more than thirty public schools in Dallas total from $250,000 to $300,000, according to Supt. J. F. Kimball. Beginning with the lunch-room service initiated by the Mothers' Club through community effort, and later taken over by the Board of Education, local schools are now serving lunches daily to about 70 per cent of the pupils in attendance at an average cost of from 5 to 10 cents. Mr. Kim-from five to 10 cents. Mr. Kim-

In addition to lunch rooms operated in thirty-one public schools, there are two rooms maintained by the Mothers' Club.

CHEF IN CHARGE.

In three high schools, each of which has from 1500 to 1800 pupils, the lunch rooms are in charge of a chef, who has his staff of cooks and helpers. These establishments have no connection with the domestic science departments, Mr. Kimball explained. They are handled entirely by the chef, and the volume of business is heavy, feeding on an average of 1800 pupils a day at each high school.

The boys and girls are served at different counters, and after the lunches are eaten, they return the used dishes to the scrapping tables. All high school pupils are required to eat their lunches in this room, regardless of whether they buy food there. Many pupils in all schools bring part of their lunch from home, supplementing it with food from the lunch room.

TEACHER SUPERVISION.

In the larger elementary schools the domestic science teacher has supervision over the lunch room.

In the small suburban schools an efficient supervisor makes the rounds, attending to proper maintenance of the lunch rooms.

With regard to cost of operation, the lunches are sold near actual cost, 5 per cent net profit being made to be used as a sinking fund for breakage.

The supplies are all bought by the purchasing agent of the Board of Education in wholesale quantities.

Crane Refused to Fight Duel, Ex-Wife Says.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Elida E. Piza, slender, bobbed-haired, Costa Rican beauty, former wife of Herbert P. Crane, millionaire, arrived from the East today to prosecute her $70,000 alimony claim.

She denied the charge by her former husband that she ate lizards in her Costa Rica home. She said her husband once ate an iguana while a guest in her home and considered it a great delicacy, but she insisted she had never tasted one.

Coincidentally with her arrival came a letter to Mme. Piza from her brother, telling how her father, Senor Benjamin Piza, had vainly tried to force Crane into a duel. After securing his divorce it appears that Crane visited Costa Rica and the father heard of it. The old man polished up his duelling pistols and sought out Crane, who was awaiting a train at the station.

"One of us will leave this room feet first," he declared as he opened the box containing the pistols.

Mr. Crane laughed at him whereupon the old man slapped his face.

"I slap you," said the old man, I dare you to come out and fight a duel."

Mr. Crane continued to laugh.

"You are unmentionable," roared the old man.

"Let go my nose," shouted Crane. "I haven't time to amuse you this afternoon. I am going to Patagonia and must catch this train."

"Some other time—any time," said the old man as he packed away his duelling pistols and departed.

BOSS WILL EXPERT IN CROOK DETAIL.

CHICK TRICKER IS COMING WEST TO SHOW US REAL BOWERY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

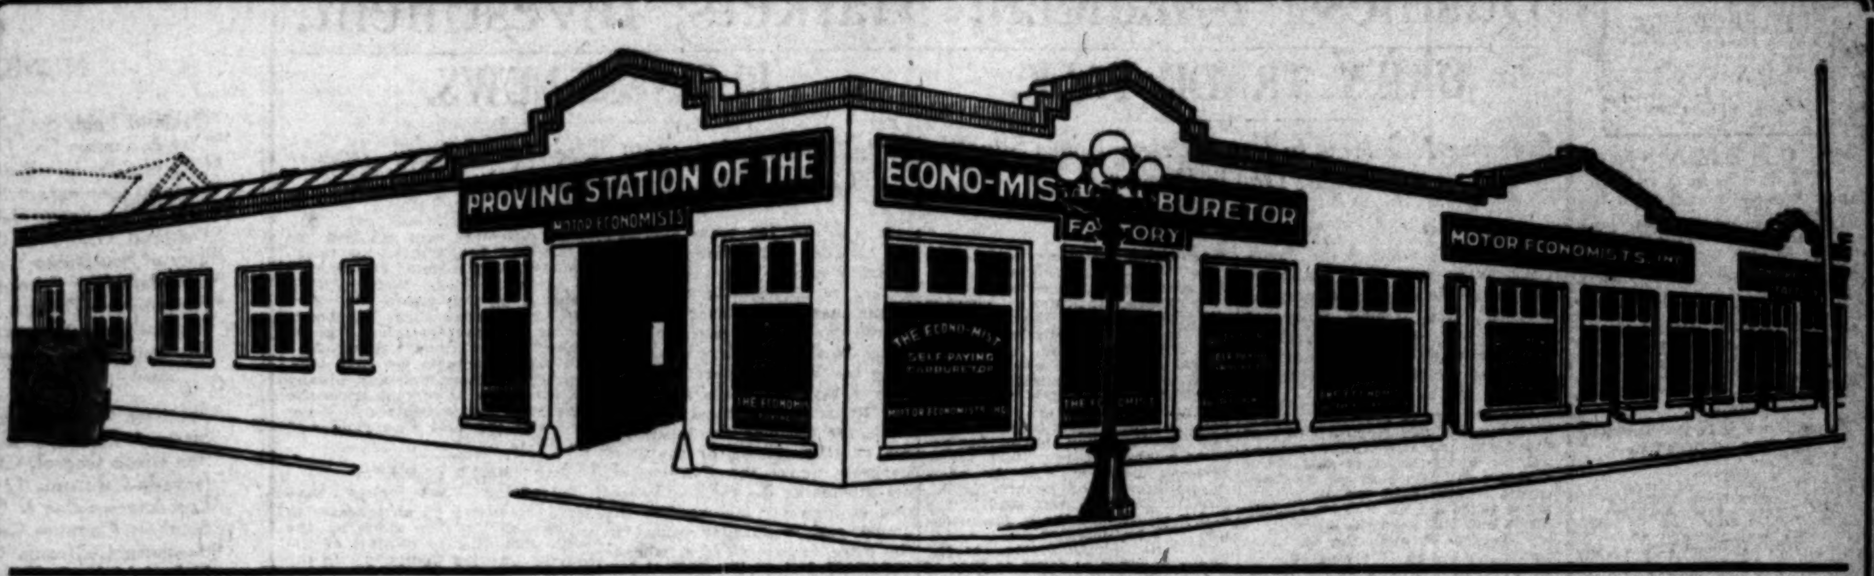
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—In the days when tin-piano music used to trickle through the doors of hundreds of resorts on the Bowery, Chick Tricker of 63 Bayard street was the big boss of seven saloons from Park Row to Delancey street. Next week, Chick announced today, he will enter the motion pictures as a full-fledged technical director of underworld features and serials, and the movies will have garnered in still another celebrity.

Chick probably is the most widely known of all Bowery characters with the exception of Chuck Connor. He was born on the Bowery and raised on the Bowery. He made a comfortable bank roll on the Bowery and retired from business just a year before prohibition.

He decided to come out of retirement only when motion-picture concerns began searching for him. Some one spread his fame around the cinema lots in Los Angeles and several companies made him offers. He will decide which one to accept early next week, he said today, and will hie him to Los Angeles, the land of pretty girls, sunshine and big pay checks.

"I don't need any kale," said Chick, "but when I go my wife and baby can use some more, maybe, so I might as well work. I am only 39 now and have no idea of quitting the game, but you never know what's going to happen."

Chick insisted today that mere wealth alone had not caused him to determine to enter the motion-picture field, but said he was actuated as well by high motives. He said: "I am going to show them how to do it the way it ought to be done. There is too much make-up and not enough reality. I want to show them the Bowery and the East Side and the way it used to be."



Stretch your Gasoline mileage 36%

A Proving Station for Motorists

THIS is the place where Guesswork is eliminated! This is where any Motor-Car Owner can prove, to his own satisfaction, the precise Mileage-per-gallon of Gasoline his Car is actually delivering, in every-day running!

This is where the Mileage is certified by the Engineering Service of Los Angeles—the speed by a reliable stop-watch—and the Gasoline measured by a Government-inspected Druggist's Graduate as pictured herein!

Now, why all this stress on Fuel-Consuming Tests, and the safeguarding of their accuracy?

Because—what pulse, temperature and a glance at the tongue reveal to a physician, the bona-fide "Miles-per-Gallon" diagnosis can disclose to the intelligent Car-Owner.

Because—so-called "Fuel-Economy Tests" have too frequently been made in an unreliable manner.

Because—maintenance, or loss, of "Mileage-per-Gallon" is the surest and quickest criterion by which to judge the condition of a Motor-Car.

Because—motorists generally have in the past failed to realize that it is Gas—not Gasoline—which makes the wheels go around. Mileage and Power therefore depend upon the Gas-Making Efficiency of the Carburetor.

How "Miles-per-Gallon" tell Car Condition

IF THE original Mileage-per-Gallon of a Car has fallen down, more serious conditions than the Wasting of Gasoline are sure to develop.

Because—"Undigested Gasoline" when entering the Cylinders in an unvaporized form, for a considerable time, eats up Motor-life.

It not only fails to produce Power—but, converting into Carbon on Piston-rings, Valve-heads and Spark-plugs—it neutralizes much of the Power in such other portion of the Gasoline as has been fully gasified, exploded and used.

That portion of Gasoline which has not been instantly converted into explosive Gas by the Carburetor (or has not carbonized in the Cylinders) condenses on the walls of the Cylinders into fluid Gasoline.

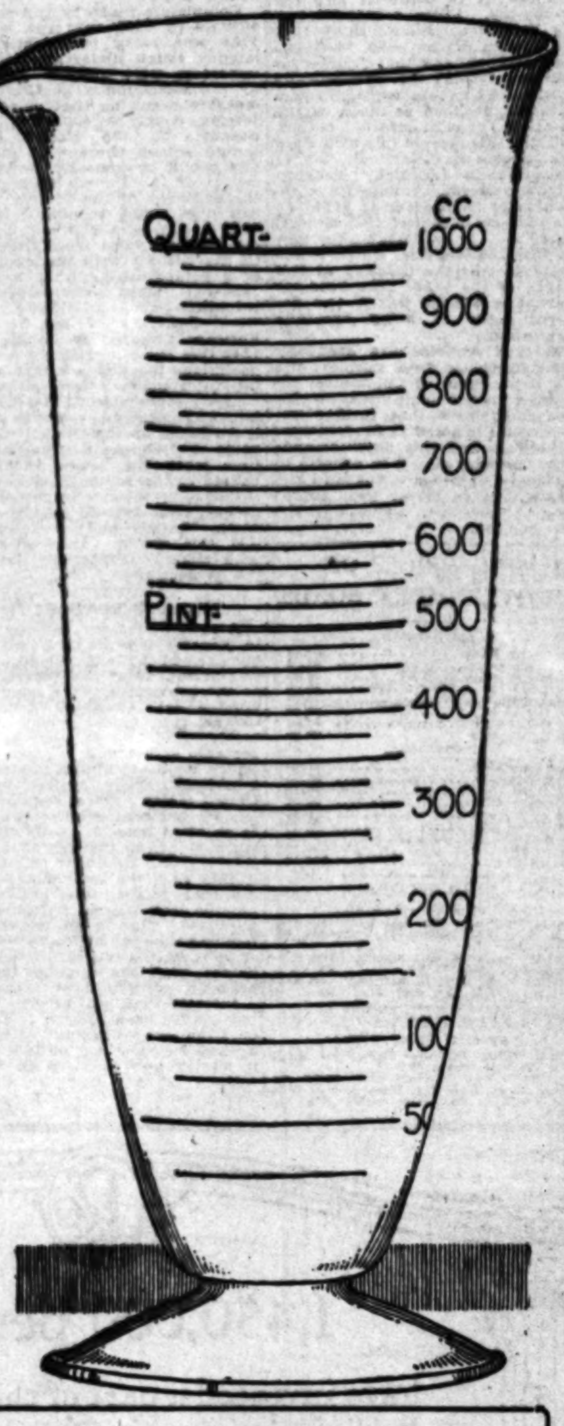
There it "Cuts" the Lubrication between Pistons and Cylinder Walls, and seeps down into the Oil-base of Motor, converting the Lubricant in that reservoir into a sort of scouring Soft Soap instead.

Vitiating the Lubrication with raw Gasoline, in that way, is like having the lining of the human Stomach eaten off with powerful acids.

Such saponified Lubrication, when thrown back into the Vitals of the Motor, naturally causes Friction, Overheating, Excessive Wear, Noise, Vibration, a serious Loss of Power, with costly visits to the Repair Shop.

Meantime, the "Undigested Gasoline," when continuously taken into the Cylinders, drowns out the Electric Spark with Soot, causing bad Starting (with running out of Batteries,) Loss of Flexibility, Loss of Power (with frequent use of Change-Speed-Gears,) jumpy, vibrating motion and "Cheap-Car" dissatisfaction.

You may have guessed at the Cause of all this before, but a "Proving-Ground" Test will bring the evidence vividly before you.



"Pay us part of the Gasoline it Saves each month—(after it has been saved) until the Econo-Mist Carburetor has paid for itself—out of its own Savings."

A 22% to 65% Saving on your Gasoline

PROVING-Ground Tests show that very few Cars convert into Power and Mileage 50% of the available Heat-Units in 1922 Gasoline with their own equipment Carburetors.

But, increases of 22% to 65% more Mileage have here been made on 1920, 1921 and 1922 vehicles, and can assuredly be made again, by correct (Factory) installation of the proper "Econo-Mist" Carburetor for each Car.

More than 12,000 Cars in Los Angeles County are already equipped with this Instrument, affording ample opportunity for Test, perfecting of mechanism, and Experience in correct installation of proper model in each Car.

The certified Proving-Ground Test will show precisely how many Miles-per-Gallon your Car now delivers with its own Carburetor.

That Carburetor will then be temporarily taken off and replaced by an "Econo-Mist" Carburetor, with which you can personally make the competitive Proving-Ground Test.

If that Test should not prove to your satisfaction a gain of at least 22% more Mileage, your own Carburetor will be promptly replaced, without marking of Motor.

All Expenses in that case will be borne by the Motor Economists, without a penny of charge to you.

This Carburetor must Pay for Itself

WHEN this Proving-Ground Test has satisfied you that the "Econo-Mist" Carburetor gives you 22% (up to 65%) more Mileage per Gallon of (same grade) Gasoline, it can become your property, on following terms:

Pay us monthly, three-fourths (75%) of what it saves you each month, until the Econo-Mist Carburetor has paid for itself out of such Savings.

Thereafter, it will keep on Saving for years (during the life of the Car) while delivering a degree of Velvety Power, Responsiveness and Hill-Climbing Tenacity that will surprise and delight you.

There are no Springs to weaken in the Econo-Mist Carburetor—no "Set-Screws" to work out of adjustment—and only three moving parts to wear.

Its Manufacturers know it to be the only Carburetor in existence that can safely be sold on the outright, "Pay-as-it-Saves-its-Cost" basis, through wonderful efficiency.

Bring around your Car to the Proving-Station at 3000 S. Main St. and verify the Mileage-per-Gallon that Car is now delivering.

Then see how much MORE Mileage per gallon you can obtain, with vastly improved Car-action, at no ultimate Cost to you, on this Pay-out-of-Savings Plan.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Associate Justice Clarke of the United States Supreme Court was criticised in the Senate today by Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, for making an address recently advocating cancellation of American or other war debts.

"The Supreme Court should look after its own affairs," said Senator Harris, who added that he regarded Justice Clarke highly as a member of the bench.

"For a member of that court to say anything in matters pending before Congress I consider most unfortunate," Senator Harris said. "The Supreme Court has the highest of duties to perform and I hope it will not interfere with other matters."

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Insurance Hub Now in Los Angeles; Bonus Situation Acute; Day in Review.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The insurance hub of the Pacific Coast is shifting to Los Angeles. The sales congress held here on Monday was a most important meeting and brought the growing importance of the underwriting agencies of Southern California prominently to the fore.

The relation of inheritance taxes to insurance was given a share of the discussion and it was pointed out by R. O. Miles of the Aetna that a well-to-do man can no longer die free of debt for his inheritance taxes act as a draft already made out and ready to be sent to his executor through the banks at Sacramento and Washington. It is a lien against every asset in his estate.

Several large estates have recently been seriously embarrassed by lack of ready cash to meet tax requirements. For instance one estate valued at $147,000 against which there were taxes, probation costs, etc., of $13,500, found itself with a cash balance of $516 while another valued at $282,000 with post mortem obligations of $33,500 was able to muster only $6300 in cash.

Some wealthy citizens are trying to carry enough cash on hand or securities which may be readily turned into cash to meet such a contingency, but, Mr. Miles points out, that simply means impaired income. Our insurance friends use this defect as an argument in favor of carrying sufficient protection of this character to relieve an embarassment sometimes occasioned by lack of ready funds, and there appears to be much force to the argument.

While not coming under the head of inheritance taxes, an important change affecting life insurance taken for business purposes, was made when the Federal Revenue Act was revised last year. Previous to such revision the proceeds of life insurance had to be included as gross income for the year, in which a claim was paid, which often largely nullified the benefits of the protection. Under the new law business insurance may be carried by corporations, partnerships and all others, and it will be treated as indemnification, not as a gain, and as such it is tax exempt. As a result of this change insurance men are predicting that a large volume of business insurance will be written this year.

BONUS SITUATION.

The storm created by the proposed soldiers' bonus bill is sweeping the country, and reports from Washington yesterday were to the effect that the committee and individual members were deluged with telegraphic protests. There is no doubt that national finance will be seriously disturbed until this matter is settled.

The rising tide of protest found reflection in a stimulated demand for highly speculative issues, and as the probability grew that the Senate would inject a saner note into the discussion the market became slightly more bullish. One reviewer declared that the common sense of the country is beginning to show itself, and in the end it is believed the bonus measure will be defeated.

From a consideration of the bonus question at large to that of the taxing sales of bonds and stocks in particular, business men generally express the opinion that this would be an illegitimate discrimination against security-holders, and would also burden investors who have already suffered heavily through impositions, and who already provide a large proportion of the government's revenues.

DAY IN REVIEW.

The automobile trade is a bit uncertain over the spring outlook. It is admitted that Henry Ford is in possession of a large-sized monkey wrench in his Lincoln plant, and the question is whether or not he will see fit to throw it into the machinery. From a manufacturing basis dealers here think that the bottom of the price level has been scraped, and that further reductions would be economically unwise. The more expensive cars have not declined as much as the so-called popular-priced output, and it is this market in which Ford has become a factor. On top of his slash in Lincolns, Packard motors yesterday announced a reduction of from $1000 to $1200 on the twin-six output of that factory. There is a brisk demand for new cars in Los Angeles, which is the white spot of the industry at this season of the year. The used-car market is a trifle heavy, and deferred paper is being carefully scrutinized.

Surface troubles are gradually being dissipated from business and the Department of Commerce, reviewing the economic situation yesterday, declared that further improvement is noted in fundamental conditions, and this notwithstanding a January slump in exports to the lowest point since August, 1915. The export value for the month was $279,000,000, and imports, $216,000,000.

INCOME TAX FACTS.

With the repeal by the Revenue Act of 1921 of the so-called luxury tax on articles of men's and women's wearing apparel, and other changes in tax legislation, the Bureau of Internal Revenue has issued new regulations (47 and 48) relating respectively to the excise tax on sales by the manufacturer of certain articles—automobiles and accessories, cameras, candy, fire arms, cigar and cigarette holders, liveries, hunting garments, carpets, rugs, trunks, etc.—and the excise tax on works of art and jewelry.

The principal changes in the latter taxes are that the tax on works of art is reduced from 10 to 5 per cent, and that the tax on jewelry and similar articles, which remains at 5 per cent no longer includes gold or silver ornamented glasses and spectacles. The tax on works of art attaches on all sales, except the original sale by the artist, a sale to an educational or public art museum, and sales by dealers for resale.

While the tax on musical instruments has been repealed, certain instruments such as coronets, clarinets, etc., if made of or ornamented with silver or other precious metal are taxable.

Fountain pens equipped with gold pen points are also taxable.

Monthly returns and payments of tax on works of art and jewelry are required of the vendor.

Section 904 of the Revenue Act of 1921, which in the Revenue Act of 1918, included the tax on certain articles of wearing apparel, provides only for a tax of 5 per cent of the amounts paid for the following articles in excess of the following prices: Carpets, $4.50 a square yard; rugs, $6 a square yard; trunks, $35 each; valises, traveling bags, suit cases, hat boxes, used by travelers, and fitted toilet cases, $25 each; purses, pocket books, shopping and hand bags, $5 each; portable lighting fixtures, lamps of all kinds and lamp shades, $10 each, and fans $1 each. This tax is not payable by the purchaser, but by the manufacturer, producer or importer, who is required to make monthly returns and payments.

Copies of Regulations 47 and 48 may be had on application to the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Federal Building, Los Angeles.

BUSINESS NEWS.

Valuing Imports; New Use for Liberty Bonds; Canned Food Week; Commodity Markets.

It was just 100 years ago and the 13th day of February, that the measure establishing the present system of determining the value of merchandise imported into the United States was introduced in Congress, and was made a law after a few weeks of debate.

True, says the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, the Customs Administration Act of 1789, passed by the First Congress under the Constitution, did provide as the basis of valuation of imported merchandise the actual cost or market value "in the place or country from whence imported" just as the present law requires, but it was the undervaluations occurring under that original law which led to the revision introduced in Congress in 1822, creating the "consular invoice system," which provided that "no goods or merchandise subject to advalorem duties and belonging to persons not residing in the United States" shall be admitted to entry in the United States "unless the invoice attached thereto shall be verified by the oath of the owner certifying its actual cost, such oath to be administered by a consul or commercial agent of the United States" in the country or port from which the merchandise is exported to the United States.

Complaints made by government officials in 1821 that the law of 1789 was being persistently violated through undervaluations by importers were quickly followed by the introduction in 1822 of a measure requiring that persons in foreign countries exporting merchandise to the United States should attach thereto an invoice and should make oath before a consul of the United States as to the accuracy of the invoice. And this plan which became a law in 1823 has been a characteristic of our customs laws from that date to the present with the exception of a comparatively brief interval, 1833-1842, when a system of home valuation was established, "but when Secretary of the Treasury Forward reported to Congress in 1842 that the plan had not met expectations the new act then pending (and made a law in August, 1842,) restored the 1822-1823 system requiring ad valorem duties to be based on the "actual market value or wholesale price at the time when the goods were purchased in the principal markets of the country whence imported" together with certain additions of costs, charges and commissions, and this system has continued with slight modifications down to the present time.

LIBERTY BOND FACTS.

A saving of 3 per cent or more in Federal inheritance taxes may be effected by any investor who purchases any of the Liberty 4¼s at the present prices, a bond man pointed out yesterday. According to the law under which these bonds were issued, they are acceptable at par and accrued interest in payment of any estate and inheritance taxes imposed by the United States. Prices for the various 4¼ per cent issues range from 96 to 97 at present. Only one obstacle stands in the way of making this economy and that is the possibility that the individual buying the bond might die before six months had elapsed following the purchase. That is because the law requires that the bonds be held for at least half a year prior to death before they are eligible for the payment of inheritance taxes.

Interest from all Liberty bonds has always been exempt from corporation income tax and under the revised Revenue Act of 1921 there is no tax now imposed on corporations under existing law to which such interest will be subject after Jan. 1, 1922. Corporations, therefore, are advised by investment bankers not to retain so-called "tax exempt" bonds, such as Liberty 3½s, Victory 3¾s, Panama 3s, Conversion 3s, etc., but to exchange them for bonds paying a higher return. For example, corporations holding 3½s can exchange them for first 4¼s, identical in every way and equally tax exempt. At current prices the 3½s yield approximately 3.75 per cent and the first 4¼s yield 4.45 per cent.

MEAT PRICES.

Advancing meat prices have been occasioned by an increase in prices paid for live stock on the hoof, according to officials of the Cudahy Packing Company. In the last six weeks live hogs have climbed from $7.55 to $9.55 a hundredweight, due to the entry of a strong foreign demand in the eastern markets. Desirable beef has advanced one-half to 1 cent a pound liveweight and is becoming scarce due to the fact that no grass cattle is coming on the market at present. Increased supplies from this source are not expected for two months yet, said one of the Cudahy men yesterday.

BANKER RESIGNS.

P. C. Turman yesterday announced his resignation as cashier of the Union Bank and Trust Company, following eight years of service in that capacity since the founding of the institution. Mr. Turman intends to remain in the local financial field, although he has not definitely settled on a new connection at present. His successor has not yet been appointed.

CANNED FOODS WEEK.

Wholesalers, brokers and canners are busy making preparations for the advent of the national Canned Foods Week, which is now only three weeks off. The movement represents the united efforts of the entire canning industry of the United States to bring before the consuming public the value and importance of canned foods. Many Californians who are vitally interested in the industry are paying particular attention to this attempt to spread canned food propaganda.

IN THE FOOD TRADE.

Business conditions have shown strong indications of a healthy improvement within the past few weeks, and the reaction is being felt in the food trade generally, according to the latest issue of the local Grocers' Journal. The number of advances in prices is a reflection of what is happening over the country, in virtually all industries. The grocery organ regards the sharp advance in foreign exchange rates as one of the best indication of this fact.

PERSONAL MENTION.

George Humphreys, formerly sales manager of the local office of the National City Company and now with the San Francisco office of that organization, is visiting in Los Angeles and expects to be here until Friday.

ALFALFA MARKET.

Last week's storms again interfered with the country movement of alfalfa hay and kept down receipts, according to the market letter issued yesterday by the California Alfalfa Growers' Exchange. Prices remained correspondingly firm. There were 1550 tons of grains and alfalfa hay received on the Los Angeles tracks during the week ended February 11, and 450 tons were held over. Prevailing prices in this district now are $25 a ton for No. 1 dairy stocks and $20 for standard alfalfa.

The Province of Alberta, fourth in area among the Provinces of Canada, is five times as large as the State of New York. In 1920, nearly one-eighth of the arable land of the Province was under cultivation; it is served by all transcontinental railroads, and the recent discovery of rich coal deposits, now being developed, has added to the natural resources within its borders.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Pronounced strength was displayed by today's stock market almost from the outset. Accumulation of buying orders over the double holiday, further settlement of short contracts and relaxed money rates were the propelling factors.

Highest prices were registered in the final hour, that period being concurrent with the decline of call loans from 5 to 4 per cent. Dividend paying rails and standard industrials of the steel, equipment, oil and miscellaneous divisions made net gains of 2 to almost 5 points.

Sentiment among traders respecting Federal tax legislation seemed to be more hopeful.

Moderate increase of production by independent steel manufacturers in midwestern territory accompanied intimations that the proposed steel mergers were progressing toward consummation.

Exchange on London made a vigorous recovery from last Saturday's reaction. The rally reflected the buoyant tone of the markets at that center.

Demand bills on London at 4.36 were 3¼ cents over the recent low and advances of four to eleven points in the allied exchanges were overshadowed by gains of eight to twenty-two points in other continental quotations, notably those on Holland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. The German rate alone held back, marks making only the slightest gain.

Time money rates were more rigid than demand quotations, few loans other than those of thirty to ninety days being made at less than 5 per cent, the latter rate prevailing for all long-time maturities. High-grade merchants' paper was quoted at 4¾ per cent but no acceptances were reported.

Government Calls Tax Exempt Victory Notes

SECRETARY MELLON has announced that the outstanding 3¾% tax exempt Victory Notes will be called for redemption at par on June 15th.

This action places upon the holders of these Notes the necessity of seeking a reinvestment of their funds. However, its real significance to investors at large is the indication it gives of a probable increasing demand for long term, tax exempt securities which are not subject to call before maturity.

In the $2,500,000 Los Angeles City School and High School District 5½% Bonds is a security which answers these requirements.

They are tax exempt in California, non-callable, and maturities run as long as thirty-eight years.

The total assessed valuation of the School Districts back of these Bonds exceeds one and one-half billion dollars. The ratio of net debt to assessed valuation is less than 1.40%.

OATMAN!

Why Don't OATMAN Stocks Continue to Advance?

Because the comparatively few people who know the true value of the Oatmans have bought Oatman stocks until their capital has become exhausted and it is DEMAND and SUPPLY that makes or breaks a healthy market.

If you have not secured your quota of stock in the Oatmans you had better act TODAY, for tomorrow the man who started and edited the "Goldfield News," Goldfield's first newspaper, will BE ON THE JOB AT OATMAN, and his thrilling stories replete with true facts will again greet the public. No writer in the country is more qualified to focus the attention of the world on the real genuine worth of the Oatmans and the cause of their years of stagnation than is he.

JAMES F. O'BRIEN

At times it takes real courage to make money in mining stocks; sometimes it stands for more than wisdom, but at all times wisdom should guide you. Wise investors are not losing sight of the fact that DEMAND makes the price and VALUES make the DEMANDS. Tomorrow may find a hundred bidders for Oatman stocks where there is one today. See me before buying or selling.

UNION OIL ADVANCES UNDER FIRM DEMAND.

UNITED AMERICAN ACTIVITY FEATURES TRADING IN MINING LIST.

Buying of Union Oil of California was more general on the Los Angeles Exchange yesterday and the price continued to advance. The closing transaction was made at 168½, a jump of 3¾ points. Union's earning record, as shown in the recently issued report, and its feature of being a steady dividend-paying investment stock probably account for its present popularity with the local traders.

United American was extremely active on the strength of high assay reports received from Oatman and sold as high as 46 cents. It declined in the afternoon session and closed at 41, a net gain of 2½ cents. Oatman United opened strong but sagged off 2 cents to 85 at the close.

Oatman Combination was unchanged at 13 cents and Big Jim was firm at 9. Tom Reed slumped heavily and closed at 70, 10 cents off. Gold Dust was off 1 to 26. Following are the closing prices and sales as posted in the Stock Exchange yesterday:

"I know of no other security that would double in value between the time the loan is made and its maturity, especially in such a short time. Take, for instance, such cattle as these going into the feeding pastures weighing around 800 pounds at 5c per pound would be $40.00 per head—within six months they should weigh out between 1100 to 1200 pounds and on the present market would bring 7½c per pound."

A Proven Investment

Southwest Cattle Loan Company

8% Preferred Stock

Probable Net Yield 13%

THE SOUTHWEST CATTLE LOAN COMPANY is the pioneer in California in its business of making short time loans to cattlemen, secured by mortgages on beef cattle and the feed necessary to fatten them for market. Its management attributes its notable success to the fact that the majority of its loans have always been feeder loans, secured by cattle that are ready for market before the maturity of the loan.

The Company's average earnings for the last five years—before deduction of federal income tax—have been 20.9% of its invested capital annually, and this period includes the years of high discount rates when federal funds were not available for this business.

The Federal War Finance Corporation has recognized the desirability of financing the cattle industry and has placed cattle loan companies on the same basis as state banks, restricting the amount of their loans to ten times the capital.

As the SOUTHWEST CATTLE LOAN COMPANY can now place advantageously an additional $2,000,000 in loans to cattlemen, it has secured permission to increase its capital by issuing $200,000 of preferred 8% stock. Of this amount $100,000 has been taken by those associated in the management of the company. The remaining $100,000 is offered for public subscription at par.

The earnings of the company in the past indicate that with $4,000,000 loans outstanding its earnings should be practically five times the amount necessary to pay 8% on this issue of preferred stock. Whenever, after paying 8% on the preferred stock, dividends in excess of 8% shall be declared on the common stock, the preferred stock shall receive like dividends up to 10%.

At the end of three years, when the War Finance Corporation will cease to function, this preferred stock will be callable at a premium of 15%.

The SOUTHWEST CATTLE LOAN COMPANY has never found it necessary to make a foreclosure.

The management of the company is in the hands of men of long and successful experience in the cattle industry. One of its largest stockholders and a director is Thomas E. Wilson, president of Wilson & Company, meat packers of Chicago.

HENRY ON INVESTMENTS.

Leslie B. Henry, manager of the Pasadena office of Blyth-Witter & Co., lectured to the students in the class in investments at the college of commerce and business administration of the University of Southern California. Mr. Henry's subject was the "Economic Background for Investments." He showed how, from the standpoint of economic theory, investors must be very careful in the placing of their funds, or in the committing of funds entrusted to their care. He explained how, at one time, in the investment history, it looked as though the railroad securities were the only ones which offered the investor real safety in the industrial field, but then almost over night, the automobile industry developed, which, for a time jeopardized the elements of safety in the railroad investment. Now, however, the automobiles have increased in such numbers that traffic in densely populated areas is so congested that it is almost impossible to use the automobile for passenger traffic. Hence railroads and traction securities are again climbing in favor by virtue of this economic condition which has been brought about.

SANTA ANA ISSUE.

Buying Rush in Wheat Market Boosts Prices.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Strength in foreign markets over the holiday when Chicago was closed, resulted in a general rush of buying here at the opening. May deliveries of all grain sold at a new high on the present upturn. The July was in new ground for the season. Immense profit-taking on the bulge made a good setback but the close was strong on all grains with net gains of 3⅝ to 5⅛ cents on wheat, 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents on corn, ⅛ to ⅝ cent on oats and 3⅛ to 3½ cents on rye.

Execution of stop-loss orders, in large volume, advanced wheat as much as 6½ cents over Saturday's finish with May leading, $1.39½ being touched. The bulge brought profit-taking from all classes of traders with houses usually acting for leading New York interests, persistent sellers in large quantities at $1.38 and over. This selling continued for several hours but finally was absorbed. The close was at $1.38⅝.

It was easier to trace the selling than the buying. At the last, the local element was well evened up. July showed considerable activity. After selling at $1.23, on the opening bulge, it reacted to $1.20, only to close at $1.21⅞. The May-July spread widened out to 16¾ cents at the last, against 15 cents at the finish Saturday. Winnipeg showed more strength than Chicago and was up 6 cents from Saturday while Kansas City July was 4⅝ cents higher.

A big export business was under way in wheat, with sales reported as high as 1,000,000 bushels, and messages from the seaboard indicated that in some instances hedges against this grain had not been removed. Liverpool was up 4⅝ to 6½ cents from Saturday and Buenos Aires 1⅛ cents higher as compared with Monday. A good flour business was put through at Minneapolis and the milling demand generally showed improvement with sales of 100,000 bushels at Omaha. Premiums on spring wheat on spot were 3 to 10 cents lower with the poorer kinds leading.

Strong commission houses were on the buying side of corn and while there was a sharp reaction after the early bulge due to receipts of 2007 cars here and a break of ¼ to 1 cent in the basis as compared with the May, a swift upturn came toward the last on reports that the Grain Corporation would buy 25,000 tons of corn grits, equal to around 1,500,000 bushels grain. It was understood there were large orders in the market while liberal sales were made abroad over the holiday. Country offerings were not large despite the advance. Chicago handlers sold 575,000 bushels to the seaboard.

Oats were affected by the action of other grains and ranged higher. Houses with northwestern connections bought May and sold July. Basis in the sample market was about ½ cent lower as compared with May, with receipts 344 cars.

Fosters—

Are distributing today to unit holders in their syndicates, dividends at the rate of 4% interest per year on $9,000,000.00!

The total investment by the Fosters and their clients on which we are paying this dividend is ONLY $360,000, divided among these syndicates.

Yet we are paying at the rate of 4% per year on $9,000,000.00! Where but from an oil investment can you get such earnings as these? And even in oil, where will you find an enterprise OPEN TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC that will pay so handsomely, except among Foster Syndicates.

Yet there is nothing phenomenal or extraordinary to us about the size of the dividends our offerings are paying—none of these syndicates has exceptional wells—just average producers. The principal reason that they are able each month to distribute handsome earnings is because in Foster Syndicates there are no officers' salaries or office rents to pay—there is no money used for speculation or manipulation—none retained for the purchasing of other properties. The money that is received from the production of oil is each month distributed among the unit holders.

The production of oil with us is a business. We develop and operate our properties on a sound, business basis. Producing oil is no novelty to us—the selection and development of oil properties is our life work.

Foster earnings, big as they are, might be termed only the average earnings of oil producers—the profit that has made it possible for the major oil companies and the strong independent oil producing organizations, of which the Fred B. Foster & Company is but one, to develop into the great financial institutions that they are.

There is no surer way to profit than to carefully invest in oil. Invest with men whose business is oil. In a word, invest with oil producers.

COTTON MARKET HAS DAY OF HIGH PRICES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The trend continued upward in the cotton market today with increased support. A gain of about ½ cent a pound was scored in the first two hours under buying of Wall-street shorts and for Liverpool and Japanese account. The advance, promoted largely on the firmness of Liverpool and helped by the continued betterment of exchange and securities, gaining strength as the session progressed and by early afternoon the market was up 30 to 40 cents over Saturday's final prices. Western interests lent support in the afternoon. Stop-loss orders were reached in the last hour when all options were up ¾ cent a pound over Saturday and final prices were close to the day's best.

Spot cotton steady, 55 points advance for middling upland.

PRODUCE SUPPLIES ARE MORE LIBERAL.

SEVERAL PRICE CHANGES IN VEGETABLES; CABBAGE AND CELERY GAIN.

Produce supplies were more liberal on the local produce exchange yesterday and there were several price changes, especially among the vegetables, as a result. Cauliflower is weaker, and cabbage and celery slightly stronger than last week. Due to increased supplies, lettuce, peppers and tomatoes also show a slight decline. There is a little local lettuce coming into the market now, that averages better than practically any stock on the market since the freeze.

The apple market shows practically no change except that the price range on Bellefleurs is gradually widening due to the total ripeness of some stock and the demand for firm, fairly green fruit. Loose apples are barely holding their own, but best packed stock was steady and the movement—although not heavy—was unsatisfactory. Potato prices show little if any change, but onions still have an upward tendency, good brown stock selling readily at $8.

Cull oranges were cheaper, but fancy packed fruit was scarce and there was only a limited demand for what stock was on hand.

HIGH PRICES FOR WHEAT.

Sudden Advance Creates Excitement in Stock Market; Sterling Exchange Recovers.

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Movement of prices for stocks and bonds was again quite superseded in interest today by the action of foreign exchange and wheat. Such expectation as had been entertained last week that the rise in these two markets had run its course was promptly upset on today's resumption of business.

Sterling exchange which had fallen from 438 3-4 to 431 3-4 on the three last days of the past week, rose abruptly to 436 1-2. Wheat for May delivery which sold at $1.27 per bushel less than a week ago, and which closed at 1.33 on Saturday, advanced in an extremely excited market at Chicago today to 1.39⅛. This is the highest price paid in the present crop, except for two or three days in the early autumn; its compares with 1.07 1-2 in January, and 1.03 1-4 in November.

WHEAT MARKET.

The character of the day's wheat market clearly indicated the speculative grain trade had suddenly awakened to a realizing sense of its erroneous estimates of the past few months, regarding the world's balance of supplies and requirements.

The stock market, which has been watching with uneasiness the amazing performance over the soldier bonus bill at Washington, appeared today to be more relieved at the abandonment of the stock transfer tax plan by the fluttering statesmen than disturbed at the obstinate return to talk of a government bond issue. Liberty bonds held up rather surprisingly possibly because of a feeling that the program of drawing this prodigious sum from the Treasury the protests and warnings of the government's financial officers was getting into a position which would make its defeat unavoidable.

All other European exchange rates rose with sterling, francs in particular, nearly reaching again the high point of last week.

STERLING SITUATION.

As a sidelight on the recent extraordinary recovery of sterling exchange the report of this country's foreign trade in January supplements Saturday's similar statements for Great Britain. Whereas, England's surplus of imports over exports was barely one-third what it was in January, 1921, our own surplus of exports did not reach one-seventh of last year's figure for the month. Expressed in the customary way, last month's trade balance was more favorable to England than that of any month since 1913, but was less favorable to the United States than any month since 1915.

Europe's purchases of our materials of manufacture can hardly be kept at their present low level in case of any European trade revival, but the purchases are likely to be conducted cautiously, with a view to the foreign exchanges, and to reach normal magnitude only when Europe's exports are increased equivalently. It is with South America and Asia that revival in our export trade ought to begin. Meantime so far as Europe is concerned there is at least consolation in our declining export trade.

MINING NEWS.

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS,
Editor Arizona "Mining Journal."

LABOR SITUATION—It is interesting to note that the mines of Arizona have started operations without a cut in the wage scale as was the case in the opening of the Montana mines. The wages now being paid in the Arizona copper camps is on a basis of 15-cent copper. It is evident that the copper mining companies are trying to maintain the wage scale as high as possible with a view to getting the best miners available and only time will tell whether it will be possible to maintain a wage scale higher than other parts of the country.

COPPER SITUATION — The starting of the copper mines has somewhat chilled the market, lessened the purchases and lowered the prices. This was not unexpected as some of the buying was for stock and now that the consumers can see where stock replacement is coming from they are not so anxious to purchase ahead. The falling off of the price to a minimum of 13¼ was not serious and the recovery was quick. All copper men seem very optimistic as to the future demand although there is a feeling that the price will not be much higher.

GENERAL—It is interesting to note that the Arizona Copper Company pays 56 per cent of the taxes of Greenlee county, Ray Consolidated 57 per cent of Pinal county, Inspiration 47 per cent of Gila, New Cornelia 34 per cent of Pima and U. V. and U. V. X. 65 per cent of Yavapai and that all the mining countries have lower tax rates.

BENSON—The Apache Powder Company, with a capacity of 1,000,000 a month, is scheduled to open up on March 1. This company has as its stockholders many of the larger mines of the State. W. W. Edwards is manager, D. B. Fogg is assistant manager and C. E. Mills is managing director. The plant is at St. David.

OATMAN—The strike of the United American on their 200-foot level is so bringing up their milling values that the penalties are a serious consideration. Five mill samples taken recently from car lots show values of $114, $111, $16, $54 and $61, respectively. Ores above $40 average are penalized.

NOGALES—Work is to start next month on the 100-mile stretch of road down the West Coast of Mexico. This road will open up some rich country and help develop a large trade in Arizona territory. The work is planned to be done largely by Mexican soldiers. The first work will be on the Nogales-Hermosillo stretch.

KINGMAN—The Aladdin Divide Mining Company of Nevada has purchased outright five claims adjoining the Katherine mine. C. N. Miller, who is heavily interested in many Katherine district projects is interested in the new concern. They are to start development work at once.

WILLCOX—Samples taken from twenty-five of the ore bodies of the Central Copper Company at Dos Cabezas were assayed by George W. Cameron in El Paso and showed an average of $89.64 per ton. All of the samples showed good values in gold and silver. About 125 men are now employed in development work.

DOUGLAS—P. G. Beckett, general manager of the Phelps Dodge Corporation has again opened up his Douglas office which has been closed practically since last June. Mr. Beckett will remain in the West. President Walter Douglas is expected next month for an inspection tour.

EL PASO—The El Paso Smelter of the American Smelting and Refining Company will open both its lead and copper furnaces shortly, the lead furnaces getting much of their supply from Erupcion and Ahumada and the copper furnaces getting the concentrates from Chino. This announcement indicates the starting at Chino.

The Southern Pacific has announced lower rates on crude ores to El Paso.

IN BANKRUPTCY COURT.

E. G. Eckman, president of the Shafter Growers' Association, at Shafter, filed a petition in the United States District Court yesterday, asking that the corporation might be declared bankrupt. The debts amount to $42,130.49, of which $28,614.65 is unsecured. The assets are listed to be $35,422.15, and of this sum $10,000 is asserted to be the value of the machinery, etc. B. Chanan Singh of Imperial filed a similar petition, showing his debts to be $3247.36 and his assets as nothing.

AMERICAN RULE HAS HANDICAPS.

Not Unmixed Blessing in Virgin Islands.

Health and Education Are Given Impetus.

But Volstead Law is Blow to Prosperity.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. THOMAS (Virgin Islands) Feb. 14.—The American regime in the Virgin Islands is proving a mixed blessing. While public health and education have taken long steps forward, the application of American laws, particularly prohibition, has given a severe blow to the business of the islands and the people are talking of starving and bankruptcy.

Many of the inhabitants of the tiny island depend for their livelihood on the port business and this has almost stopped since Congress extended the Volstead Act so as to be operative here. During last month alone 135 ships are said to have been diverted to the wet Dutch port of Curacao. The bay rum industry has been hit a hard blow, too.

Gov. S. E. W. Kittelle has just published the prohibition proclamation and the people are organizing to protest to Washington. In point of fact they are not citizens of the United States and are not subject to the other parts of the Constitution. Also, they have nothing else to turn to as the land is poor and hilly and is subject to drought. Saloons and drunkenness have never been an evil here.

SHIPS AVOID HARBOR.

In the days before the war all of the fleets of the world used to call here for shore liberty. Now there is nothing in the harbor save a few tramps. The population of the islands consists of about 8000 African negroes, a sprinkling of Indians and American marines who control the affairs of the islands.

Amalie Harbor, which cost the United States $25,000,000 to keep the Germans from using as a naval base, is the best harbor in the West Indies on the outer trade route to the Panama Canal. The harbor is deep, is well fortified and makes an impregnable submarine base. The port has not been developed as a naval base, although there is a fair supply of coal on hand for bunkering and there are electric cranes and the Shipping Board maintains an oil station. There is a small floating dock and a repair shop.

WANT MORE POWER.

The island is in sight of Porto Rico and is a night's run from the French stronghold at Martinique. Politically, the natives are agitating for more power, but they say they do not want independence, as they like the protection of the American flag and American institutions, especially schools, hospitals and sanitation. St. Thomas could be made into a splendid winter health resort, but it cannot compete with the French and Dutch ports while the blue laws and too strict navigation regulations are in effect.

The island will be a constant burden to the United States financially. The natives are asking for a new organic law with equal suffrage.

POLICE BOARD ASKS PENSION LAW CHANGE

AMENDMENT PROPOSED TO PREVENT RETIREMENT OF ABLE-BODIED MEN.

The City Council was yesterday requested by the Board of Police Commissioners to amend the pension regulations so as to prevent able-bodied policemen from being automatically placed on the pension rolls after twenty years of service. The present regulation gives the Board of Police Commissioners no option, once an officer has served twenty years in the department, but to grant his application for retirement.

The police board recommends that an aged limit of 55 years be placed, previous to which no police officer may apply for retirement strictly on length-of-service grounds, and even then, under the amendment as proposed, if after physical examination, the surgeons find that the applicant is able to render service to the city, the police board will have the option of refusing his application for retirement.

The pension regulations question came before the police board yesterday when Detective Sergeant Walter E. Wood, who had served twenty years in the department and had applied for retirement, was automatically placed on the pension rolls. The Police Commissioners believe that if the present system is continued the pension rolls will be loaded down with able-bodied men.

POISONING ACCIDENT MAY KILL DENTIST.

Mistaking a bottle of oxalic acid for salts, Dr. H. L. Mitchell, 29 years of age, a dentist living at 3900 Wisconsin street, yesterday morning swallowed a large quantity of the poison and was removed to the Receiving Hospital in a serious condition. Treated by Police Surgeon Dorn the dentist was removed to a private hospital. According to the police surgeon he may not recover.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

PLANS DEMANDS TO HELP BOATS.

State Department Will Act Against Mexico.

Request for Abandoning of Fish Tax Favored.

Seizure Inquiry May End This Afternoon.

Strict observance by Mexico of international fishing laws in dealing with American purse seine fishing boats will be demanded by the State Department of the Obregon government at Mexico City, it was indicated at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday, during the second session of the investigation into the seizure by a Mexican gunboat of the American fishing boat Mabel off Ensenada, December 4, last.

Questions put to witnesses called to testify at the hearing yesterday before American consul W. C. Burdette, Mexican Consul Enrique Ferraria and W. H. Rogers, British mediator, indicated that the following demands will be made to Mexico as an outgrowth of the investigation.

That the law requiring payment of a tax on all fish caught within ten miles of the Mexican coast be repealed or amended to apply only within the three-mile limit.

PATROL QUESTION.

That American fishing craft operating beyond the three-mile limit be permitted to fish without molestation by Mexican war craft or revenue cutters and that no American craft be employed to patrol the fishing grounds.

That the 1180 peso fine paid by Capt. Jacob Berntsen of the Mabel to secure her release at Ensenada, following her seizure be returned.

That Mexican government representatives at Los Angeles Harbor, engaged in collecting tax from American fishing vessels returning from the southern fishing grounds, be withdrawn.

That Julian K. Duarte, former master of the American fishing boat Olga D of San Diego, and now an alleged fugitive from American justice, be turned over to United States authorities for trial on a charge of piracy on the high seas. The Olga D assisted the Mexican authorities in seizing the Mabel, it is alleged.

That American purse seine boats be permitted to call at Mexican ports, either in ballast or with catches, to obtain fuel, provisions or supplies or when forced to seek shelter under stress of weather.

YESTERDAY'S TESTIMONY.

Testimony adduced at the hearing yesterday tended to show that American fishing boats which enter the Mexican three-mile limit, regardless of from what part of the ocean they have secured their catch, have been adjudged amenable to the Mexican tax for all their fish.

The hearing was continued behind closed doors and it was indicated that because of the large number of witnesses yet to be heard, the meeting at Los Angeles Harbor will not be completed until late this afternoon. It was said that, following the close of the investigation at the local port, the board of inquiry will go to San Diego to take testimony of additional witnesses there.

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 14.—Among the big carriers listed for Tacoma loading this week are the motorship Theodore Roosevelt, Wenatchee, Arabia Maru, Stygian Prince, Meigen Maru, motorship Hero, Yoman Maru and Hakata Maru. It is possible that the Kentuckian of the American Hawaiian Line East Coast service will be in.

The Rosalie Mahoney is due at Tacoma Wednesday from San Francisco. The Mahoney has freight for the Baker dock.

The Phyllis from San Pedro is listed to arrive here Tuesday night or Wednesday morning to load. The vessel will take a full cargo of lumber at the Defiance mill for California.

It is said that the Princess, after loading here, will go to Gray's Harbor to complete her lumber cargo for New York. The Princess may not get away from here until the latter part of this week.

Arrivals and departures at Tacoma today were on the slack order. A number of vessels were expected, but the Arabia Maru, returning from Vancouver to complete loading for the Orient, was the only ship that entered.

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 14.—The Eastern Sailor left here late last night for the Orient with a full cargo of wheat, flour, lumber and general freight. She is one of the North China vessels of the Columbia Pacific Shipping Company. The Vinita of the same company's fleet will arrive here Friday, according to advices received here today. PORT NOTES.

Repairs to the oil tanker Stockton, operated by the Standard Oil Co. of California, and which created havoc at the local harbor Friday morning when she became unmanageable in the main channel, will be completed today at noon, it was said at the Southwestern plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Co., where damage to her bow is being repaired. She will proceed to the Standard Oil docks this afternoon and load fuel oil for the Orient.

Three Johnston line steamers, the Tullamore, Brunsmore and Wigmore, have been sold to Japanese companies at $150,000, according to eastern dispatches received at the harbor yesterday. The total tonnage is about 23,000.

Following her arrival at San Francisco from the Orient yesterday the big Shipping Board passenger liner Granite State was turned back to the Shipping Board by the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. The Granite State has been plying between San Francisco and the Orient, calling at Calcutta, India. The company recently announced the abandonment of the India service and, with the Hoosier State and Creole State, have inaugurated a Manila service.

The first of a fleet of oil tankers expected on this coast from the Orient, the British steamer Adena, has reached San Francisco in ballast. She is to be followed by six others coming to this coast in ballast within the next two weeks. The fleet will load oil and gasoline for the Orient in the service of the Dutch Shell Co.

Described as the largest vessel propelled by internal combustion motors sailing the seas today, the big motor ship Loch Katrine, built on the Clyde for the Holland-American line, on her maiden voyage, is en route to Los Angeles Harbor from Rotterdam. She cleared the latter port on January 27. The Loch Katrine is of 11,800 deadweight tons, with a length of 485 feet and 62 feet beam. Her mean draft is 34 feet, six inches. Her motors have developed a speed of 13½ knots.

Completely overhauled and her passenger accommodations increased, the Matson liner Lurline is to sail from San Francisco tomorrow for Seattle, to resume her service in that company's triangular Seattle-San Francisco-Honolulu run.

Capt. Robert Dollar is preparing a third German ship, renamed the Jeanette Dollar, for commission at San Francisco, according to word reaching the harbor yesterday. She will load lumber at Bellingham for the Orient.

Steamers arriving from Atlantic Coast and foreign ports continue to bring increasing cargoes, and the lumber trade, which has been reported as dropping off, as a matter of fact, is really picking up.

As an instance of this, the Sudden & Christensen steamer, the largest carrier in the fleet, has been diverted from San Francisco to this port, while two of the Oliver J. Olson steamers and three of the Hammond carriers arrived today. From this it would seem that Southern California's ability to absorb lumber seems to be entirely holding its own.

HARBOR MAN HUNTED IN BAD-CHECK CASE.

Police of the entire Southwest began yesterday a search for John Killingsworth, wanted at Los Angeles Harbor for the passing of an alleged worthless New York draft for $350 on the Evans Music Company of San Pedro. The draft was tendered in payment for a violin and was cashed by Donald Evans, proprietor of the store, two weeks ago. It returned from New York yesterday marked "no good."

Killingsworth is described to the police as being 45 years old and weighing about 160 pounds. He is 5ft. 9in. tall and has light hair,

WITTIEST HE KNEW.

Chauncey Depew Recalls Quips of William M. Evarts.

William M. Evarts was the wittiest man I ever met. It is difficult to rehabilitate in the sayings of a wit the complete flavor of the utterance. It is easier with a man of humor.

Evarts was very proud of his efforts as a farmer on his large estate in Vermont. Among his prizes was a drove of pigs. He sent to Chief Justice Morrison R. Waite a copy of his eulogy on Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase, Waite's predecessor, and at the same time a ham, saying in his letter: "My dear chief justice, I send you today one of my prize hams and also my eulogy on Chief Justice Chase, both the products of my pen."

The good things Mr. Evarts said would be talked of long after a dinner. I remember on one occasion his famous partner, Mr. Choate, who was a Harvard man, while Evarts was a graduate from Yale, introduced Mr. Evarts by saying that he was surprised that a Yale man, with all the prejudices of that institution against the superior advantages of Harvard, should have risked the coats of his stomach at a Harvard dinner. Mr. Evarts replied: "When I go to a Harvard dinner I leave the coats of my stomach at home."

Mr. Evarts once told me, when I was visiting at his country place, that an old man whom he pointed out, and who was sawing wood, was the most sensible philosopher in the neighborhood. Mr. Evarts said: "He is always talking to himself, and I asked him why. His answer was: 'I always talk to myself in preference to talking to anybody else, because I like to talk to a sensible man and to hear a man of sense talk.'"—[Chauncey M. Depew, in Scribner's Magazine.

Fair Exchange.

An enterprising tradesman sent a doctor a box of cigars which had not been ordered, with a bill for $6. The accompanying letter stated that "I have ventured to send these on my own initiative, being convinced that you will appreciate their exquisite flavor."

In due course the doctor replied: "You have not asked me for a consultation, but I venture to send you three prescriptions, being convinced that you will derive therefrom as much benefit as I shall derive from your cigars. As my charge for a prescription is $2, this makes us even."—[Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Even with the Editor.

A good story is going around New York about Alfred Noyes, the nationalized English poet.

Mr. Noyes, the story runs, met at a Princeton dinner party the other evening the editor of a literary weekly. Smarting under the recent rejection of a batch of half a dozen poems, Mr. Noyes called across the table to the editor in a loud voice:

"I saw a good thing in that sheet of yours the other day."

"Yes? What was it?" the editor beamed.

"A pound of fish," said Mr. Noyes, beaming balefully back.—[Detroit Free Press.

Heart Out of Compliment.

A colored preacher in Alabama was talking to one of his aged parishioners, who ventured to express the opinion that ministers ought to be better paid.

"I'se sho' glad to hear yo' say dat," responded the parson warmly. "I'se pleased dat yo' think so much of de ministers. So yo' think we'd ought to get bigger salaries?"

"Sho' I does," said the old man. "Den we'd get a better class o' men."—[Houston Post.

He "Helped" the Wrong Way.

A green brakeman was making his first trip up the Sierras. The train was going up a very steep grade and, with unusual difficulty, the engineer succeeded in reaching the top. At the station, looking out of his cab, the engineer said, with a sigh of relief: "I tell you what, my lad, we had a hard job to get up there, didn't we?" "We certainly did," said the brakeman, "and if I hadn't put on the brakes we'd have slipped back."—[Locomotive Engineers' Journal.

Meeting an Objection.

"I'm sorry I can't let you have your check today," said the harassed secretary, soothingly. "It is waiting with several others for our president's signature, but he's laid up at home with gout."

"Heavens!" cried the persistent and enraged creditor. "But he doesn't have to sign 'em with his feet, does he?"—[Exchange.

PRINCIPALS FOR NEW SCHOOLS APPOINTED.

SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES TO BEGIN WORK OF ORGANIZATION.

Principals for two new junior high schools and the new Roosevelt High School were named by the Board of Education last night upon the recommendation of Mrs. Dorsey, superintendent of schools.

These named for the new posts are:

Thomas H. Nelson, principal of the San Pedro High School, to be principal of the new Roosevelt High School, appointment to date from the opening of school in September, 1922.

Ralph D. Wadsworth, vice-principal of Lincoln High School, to be principal of the San Pedro High School after September, 1922.

Katherine L. Carey, vice-principal at Jefferson High School, to be principal of the John Muir Junior High School.

M. W. Chandler, principal of Grant School, to be principal of the Le Conte Junior High School.

Superintendent Dorsey announced that "it is important that a selection of principals for the two new junior high schools and the one new senior high school be made at as early a date as possible in order that those selected may begin to plan the necessary preliminary organization of the several schools."

In a report by the Teachers' and Schools' Committee of the board, attention was drawn to a communication from George E. Larkey, principal of the Coronel School, in which Mr. Larkey asserted that his service of twenty years in the local schools entitled him to the principalship of the Le Conte Junior High School.

The committee's report concluded:

"On recommendation of the superintendent, we recommend that a reply be sent to Mr. Larkey, stating that the board and superintendents appreciate his long service in the Coronel High School; that the selection of the principals for the new schools has proven a perplexing matter inasmuch as there is really in the school system a wealth of material for all these positions; that the selection of these principals represents the unanimous vote of the entire superintendent's staff; and that, while not all applicants could receive favorable consideration, in view of the limited number of places to be filled, it is hoped that all will agree that the positions will be satisfactorily filled by those chosen."

FORM PARTNERSHIP.

Joseph and Roger Marchetti have formed a partnership for the practice of law, with offices here and in New York City, they announced yesterday. The first-named will be in charge of the local office and the latter, who has been living in New York since he was mustered out of the Army, will remain there. The two will specialize in the practice of admiralty law.

MONTANANS TO HAVE PICNIC.

J. R. Clark, president of the Montana State Society, announced yesterday that the annual picnic of the society will be held on Wednesday, February 22, in Sycamore Grove. In case of rain on that date the celebration will be postponed. No extra trains will be run from Long Beach on February 22, as usual, Mr. Clark stated, but a special rate of 72 cents for adults and 42 cents for children has been granted by the Pacific Electric.

NEW YORK BROKERAGE FIRM QUITS.

Crawford, Patton & Cannon Make Assignment and Then Comes Bankruptcy.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The failure of the brokerage firm of Crawford, Patton & Cannon, 61 Broadway, was announced from the rostrum of the Stock Exchange this morning, followed by a petition in bankruptcy filed against the firm this afternoon. The members are Henry D. Cannon, floor member, Henry Joseph Patton, Harold A. Chandor and Covert L. Goodlove. The firm has branches in Philadelphia and at the Hotel St. Andrews, this city, and was organized in 1903.

E. V. D. Cox, secretary of the exchange, said Cannon had come to him personally this morning before the opening and announced the assignment in favor of creditors. The failure was a great surprise. Official notice of assignment was filed in the County Clerk's office. Assets were placed at about $3,000,000 and the liabilities at about $3,300,000 in a preliminary estimate by William Otis Badger, Jr., assignee, who added that exact figures would not be ready for some days.

The petition in bankruptcy filed against the four members of the firm in the Federal District Court by four creditors, asked that since the firm had made a general assignment they be declared bankrupt. The petitioning creditors were James A. Heitzman of Brooklyn, claiming $100; Francis M. Radford, Madison, N. J., $40; H. O. Seligman, Manhattan, $1000; and May Hicks Maor, Manhattan, $200.

Dist.-Atty. Benton tonight declared unfounded widely circulated rumors that his office had been investigating complaints from clients of the firm. "We have no complaints against Patton & Cannon," said Benton, "and the circumstances of their failure are not being reviewed by my office."

DRY REPORT STIRS WETS IN MEXICALI

Prohibition Along Border May Become Policy of President Obregon.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Feb. 14.—"Wets" of Mexicali are reported as showing considerable concern over recent press association dispatches out of Mexico City carrying the information that there is an actual possibility that prohibition is in store for Mexico.

Coming so soon after Gov. Inocente Lugo's statement that prohibition is a prospective policy along the entire border, the less optimistic and hopeful "wets" see in the reports from the Mexican capital significance enough to cause some doubt and speculation as to the permanency of their liquor interests across the line from Calexico.

Although the more confident of the "wets" openly scout the probability of Gov. Lugo taking the initiative in prohibition regulations in his district, others interested in liquor businesses at Mexicali point out that it would not be the Governor's policy but President Obregon's, applying what are believed to be his present principles to operate at a later date.

The dispatches from Mexico City assert that plans embody first "drying" up the capital and then, through the steady and increasing pressure of excessive taxation on liquor traffic, effecting total prohibition throughout the nation.

It is pointed out as significant that saloons, cantinas and clubs have already been put under more drastic restrictions and that a few weeks ago President Obregon decreed an increase of Federal revenue taxes on alcoholic drinks amounting to 100 per cent. Increase of these taxes until they become prohibitive is planned, according to rumors.

Another straw in the wind, pointing toward President Obregon's reputed prohibition tendencies, is a reported recent statement that the President intended issuing an order forbidding planting of the Mexican maguey plant, chief base for the most popular Mexican intoxicant.

Prominent and influential members of President Obregon's Cabinet are said to be constantly urging prohibition. Secretary of Interior Calles and Secretary of the Treasury De la Huerta are the chief proponents of "drying up" Mexico, according to Mexico City reports of recent date.

Lettuce Crop Gives Imperial Large Return.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Feb. 14.—With lettuce holding around $3.25 and $3.75 a crate, f.o.b. shipping point, lettuce growers of Imperial Valley are experiencing an unusual wave of prosperity, according to general reports being discussed throughout the county today.

Lettuce growers coming into El Centro over the week-end brought stories of the golden harvest they and their neighbors are reaping in and around El Centro, Heber, Brawley and especially Melloland, where the lettuce crop has been particularly profitable.

One grower in Melloland, who produced a particulary heavy crop was told by a buyer that if lettuce continued at the present price, the grower's crop would net him $1000 an acre. Another grower south of El Centro, with twenty-five acres in lettuce, expects to clear nearly $10,000. He is so optimistic about lettuce crops in Imperial Valley that he intends to invest this season's profits in another forty-acre tract to be planted to lettuce next season.

WIFE CHARGES BOOTLEGGING.

Divorce Complaint Says Husband Keeps Large Stock of Liquor.

A secret was revealed by Mrs. Margaret L. Lewis yesterday when she filed suit for divorce against Arthur H. Lewis. She not only charges him with habitual intoxication, but also declares "that defendant constantly buys and handles bootleg brandy and whisky and has large quantities of the same on hand, contrary to the pleadings and wishes of the plaintiff." Mrs. Lewis is represented by Atty. J. F. Poole.

Wants Landis to Investigate Clyne's Office.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—A special grand jury investigation of U. S. Dist. Atty. Charles F. Clyne's office was demanded here today by Col. John V. Clinnin, assistant District Attorney, who appeared before Judge Landis with his request.

Col. Clinnin's action today followed his appearance three times last week before Federal judges who asked him to explain his official conduct in dealing with cases in his hands. On two occasions he was severely criticised by Judge Landis.

Among the things asked by Col. Clinnin in his petition today was that a grand jury review every case in recent years that resulted in a nolle prosse, no-bill verdict or a true bill which had never resulted in a trial.

He also asked that the inquisitorial body determine what had become of many announced violations that had never been brought to the attention of the grand jury.

GREAT DANGER TO HEALTH

Thousands Suffer Maladies Due to Neglect of Teeth.

The health of your teeth is closely akin to the health of your body. If you neglect the health of your teeth you can't keep away from the doctor. Gums become infected with dreaded pyorrhea. MRS. OBENCHAIN WEEPS AS LETTERS ARE READ.

Accused Woman Breaks Down in Court, but Later Outstares Murder Victim's Father.

To every trial there is at least one big moment. That sensation is yet to come in the case of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, now on trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy. But yesterday there were several lesser big moments, and chief among them came during the reading of a letter from the slain man, when the accused woman buried her head in her hands and wept.

Few in the courtroom saw this incident, so carefully did she conceal her sobs. But while the measured, sometimes droning, tones of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Keyes conveyed the contents of the letter to the jury, while he read of Kennedy's wish to be with Madalynne again—to be with her in "the City of Darkness," he said—Mrs. Obenchain hid her face in the fur about her neck and wept.

The day was one of thrills for the spectators. The hundred or so that stood in front of the Hall of Justice waiting for admission to the afternoon session became greatly excited when Mrs. Obenchain emerged from the hall above the Sheriff's office, and walked the brief space to the jail building at the noon recess. Many failed to identify her, but those that did followed her, and long after the gratings had closed upon her, they peered between the bars in the hope of again catching a glimpse.

A BIG MOMENT.

Another big moment came and went unobserved by the spectators. This occurred when J. D. Kennedy, father of the slain man, was on the stand. Constantly, consistently, has Mr. Kennedy avoided the gaze of the woman charged with murder of his boy. Just as consistently have the eyes of Mrs. Obenchain searched him out in the courtroom and followed his every move.

Yesterday morning the father took the stand. Mrs. Obenchain watched him as he mounted the platform. She continued to watch him while he identified a number of letters. Then, as if drawn by the magnetic eyes of the woman, the man's gaze turned and focused on her. It centered there for a full minute and then, outstared, the eyes wandered to the face of Mr. Keyes and back to the letters. Several times during the day this operation was repeated. And always the eyes of the woman held longer than those of the man.

But the letters of Kennedy were the only ones that effected Mrs. Obenchain. When her own were read she spent her time looking over various documents on the counsel table. She seemed not to hear her protestations of love made months, years ago. Her former husband and present attorney, Ralph R. Obenchain, heard, however, and flushed.

Mrs. Obenchain's letters were by far the most interesting of the day from the spectator's point of view. Poetic and romantic, they spoke of the somber dusk and deserted verandas and of the longing of the woman on trial for the companionship of the man she loved.

Mr. Kennedy was on the stand at the opening of the afternoon session. He was followed by Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, who identified the writing on the letters and telegrams as the same as the signature of Mrs. Obenchain at the jail. He noted, for the benefit of the jury, certain peculiarities of style that were evident in all the woman's writing.

Then followed Deputy Sheriff Bright, who went to Mrs. Obenchain's room at the Alexandria and obtained letters and a diary from her trunk. Mr. Bright was subject to close examination over the disappearance of certain letters and documents which were later published by a local paper. Mr. Bright said that he could not testify as to who took the letter but that he had "a strong suspicion."

Telegrams by the dozens and dated to show that Mrs. Obenchain, Burch and Kennedy sent and received sometimes two or more a day, were introduced at the morning session and identified by W. M. Laughlin, commercial agent for the Western Union, over whose wires the messages were sent. The contents were not read, however, until late in the day.

The wires were signed "Madalynne," "Jeff," "J. O. Dolin," "Ross Duke" and many were unsigned. The names "Dolin" and "Duke" are said to be the ones used by Kennedy. "Jeff" is said to be Burch.

Following the introduction of the telegrams by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Keyes, Mr. Kennedy was called to the stand. He identified several wires found in his son's room after he was murdered and those he discovered in a safe deposit vault in a local bank.

While he was on the stand, Jud Rush, defense attorney, asked Mr. Kennedy if there were any photographs of Mrs. Obenchain about the house at the time of his son's death. Mr Kennedy replied that there was none at that time; that he had not seen any for several years. He stated that Belton had two photographs at one time, but said that he did not know of their location now.

The only other witness of the morning was Joseph Betts, assistant jailor, who identified Mrs. Obenchain's and Burch's signatures. This was done to compare those on the jail docket with those on the telegrams.

LETTERS TO KENNEDY.

The letters from Mrs. Obenchain as read yesterday to the jury in part follows:

"March 4, 1918.

"Dear Madalynne: I am sending you your little certificate but it will be necessary for you to be identified at the bank. I should like you to meet a friend of mine during your peaceful sojourn in Frisco. But I do hope you will soon return. You are in the city of darkness now, Madalynne, but I love it and soon hope to be out of the darkness myself. Don't forget Los Angeles or Garvanza 1016. Love.

[Signed] "BELTON."

"From Balboa, Oct. 6, 1917.

"May I call for a few minutes, Madalynne? I did not forget my promise to phone but I ask forgiveness. My daily program is like this: cold shower, breakfast, swimming 'a la negligee,' refreshment, nap, sailing, dinner and then a walk—and the inevitable. When I get back I'm going to teach you to drive my roadster. Please address me at the office.

[Signed] BELTON.

Sunday, May 6.

"Dear Madalynne:

"I thought you would be better pleased if I waited for a word from you before writing myself. Dear Madalynne, I think of you every day. When I have the blues I wonder if you are blue, too. I think of you watching the miles and miles of gold and blue prairie land and sitting still—just thinking. I wish my spirit could help you, but if difficulties assail you bring that fine histrionic ability of yours into play and you will triumph. Mother is worried over the war scare. But I would like to get a commission or get into a fine cavalry company. I want to voice my appreciation of the two pictures you sent me of yourself.

[Signed] "BELTON."

"May 28, 1917.

"Saturday afternoon I sent a telegram addressed to Mac, hoping to reach you. I hope you are well and happy.

TO QUIZ DRIVER IN TAYLOR CASE

Mabel Normand's Chauffeur Will be Questioned.

New Information Found in Murder Mystery.

Large Reward is Offered by Cinema Company.

Arrangements to question Mabel Normand's chauffeur, William Davis, were made late yesterday by investigators at the Sheriff's office, following receipt of information that seems to cast a new light on certain events at the home of William Desmond Taylor, famous cinema director, on the 1st inst., the day of his murder there.

Mr. Davis, in the employ of Miss Normand, drove the motion-picture star to Mr. Taylor's home on the night of the murder. His statements, given to the police detectives and to Dist.-Atty. Woolwine, corroborated Miss Normand's story that she had gone to Taylor's home for a book, and had departed from the scene prior to the murder.

A statement made to investigators yesterday was of such importance that it was determined to summon Mr. Davis to the District Attorney's office today and go over the additional points raised.

The nature of this additional information could not be learned last night. When asked about it, Undersheriff Biscailuz and his deputies declined to make any comment.

REWARD OFFERED.

Impetus was added yesterday to the investigation, which had been lagging during the last few days, when the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation posted a reward of $2500 for the apprehension of the slayer of the motion-picture director. Charles Eyton, manager of the Famous Players-Lasky studios, called at the District Attorney's office during the afternoon and held a forty-five-minute conference with Mr. Woolwine. At the conclusion of this conference, during which Mr. Eyton emphasized the eagerness of the motion-picture profession to assist in the solution of the baffling murder mystery which, it was said, has heaped untold damage upon the film industry, the following statement was issued:

"The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation hereby offers and agrees to pay the sum of $2500 reward to the person or persons furnishing information to the District Attorney of Los Angeles county resulting in the arrest and conviction of the slayer of William Desmond Taylor; that is to say, in the event such information is furnished by more than one person, such reward is to be divided equally among such persons. The total reward in any event is not to exceed $2500.

"Address all communications and submit all information to Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney of Los Angeles county, Los Angeles, Cal."

Cinema Actress Wants Release From Her Husband.

Mrs. Jean Riley Mooney.

MRS. JEAN RILEY MOONEY, cinema actress, again filed suit yesterday for divorce from William F. Mooney, latterly editor of a Hollywood weekly. This time she objects to Mr. Mooney's marrying another woman while she was still his wife, which, according to the complaint, resulted in his arrest on a charge of bigamy to which he peladed guilty. Mr. Mooney's bigamous marriage, as charged, was to Vera De Vocas, Dec. 15, 1921.

Miss Riley and Mr. Mooney were twice married, many times separated and once before she sought divorce. They were married originally April 9, 1921. Then because of legal technicalities they were married again. On June 29 last, Mrs. Mooney began an action for divorce, but soon after they made up. They again separated, and then after receiving a letter from her husband Mrs. Mooney disappeared last August and did not turn up for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Mooney also figured in an automobile accident.

ATTORNEYS ADMITTED.

Department No. 1, District Court of Appeal, yesterday admitted the following attorneys to practice on motion: Leonard Mayberg, Springer H. Moore, Edward W. Bartlett, Nowland M. Reid, Altes M. Campbell, Samuel S. Klein, Lorin Andrews, William J. Leetjesky, Russell H. Pray, James E. Ricketts, Joseph H. Hill and Harry G. Mellon.

Three Dormitories and Two Storehouses Lost; Laundryman is Injured.

Three dormitories and two storehouses of the Page Military Academy at Wilshire Boulevard and Western avenue were burned early last night by fire which originated from an exploding gas heater. The loss was placed at about $15,000 by R. A. Gibbs, president of the academy.

No cadets were in the dormitories at the time the blaze broke out, and but one person, Arthur Grush, a laundryman, suffered from the flames. Mr. Grush was burned seriously on the face and hands when he attempted to extinguish the flames about the heater. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital in the Hollywood police ambulance.

According to Mr. Gibbs, all of the buildings burned were temporary structures. As the academy is outside the city limits the fire, once started, burned unhindered. Fire apparatus from the city responded to telephone calls, but little could be done by the firemen, as there was no water available. At first the blaze was slow in spreading and cadets housed in the dormitories, who were at dinner in the main building, had sufficient time to save their valuables.

Mr. Gibbs stated to the police that the burned buildings were insured for $7500.

INGLEWOOD RECALL ELECTION IS UPHELD.

The suit to enjoin the trustees of the city of Inglewood from proceeding with the election to recall Trustees C. C. Griffin, C. P. Sheddan and C. H. Hurlbert on the ground of irregularities in the petition, was denied by Judge Burnell yesterday. Under this ruling the election to recall the defendants in the suit brought by Jack Morrison, will proceed tomorrow.

MRS. NEUSTADT DENIES DIVORCE

Society Folk Are Given Another Surprise.

Wife's Papers Served on Him, Says Husband.

Mrs. Sally Polk Merritt Announced as Finance.

Robert G. Neustadt, clubman, polo player and reserve officer of the Army, sprung a surprise on Southern California society yesterday when he said he would marry Mrs. Sally Polk Merritt, divorced wife of Hulett C. Merritt, Jr., of Pasadena, as soon as Mrs. Altadena Green Neustadt should obtain the divorce he said she was seeking in New Jersey courts.

The surprise will not be diminished today by the announcement by Mrs. Neustadt, found by The Times correspondent in New York, that she is not seeking a divorce and, in fact, knows of no grounds on which to seek one should she wish one. Mr. Neustadt had said his wife charged cruelty and probably would obtain her decree in June.

Mrs. Neustadt's statement was communicated to Mr. Neustadt last night and in reply he said that last July he was served with papers which he took to mean that his wife had instituted divorce proceedings against him at Woodbury, N. J. Further he said that he has these papers on file in his safe deposit box at a bank.

Mrs. Neustadt's statement follows:

"I am completely amazed and surprised and I cannot believe that Mr. Neustadt has made such a statement. There is no divorce proceeding pending or contemplated so far as I am concerned. I have lived here only since October and am therefore not a legal resident of New York State. My home for many years has been in Pasadena and I am not a resident of the State of New Jersey. The absurdity of the statement that I had brought some kind of action in Woodbury, N. J., may be seen.

"Last summer Mr. Neustadt was very ill for three months in Dr. Armstrong's sanatorium at Katonah, N. Y. When he was able to leave there he came to me at my parents' summer home at Lake Hopatcong and when we closed it in October he came with me to my home here. He remained with me until about two days after Thanksgiving and went to the Coast. How such a story could be started or where it originated is a mystery to me. I know of no grounds on which I could obtain a divorce, if I were so minded, and I cannot think Mr. Neustadt gave any person ground to spread such a statement."

AGREE UPON ADDITIONAL U. S. JUDGE.

Senate Body to Favorably Report Bill Creating New Federal Job Here.

The Senate Judiciary Committee at Washington yesterday agreed to report a bill providing for nineteen additional Federal judges, one of which will be in Southern California, one in Northern California and one in Arizona. This, reported in dispatches from the capital, ends a fight in which Senator Shortridge, backed by officials and others in Los Angeles, prevented the recommendation of a bill that would allow no new judgeship at Los Angeles, where the two United States District courts at present are swamped, with litigation threatening a serious hindrance to business and commerce at this port.

The bill also provides for measures designed to facilitate the handling of Federal court business throughout the country. Senator Shortridge said he believed it would pass the Senate without much delay and go to the President within a few weeks. However, dispatches said members of the Judiciary Committee anticipated considerable objection to the number of judgeships, which had been increased from thirteen because of the demands from various parts of the country. The committee men, however, declared they would stand solidly against any attempt to prune the judgeships.

Members of the committee are convinced particularly of the need for a third district judgeship at Los Angeles because of the community's growth, proximity to the Mexican border and the seaboard.

ARRESTED AS ROBBER.

Victim Finds Suspected Thief in Pershing Square.

Murder is not the only crime that "will out."

A case that was brought to the attention of the local police early last night was testimony to this fact.

Joe Kucera, a nurse by profession and a veteran of the famous Blue Devils of France, bearing, as he said, six decorations, was ambling through Pershing Square when he noticed a young man sitting on a bench. Kucera told the police he recognized the youth as one of three who robbed him of $25, a gold watch given to him by a military officer in France, a gold war ring and his discharge papers from the Blue Devils, after they had beaten him into unconsciousness in a hotel room in San Francisco on the 5th inst. Kucera immediately sought the aid of a uniformed patrolman, and the youth, giving the name of Michael Quartaro, was taken to the City Jail and locked up on suspicion of robbery.

Kucera, bearing the marks on his head where he had been struck by a chair in the robbery, told the police here that he was certain that Quartaro was one of the men who robbed him, as he had befriended the youth in San Francisco several days before the robbery.

TEACHERS' COLLEGE HERE.

University of California to Establish Courses at Southern Branch Giving Bachelor Degrees.

A teachers' college of the University of California is to be established at the southern branch in Los Angeles, it was decided yesterday by the Board of Regents at their February meeting in Millspaugh Hall. The courses for teachers will be reorganized and expanded to form the teachers' college, leading to a bachelors' degree or degrees. The new college will be co-ordinate with the other established colleges of the university, it was stated.

The scope of the new teachers' college is to include training for kindergarten, elementary, junior high school and special junior high school and high school teachers. The four-year course was authorized to begin with the academic year 1922-23, will require additions to the present faculty and will call for an expenditure of approximately $100,000 more per annum by the Southern Branch of the University.

INCREASED FACILITIES.

The Board of Regents also authorized a survey of existing building and educational facilities at the Southern Branch and the preparation of estimates based on this survey to increase the accommodations of the junior college of letters and science so that it will not be necessary to turn away any applicants at the beginning of the next academic year.

The present capacity is 3000 with an attendance of 2700, and it was pointed out at the meeting that reports concerning the inadequacy of the present plant and the number of applicants turned away had been greatly exaggerated.

Following are the new appointments to the teaching force of the university made yesterday:

Instructor, N. W. Mah, political science; lecturers, Katherine Martin, primary education, Southern Branch; Mrs. Ethel D. Watts, tuberculosis; associate, Florence Bookwalter, music, Southern Branch. Assistants, E. D. O'Brien, agricultural extension; Sarah L. Patterson, assistant librarian, Southern Branch; C. G. Potter, medicine; Mrs. Pauline E. Scott, bacteriology, college of dentistry; E. W. Smith, bacteriology, college of dentistry; Mrs. Maud H. Smith, bacteriology, college of dentistry; Louis Soulas, French.

Teaching Fellows—C. L. Barrett, logic; Florence Bathgate, logic; R. L. Carey, economics; G. H. Downing, economics; E. A. Markley, geography; Mrs. Lu Emily Pearson, English; A. Rive, economics; D. Sprong, astronomy.

Specialist—W. R. Schoonover, agricultural extension. Teachers in the university elementary school: Marie E. Kinell, Drucie C. Crase, Helen L. Shaw, Gail H. Moody, Annie L. Raymond and Isabelle H. Stewart.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS.

The first awards of the James Monroe McDonald scholarships in physics, mining, chemistry and civil engineering, respectively, each scholarship providing for a sum of $500 per annum, were made by the Board of Regents yesterday as follows:

In physics, E. H. Schreiber; mining, K. S. Boynton; chemistry, R. S. Livingston, and in civil engineering, R. L. Derby.

ODD FELLOWS WILL BUILD.

Five-Story Structure at Twelfth and Flower Streets Will Cost Lodges Quarter of Million.

Plans for a new home for the six Odd Fellows lodges which comprise the Odd Fellows Hall Association were announced yesterday by F. E. Peterson, secretary of the organization. The new building, the main portion of which will be five stories in height and of class A construction, will be erected on property acquired several years ago, at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Flower streets. It is estimated that the structure will represent a cost of about $250,000.

For several weeks the organization has been conducting a drive among its membership to raise funds for the project, with a result that about a third of the total has been subscribed. At a meeting to be held next Tuesday night, when the six lodges which are members of the association will assemble, full details of the plan will be explained to members, and it it hoped to bring the drive to a successful conclusion.

FRONTAGE ON CORNER.

The site has a frontage of 100 feet on Twelfth street, with 150 feet on Flower street. The north forty feet of the Twelfth street frontage will be improved with a one-story building, while the remainder, 60x150 feet, wil be used for the new lodge building, plans for which are being prepared by Architects Morgan, Walls and Morgan.

According to Mr. Peterson, the structure will be one of the most modern of its kind in the city. The first floor will be designed for stores. The entire second floor will be given over to a large dance hall, so arranged that it can be thrown open to the roof of the adjoining one-story building, making a big outdoor dancing pavilion in warm weather. The third floor will contain a number of small assembly rooms, while the fourth and fifth stories will be devoted to large assembly halls. In addition, the building will contain ladies' rest rooms, parlors, club rooms, banquet hall and social rooms.

FINANCING NEW BUILDING.

Erection of the building will be started when $100,000 has been subscribed, and since nearly three-quarters of this amount has been raised, it is expected that the new building will be under way within a few weeks. It is planned to sell bonds, with a par value of $100 each, and bearing interest at the rat of 6 per cent, to 1000 members of the organization. These bonds will mature in twenty years, but will be callable after five years.

The Odd Fellows Hall has for nearly thirty years been located at Second and Main streets. The Flower street site was purchased by the organization in 1909 from the Hamburger interests, with the purpose of erecting a new home, but actual building plans were deferred until the drive, recently started, and now nearing a successful conclusion, was put under way.

The member lodges of the association, each of which will have an interest in the new building, are the Golden Rule Lodge, the Semi-Tropic Lodge, the Los Angeles Lodge, the America Lodge, the Good Will Lodge and the Orange Grove Encampment.

—and the "Haunt of the Native Son," as Irvin Cobb puts it, was discovered for all time!

—Even at that early date, such superfluities as chin whiskers and bustles, could hardly prevent one from enjoying the "climate," nor from turning rancher and boastfully writing to envious folks "back East" about the prodigious size of the fruits and vegetables that could so easily be produced in local soil.

—Two years previously (1874), the first street car line had begun operations in the city. Rolling stock consisted of two small horse cars, and platforms at either end of a single track with a turn-out at the mid-way point. Picture the attempt to handle present-day Los Angeles crowds in any such fashion!

"After that," said the man,
"It's not the mule's fault"

Blame for injury depends on how much chance the victim had to make himself safe.

"The first time a mule kicks me," said a wise man, "it's the mule's fault. If it happens again, it's my fault."

A good many people are staying within kicking distance of tea or coffee, who have had a chance to know better.

They have learned that tea or coffee at night keeps them awake. They know it whips up the nerves. They know what medical opinion has so often said about the effect of the drug element in tea and coffee upon the nervous system—and how indigestion, headaches, high blood pressure and various ills so often follow the use of tea or coffee.

Knowing this, they fail to keep out of the way. Where does the blame belong, then, when the final break-down comes?

There's safety in Postum, and charm, too. Postum has a full, rich flavor much like that of the better grades of coffee, and it is free from any harmful element whatsoever.

Whether or not you've had your warning from tea or coffee, why not step over on the safe side? Why not do what so many others have done—try Postum for ten days, learn how delightful and satisfying it is—and learn how much improvement there can be for you?

You can get Postum wherever good food and drink are sold or served, and it only takes a word from you to your grocer or restaurant waiter, to make this move to the safe side, at once.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

PREDICTS HEAVY TOURIST RUSH.

Fifty or Sixty Per Cent is Increase Expected.

Secretary of the Northwest Association Here.

Mexico-to-Canada All-Year Road Favored.

An increase of 50 to 60 per cent in tourist travel to Pacific Coast points this season was forecast yesterday by Herbert Cuthbert, executive secretary of the Northwest Tourist Association, who expects to spend the next week here on business for the association.

Mr. Cuthbert stated he was here in the interest of co-operation between California and the Northwest in boosting tourist travel. His association is a semi-public organization, and is supported by appropriations of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

"Tourists should be so routed as to permit them to visit all portions of the Pacific Coast," he said. "The Northwest has many attractions for summer travel, and it is that fact we are trying to advertise in the East."

Mr. Cuthbert urged reciprocity between the two Coast sections.

"There is no reason why the two localities should not trade," he said. "The Californian should come north in summer and people in our section come south. Both would be pleased."

PACIFIC HIGHWAY FAVORED.

He stated his association was taking an active interest in paving the Pacific Highway from Mexico to Canada.

"That is an all-year road," he said, "and should be kept up by the States. It is the longest hard surfaced road in the world, and we expect that by 1923 all of the highways in Oregon and Washington will be paved, and we hope California will be interested in paving the section in this State."

This road, he said, was first traveled by A. E. Todd, former Mayor of Victoria, in 1910, and since that time it has been surfaced and put in such condition that autoists may use every foot the year around.

Mr. Cuthbert based his tourist forecast on reduced rates made by the railroads at solicitation of his association. Reductions of 20 per cent in tourist tickets have been put into effect by the railways, he said, with usual stopover privileges. He also stated the cost of making the round trip from the East via both Los Angeles and Seattle, was not much greater than if only one section of the Coast was visited.

FIVE BIG CONVENTIONS.

"The five big conventions to be held this year on the Coast should greatly increase tourist travel," he said. "California will have the Realtors, Shriners and the Rotary clubs. The Northwest will have two large church meetings. Last year 450,000 autoists registered at bureaus in Oregon and Washington," he continued. "Probably only one in four registered, and with that figure as a basis, it is easy to anticipate several million visitors this season. Most of those who visit the Northwest also come to California, and we are trying to make that feature true of those who visit California first."

Mr. Cuthbert planned to attend the next meeting of the commercial club secretaries, and try to interest them in his work. He said Julius Meier, president of the Oregon World's Fair, to be held in 1925, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow for a two days' stay in the interest of the exposition.

GRILLING OF WOMAN SLAYER CONCLUDED.

MRS. JOHNSTONE DECLARES HUSBAND SHE KILLED RAN GAMBLING GAME.

The vigorous cross-examination of Mrs. Julia Johnstone, charged with slaying her husband, T. P. Johnstone, on the night of July 7, last, was concluded yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill. Mrs. Johnstone was still stolid under the cross-fire of questions. She declared that in Globe, Ariz., Mr. Johnstone slapped her so many times she could not remember the number.

She also stated that her husband was running a gambling game and intended to start a dice game in the basement of their home. He was already bootlegging, she testified. These and other acts and the fear that he would kill her, were the inducing motives for taking a revolver from the house and at his machine pulling the trigger when he started to get his automatic out of a side pocket. She heard the explosion of her gun and became dazed, she said.

Dr. Weber, insanity expert, will be questioned by the prosecution today and will testify, it is said, that Mrs. Johnstone is sane. Attorneys Leonard Wilson and Capt. W. T. Helms, defense counsel, assert she was insane at the time of the slaying.

A dramatic incident of the trial was when Mr. Hill tendered the revolver used in the slaying to Mrs. Johnstone. She declared: "I won't take it."

OLD EMPLOYEE DIES.

John Davis Worked Twenty-nine Years for County.

John Davis, one of the organizers of Bartlett-Logan Post, G.A.R., and for twenty-nine years an employee of the county, died at the home of his grand-daughter, Mrs. Andrew Joughin, 2320 West Twenty-fifth street, yesterday. Mr. Davis was born in New York State Jan. 1, 1836. He enlisted in August, 1862, in the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth New Jersey Volunteers and was twice wounded. He rose to the rank of quartermaster sergeant.

At the time of his death Mr. Davis was custodian of personal property at the Hall of Records. In point of time he was perhaps one of the oldest employees in the service of the county and one of the oldest members of the Los Angeles County Employees' Association.

SAYS SHE FELL FOR HIS VERSES.

Policeman "Poet Laureate" Wooed Her in Rhyme, Woman Charges.

Cyrus C. Johnson is the "poet laureate" of the police department and, according to Mrs. Mynnie Bremner of 108 North Grand avenue, who says that she also writes poetry, the policeman won her love with poetry and "sweet words and winning ways." The policeman-poet, says Mrs. Bremner in charges laid before the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday, "acted as though he was madly in love" with her and then, she says, "as she was feeling blue," she "fell for" the policeman-poet's lovemaking. Then, she declares in her deposition and letter filed with the police department, she discovered that he was married, and she asked that he be dismissed from the police department.

The police board will officially act on the matter at next week's meeting.

EXTORTION CHARGED TO MAN, WIFE.

Couple Admit Attempt to "Make Easy Money," Say Detectives.

Police yesterday continued to investigate the case of C. C. Minter and his wife, Ethel Minter, arrested late Monday afternoon and charged with suspicion of attempted blackmail. The Minters, the police say, attempted to extort $5000 from Mrs. Atkins, 60 years of age, of Burbank. They are both held in the City Jail.

Minter, who at first gave his name as Johnson, was arrested with his wife by Police Detective Sergt. Allen at a hotel in Burbank, where Mrs. Atkins was registered. At first the couple refused to make any statement to the police but later are said to have made a full confession.

According to Detectives Shy and Allen, who questioned the couple, and from the story told the police by friends of Mrs. Atkins, who brought about the arrest it appears that Minter was at one time employed by Mrs. Atkins. While working for her he drove her automobile on a long trip.

Monday afternoon, the police say, Mrs. Minter with a page from a register taken from a hotel in Barstow called upon Mrs. Atkins and demanded $5000 in cash. She declared the register showed that Mrs. Atkins and her husband were registered in the same room in the Barstow hotel. A picture of a scene declared to have been taken in the same hotel room was also in the possession of Mrs. Minter.

Mrs. Minter was then arrested with her husband. At Central Police Station, it is said, the two declared to the police that they were attempting to make "a little easy money."

EARL ESTATE YIELDS QUARTER MILLION TAX

LATE PUBLISHER'S FORTUNE APPROXIMATES FIVE MILLION.

One of the largest inheritance tax assessments of record from Los Angeles county was reported to the office of State Controller Riley yesterday when final papers in the estate of the late Edwin T. Earl were filed. The State will collect a sum slightly in excess of $250,000 upon the fortune, which approximates $5,000,000. Of this amount the largest single item inventoried is stocks and bonds, in which $2,841,602.33, it is set forth in the report, is invested. Realty holdings are given at $932,445; leaseholds at $815,020; the value of the Los Angeles Express, of which Mr. Earl was editor and publisher at the time of death, Jan. 2, 1919, is estimated at $600,000.

The will, which is holographic, is dated Aug. 24, 1908. A brother, Guy C. Earl, is bequeathed $100,000 and to each of the latter's four children is given $5000. Mr. Earl's secretary, E. R. W. Frost, inherits $10,000 and an equal sum is left to the Children's Hospital. The residue of the estate, aside from three minor bequests, is devised to the widow, who has since re-married and is now Mrs. Eric T. Fowler, and to the four minor children of the couple, Jarvis, Edwin, Emily and Chaffee Earl.

DIFFERENCES SETTLED.

Girls Hook Arms and Leave Court; Charge is Forgery.

Jessie Thompson, an employee of the County Auditor's office, and Harriet Curry, whose name Miss Thompson is accused of forging in a local department store, hooked arms yesterday in Justice Forbes's court and left the place together. Miss Thompson had been held to answer and had given bail of $500.

Testimony adduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts indicated that the name of Harriet Curry was forged to two order slips for $39.75 and $97.50, respectively, and that the dresses, said to have been purchased by the defendant, were charged to Harriet Curry.

ARIZONA FOLK CELEBRATE.

Celebrating the admission of Arizona to Statehood ten years ago, the Los Angeles Arizona Society gave a birthday party in the Ebell clubhouse last night. Charles A. Montgomery, president of the society, who has just returned from a trip to Mexico, spoke of his visit. The reception was followed by a program of music and dancing.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Feel Stiff and Achy After Every Cold?

Do You Have Constant Backache? Feel Old and Lame and Suffer Sharp, Rheumatic Pains? Then Look to Your Kidneys!

DOES every cold, chill or attack of grip leave you worn-out and utterly miserable? Do you feel old and lame, stiff and rheumatic? Does your back ache with a dull, unceasing throb, until it seems you just can't stand it any longer?

Then look to your kidneys! Grip, colds and chills are mighty hard on the kidneys. They fill the blood with poisons and impurities that the kidneys must filter off. The kidneys weaken under this rush of new work; become congested and inflamed.

It's little wonder, then, that every cold leaves you with torturing backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities.

But don't worry! Simply realize that your kidneys are overworked at such times and need assistance. Get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Assist them, also, by drinking pure water freely, eating lightly and getting plenty of fresh air and rest. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor.

"Use Doan's," Say These Los Angeles Folks:

Abraham Wood, retired, 1640 East Thirty-third St., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a reliable remedy, for they have done me lots of good. My kidneys troubled me a great deal. I often had dull backaches and soreness in my kidneys. The passage of the secretions was scanty and irregular. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They helped me wonderfully by strengthening my back and regulating my kidneys."

Mrs. W. W. Wills, [illegible] says: "I have had kidney trouble more or less for some time and if I overworked or took cold my back ached as if it would break. I could hardly keep going to do my housework. My kidneys acted irregularly and annoyed me. Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to relieve the attacks and rid me of the trouble. I cannot say too much for Doan's. I know one can depend on them."

NOT SO WORSE.

Terra Bella may sound terrible, but its other name is beauty spot. Don't believe all you hear.

THE KING BUSINESS.

The King of Siam is said to have a bodyguard composed of some eighty or more of the court beauties. There seem to be a few compensations left to make up for the hazard of being a king.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Senator Pat Harrison seeks to justify another verbal outbreak because of the appointment of the postmaster at Marion, O. What is the use of a man being President of the United States if he is not to have the right to name the postmaster in his old home town?

THE RED MAN.

The Indians on the Seneca reservation are reported as learning jazz steps and playing the saxophone. At that rate they will soon be spreading out. No Indian can stay on the reservation when a jazz band is playing the "Alcoholic Blues." The wild man will yet go wild.

THE SELF STARTER.

The introduction of the self-playing cornet should fill a long-felt want. All that is necessary is to slip in a roll of music and then blow the instrument. As long as the breath holds out the playing of any cornet solo is made quite easy. The results should be better than when the performer had to furnish his own inspiration.

ROGUE'S LABOR LOST.

Bandits in Pasadena held up a street car and several pedestrians the other evening and the total proceeds amounted to less than $3. This must have been quite a jolt to the highwaymen. They used to think that a Pasadena man never carried less than a million dollars. Have the pikers broken into the town?

CARRYING THE TRAFFIC.

New York is about to contract for a new type of double-decked covered busses for the Fifth avenue trade that will seat fifty-two persons. This would seem to be a substitute for the trolley car, all right. With motor busses of this magnitude many problems of transportation might be soothed. A street car is not missed when a flock of vans capable of bearing half a hundred souls are gliding down the highway.

IN LARGE CHECKS.

Henry Ford gave his check for $8,000,000 the other day in connection with the purchase of another industrial plant. Any man can write an $8,000,000 check, but to get it cashed at the bank is another matter. That is where Henry's efforts count. He must have been reading the report from the merchant tailors' convention that large checks were going to be fashionable this season.

WILL ANTS ANSWER?

On his 75th birthday Thomas A. Edison is quoted as saying, among other things, that we will soon be able to hear ants talk. That will be fine. When we get so we can pick up an insectophone and listen to a column of ants cheering for Uncle Sam we will realize that the world has made some progress since Davy Crockett shot his first coon. The conversation of a flock of ants might be a great improvement over some of the chatter we hear in the barber shop.

THE DOG STAR.

Speaking of salaries in the films, there is at least one dog that draws down his little old $1000 every month. For being able to find the right pair of boots or chase a bum actor up a tree he gets more money than a United States Senator. At that, a lot of people who have seen him perform feel that he earns more of his dough than do some of the Senators. He goes about his work with a grim emphasis that is convincing. Being a dog star is a Sirius matter.

MANY TONGUES.

An American diplomat who frequently met the present Pope Pius XI when he was stationed in Poland declares that the great prince of the church is a fine linguist. Besides the Latin and Greek essential to his office he converses fluently in Italian, French, Spanish, German and Portuguese. Also he speaks English and Polish fairly well and can understand most of the dialects of Central Europe. He has as good a working knowledge of the world and its peoples as any man who has occupied the papal throne.

THE UNMASKING.

Although they have been relieved from the necessity of wearing veils, the Turkish women are already weary of their freedom and are returning to their gossamer wrappings. They have found that a Turkish lady is far more alluring with a veil than without one. It hints of delicious possibilities that are discounted by actual disclosure. Just as at Venice the vast array of bare limbs is forgotten when some girl goes by with a long skirt. Nobody wanted to flirt with the Turkish maidens when they ran around unmuzzled, but when they are masked in chiffon, with only an occasional gleam of dark eyes to be seen, they are mighty attractive.

At a costume ball most of the romances are spoiled when the hour comes to unmask. Girls are charming for what they hide; not so much for what they reveal.

BETTER AMERICANS.

When Congress, responding to a public demand, passed a restrictive immigration act it was with the understanding that the people of the country as a whole would devote themselves to an endeavor to teach the foreigners within the country American standards of citizenship, to reduce illiteracy to a minimum and to make of our people as a whole "better Americans."

But it is one thing to make good resolutions and another to put them into effect. There are many who believed that the foundations of Americanism were weakening and that they should be reinforced. Sporadic outbursts of violence and attempts at incipient revolution were awakening unrest.

A government in any form exists only so long as the conditions under which it was constituted continue to exist. For a generation there had been a relaxation of vigilance; we were concerned too deeply with individual progress and not enough about collective progress. The World War aroused patriotic Americans from their lethargy and a movement was inaugurated having for its end to make us collectively better Americans.

Under a republic there can be no distinction between the people and the government. They are one and indivisible. If the individual standards are lowered the collective standard will fall. Our government is an electric generator in which every individual is a kilowatt. When we speak of better Americans we do not mean that one person should go about saying to each of his neighbors "I am a better American than you." Such an assumption of superior virtue would be pharisaical. We mean that he should say, "Let us take counsel together, that we may all become better Americans."

Associations have been formed in different parts of the country for the purpose of making such counsel effective, in which men meet and discuss the fundamental problems of self-government and seek to arrive at a better understanding of what constitutes a good American. They have found two things absolutely essential: that the people shall elect representatives with the capacity and the courage to draft and enact good laws and that the energies of government and people alike shall be exercised to their fullest extent to compel a strict observance of the laws. They proceed from the premise that good Americans will not violate the written law; others shall not, without paying the penalty for their delinquency.

In an address delivered by Lincoln in 1837, twenty-three years before he was a candidate for the Presidency, he said:

> There is even now something of ill omen among us. I mean the increasing disregard for law which pervades the country, the disposition to substitute wild and furious passions in lieu of the sober judgment of the courts, and worse than savage mobs for the executive ministers of justice.

The young barrister sensed at that time the causes that led later to the war among the States. He was beginning his great struggle for equal justice and unswerving obedience to the law that ended in security for his country and martyrdom for himself. Who believes that, had he then known the struggle would lead to the bullet of the assassin, he would have hesitated or turned back? The courage of Lincoln soared high above considerations of self. He chose the path which good Americans will not hesitate to follow.

Better Americans are those who are willing to sacrifice the personal to the public good; who do not permit the part to become greater than the whole; who accept the will of the majority, although it may not agree with their individual opinions and may infringe upon what they had hitherto considered their personal rights. No man who refuses to obey a law because he was opposed to its enactment is a good American.

Better Americans are those who are willing to make personal sacrifices for the public good, who are willing to devote a portion of their time and energies to raising the collective standard of Americanism, who place observance of the law as the first of civic virtues.

If all sections of the United States had been willing to abide by the lawful disposition of the slavery question there would have been no Civil War. It was because certain groups refused to accept the decision of the majority that the country was plunged into one of the most bitter struggles in history. If similar causes are again permitted to originate, if certain groups who refuse to obey laws that are distasteful to them are to be tolerated the end will certainly be another struggle as deplorable as that which began in 1861.

Had the country listened to the words of Lincoln and others who were counselling respect for and adherence to the law in the period between 1840 and 1860 the question of slavery could have been solved without bloodshed. And if the country as a whole will lend its aid to the present better-American movement there will be no menace of violent conflicts for the future.

The Times has repeatedly asserted that the strict observance of the Eighteenth Amendment is just as morally binding upon every good American as the observance of the inhibition against slavery or the equal suffrage amendment. We shall be collectively better Americans when bootlegging ceases to be a profitable industry because the people themselves will not purchase contraband liquor; when strikes of violence shall cease because the workmen themselves refuse to commit an act of violence contrary to law; when there will be no more sporadic outbreaks of revolution because the people will refuse to follow the counsel of agitators and demagogues; when the cost of government will be reduced to the lowest point compatible with efficient administration because the people elect representatives who put the public welfare before that of political rings and selfish private interests.

We shall be better Americans when we all endeavor, individually and collectively, to observe the letter and the spirit of the written law, irrespective of personal opinions or prejudices. No man who refuses to make a personal sacrifice for the public good can justly be considered a good American.

AMONG GHOULS.

If William Randolph Hearst's friends knew in advance that the Lusitania would be sunk on the trip she was about to make it is probable that William himself was equally well informed. He might have saved the world a lot had he used the information wisely.

MORE GERMAN STRATEGY.

Germany's professed inability to make the reparation payments stipulated in the Treaty of Versailles has naturally attracted the attention of the outside world to industrial and economic conditions inside the German republic. The German government is deeply in debt and its currency is almost worthless. But there seems to be a marked difference between the condition of the government and that of the people.

If the American government were to collect in taxes for the next ten years only about one-fifth the cost of administration and were to issue paper currency to cover the deficit it would be in a situation somewhat analogous to that of the German government at the present time. The people would be no poorer, in fact, the average taxpayer would be money ahead; but the government would be unable to meet its obligations in cases where it could not force the acceptance of its paper currency.

What are private interests doing in Germany while the government is in such desperate financial straits, a government that cannot meet its foreign obligations because it will not tax its people heavily enough?

Industrial Germany seems to be bearing up fairly well. There is money for opening new markets in foreign countries and regaining its foreign trade. There is money to keep its great industrial plants running and to flood other countries with German goods. But there is no money available to pay Germany's debts. Its government officials assert that if they attempted to levy a higher taxation the people would rise in rebellion, that Germany would turn red. Stable government can be maintained only on condition that the people are not compelled to pay for the property destroyed by the German army and navy during the war.

So devious are the ways of the German strategists that they must not be surprised if some of Germany's suspicious creditors insist on looking at her cards. A people who have millions in gold for private investment but nothing with which to pay the public debt are assuming a position that smacks of the arrogant. "Millions for investment, but not a dollar for payment of just debts" is a slogan that will not awaken enthusiasm among creditors.

At the very moment when the German government is making a parade of its poverty a colossal consortium is being organized by German capitalists to exploit Russia. As explained in the German press, it has for its intent converting Russia, industrially and economically, into a German colony. It is proposed to cover the former empire of the Czars with an intricate system of German organizations, staffed by thousands of Teutons, under the guise of "the economic reconstruction of Russia."

Here are a few things that K. J. Muller, German capitalist and one of the directors of the trust, had to say about it recently in Ruhl, a German publication:

> Our organization comprises the banking world, industry, science and technical experience, supported by the leading German trade-union organizations. Among the members of our trust are prominent representatives of German industrial capital. . . . Our trust is divided into three groups, a group for intellectual and cultural relations with the Russian people, a labor group and a banking, industrial and trade group. . . . At a congress convoked by the third group in Berlin on Oct. 18, 1921, eighteen representatives of Germany's heavy industry from different parts of Germany were present and arrived at the unanimous decision to form the above-named trust. . . .
> Our first task will be to reconstruct and revive railway communications in Russia and organize motor transport on a gigantic scale. At present we are in negotiation with the American firm of "Morgan" regarding the establishment of an American-German fund for the purposes of our consortium, amounting to $250,000,000.

This is but one of the industrial activities of the German banking and trade groups. Contrast it with the bankrupt condition of the German Federal treasury and one gets a clearer understanding of the spirit in which the German people are keeping the pledges made in the Treaty of Versailles.

At the time when the French and the Belgians are denying themselves the barest necessities of life in order to rebuild the industries destroyed by German arms the German capitalists are going ahead with their ambitious plans for exploiting Russia.

And the Russian people have been so enfeebled and impoverished by Communism that they must accept this aid from their late enemies. Russian capital has been dissipated and the men who once managed her great industrial enterprises are fugitives or dead. The Russians must submit to an exploitation vastly worse than that of any period under the Czars. Russia's extremity is Germany's opportunity. But it is not surprising that the French and Belgians are asking why the millions that are available for Russian exploitation cannot be made available for the payment of Germany's debts. For it must be remembered that the government of Germany is the people of Germany and that making that government a pauper when so many of the people are well to do is only camouflage. A people cannot be rich and poor at the same time.

It is the devious practice on the part of the Germans that enrages the French and causes them to make demands on Germany which, in some cases, are themselves unreasonable. When the Germans go to one extreme they drive the French to the other, with the result that the European situation becomes more deeply involved in place of clearing. It is perhaps true that the Germans must be permitted to make money before they can pay money; but the difference between their public purse and private purse is too marked to pass unnoticed.

PISTOLS AND BEER.

The Cook county grand jury would remodel the country on Chicago lines. This body of inquisitors recommends some radical changes in State and Federal legislation and files a special report of a dozen or more typewritten pages covering some of its views. Among other things it demands that the sale of pistols be forbidden, but that the Volstead Act be amended so that beer and wines would be permitted. From their standpoint, if the country had more beer and less guns there would be less crime and the lives of the citizens would last longer. While we are about it, why not have a constitutional amendment forbidding the manufacture or sale of pistols carrying more than half of 1 per cent of lead? It might lengthen the days of some of the nation's worthy citizens.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

VITAMINES.

Another great and helpful fad enchains the sons of men; eat cockleburs if you feel bad and you'll be well again. For burs are full of vitamines—whatever they may be—and from all symptoms and all signs of ill they'll set you free. Cooked victuals are the stuff, it's clear, that sends us to the tomb, that fits us for the shroud and bier, while in our youthful bloom. Roast beef is but a deadly snare and pies are like a gin; shun the accustomed bill of fare, for death's concealed therein. Raw grub is full of vitamines and that's why cattle grow and why the horses hump their spines, kick up their heels and go. Most men are languid, needing spurs to keep them at their toil, but when they've eaten cockleburs they fairly paw the soil. I fed my aunt some cockleburs to see what she would do; there never was such smoke as hers as round the house she flew. I wonder that our fathers stayed on this old earth so long, for all their customs were decayed and all their theories wrong. They never heard of vitamines and yet, wrong-headed men, they never would take in their signs until three score years and ten.

WALT MASON.

NOT AT ALL NICE.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

And now it is Mr. Alfred Noyes's turn. Alfred Noyes, the poet who sang to us so poignantly of Lilac Time, the poet with the charm of the lilt and the musical cadence, so easy to read, so easy to feel.

But he, too, has gone in for "realism," just as though there were not plenty and enough horrid realists without him. And, like Elinor Glyn, he has succumbed to the literary lure of "society beasts." He calls one of his perpetrations "A Victory Dance"—and it positively smells of perspiration.

> "Fat, wet bodies
> Go waddling by,
> Girdled with satin,
> Though God knows why;
> Gripped by satyrs
> In white and black,
> With a fat, wet hand
> On a fat, wet back.
> See, there is one child,
> Fresh from school,
> Learning the ropes
> As the old hands rule.
> Gods, how the dead men
> Chuckle again,
> As she begs for a dose
> Of the best cocaine."

We can stand this sort of thing so much better from any but the Alfred Noyeses among our poets. It came quaintly from Elinor Glyn for very different reasons. But coming from Alfred, it positively hurts. It hurts just as much as it hurt Alfred to see that child fresh from school learning the ropes as the old hands rule.

For Alfred was to modern poetry what the sweet, refined, old-fashioned girl is to society—refreshing, inspiring, pleasantly unsophisticated and rare. And when she starts rouging and showing her back and drinking cocktails and making risque remarks, "doing as the others do," it doesn't suit her, and while we find her genuinely sophisticated sister, reared on rouge and cigarettes, entertaining enough, we have nothing but deprecation for the reckless novice.

But evidently Alfred Noyes felt he had to be in the vogue—and that, when it came to realism, he could go as far as the farthest. But he chirps his ostentatious naughtiness in the same old, easy lilt, the same girlish voice. How dare he even notice fat, wet backs and fat, wet hands? He, who should see only Kew in lilac time and take us by the hand for a saunter through its charms. But instead he has taken us to a night club, jerked us into a life that so many know so much better than he. He belongs out in the sunshine or the moonlight—"ribbon of road in the moonlight"—what is he doing in that jazzy atmosphere inside the murky casino?

Can it be that he was neglected out there in the sun-laden gardens? Can it be that, like our unsophisticated, old-fashioned girl, he saw himself left scorned upon the shelf if he did not "do as others do"? Is it our fault that Alfred has started seeing the grips of satyrs in black and white rather than the dashing, adoring highwaymen who were such inspiring lovers that beautiful and courageous maidens died gloriously for their sake? If so, we have failed him indeed. And now he is failing us.

Go back to Kew in lilac time, dear Alfred, go ride your ribbons of road in the moonlight. Take us away from those fat, wet backs girdled in satin, though God knows why. Away with your Victory Dances—child, child, go wash your face and let us see again the fair complexion God gave you.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM.

BY HERMAN J. STICH.

Is Your Name Smithers?

There is a story about a chap named Smithers who thought he could climb in the world of business by doing just what he was paid to do and not one mite more.

Now, Smithers was a consistent sort of chap, and this idea of "get before you give" had become a habit with him.

One Sunday he went down cellar to feed the furnace.

For some reason or other, or maybe for no reason at all, the furnace was a little obstreperous.

Smithers decided to dicker with it, just as he was wont to dicker with the boss.

So he opened the door, got a shovel of coal and said to the furnace:

"Now, you give me some heat, then I'll give you this coal."

Hours afterwards Smithers was found by friend wife, his teeth chattering, his body shivering, almost frozen to death.

And this was because Smithers had not yet begun to realize that the first law of man and of nature is that you must give before you can get.

If we want a harvest we must first plant seeds; if we want more money we must first give a heaping measure of service for our present weekly pink slip.

Do you want a raise?

This may sound like a foolish question, but how are you trying to get it?

If you think things over a bit you'll probably find that your name is Smithers—and it isn't and can't be done that way.

It is trite, but right, that we get more only by doing more and being more than we are paid for.

There are no crop failures in the field of service.

In the final analysis your boss does not determine your salary.

Who does?

YOU do.

It is announced that Mexico's financial affairs will be settled by the latter part of the week. Personally, we should like to know how President Obregon manages it.

FACE HEAVY EXPENSE.

"The development of our harbor means the expenditure of between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000 within the next fifteen years and the municipality must find a means of getting the funds."

Ross Welch, advertising manager of the J. W. Robinson Company, chairman of the meeting yesterday, introduced Ferris R. Miller, who spoke on "How the Better Business Bureau Serves the Public." Mr. Miller stated that in the last four years the bureau has handled many complaints made by citizens who had been given "bad deals" by merchants who were none too scrupulous in their manner of advertising. The dishonest advertiser is gradually being weeded out, declared the speaker.

Ray Nimmo, attorney for the Better Business Bureau, stated that one of the chief values of the bureau is the insurance of good values to legitimate advertisers.

"There is no monument so imperishable as a great commercial institution founded upon integrity," said Mr. Nimmo. "It is mighty good to know that when you enter a store you are certain to be treated with courtesy and fairness. I am glad to state that the city, county and Federal officials are heartily co-operating with the bureau in its efforts to weed out the few dishonest advertisers to be found in Los Angeles."

ARTISTS TO AID BENEFIT.

Running the gauntlet from grand opera stars to a negro quartet from "way down south in Alabama," the program arranged for the Big Brothers' show to be held in the Philharmonic Auditorium Friday evening will bring together the greatest galaxy of artists ever to appear at a benefit performance in Southern California, say sponsors of the entertainment. Although the program is not yet complete it read like a roster of "who's who" in the operatic and theatrical world.

The money derived from the performance will be used to aid deserving boys and girls, regardless of sect, who may be in need of temporary financial assistance.

Sid Grauman is personally arranging and directing the program and providing the artists for the occasion without cost to the Big Brothers.

Many of California's most representative citizens are expected to attend the affair.

Although the program is not yet complete, a suggestion of what will be presented follows:

PART ONE.

Labonte Quartet—Visions of grand opera.
Jeanette Rogers—Flutist.
Bilbrew Quartet—From way down south in Alabama.
Madam Laraia—Harpist supreme.
Miss Adele Marcus—A genius at the piano.
Rene Henery—Late of the Boston Symphony.
K. of C. Choral Society—Fifty voices led by Thomas Taylor Drill.
Dan Cervo—Italy's master accordionist.
Denishawn Javanese Masque Dancers—A spectacular ballet of the masques.
Chester Morton—The silver-voiced Irish tenor.
Griffith Twins—Spectacular lightning change presentation.
Bobby Lehman—A novelty surprise.
Marjorie O'Neill—Stories of the "Ould Sod."
Surprise Number—The artist destined to succeed Caruso.
Woodland Whistling Quartet — California's sweetest whistlers.
A Night With a Doll Maker—Presenting twenty beautiful living dolls.

PART TWO.

SID GRAUMAN'S AUGMENTED SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, 100 PIECES. Mischa Guterson, conductor.

The following soloists will assist the orchestra: Labonte, tenor; Colonius, trumpet soloist; Miss Pauline Druske, soloist; Mme. Sprotte, contralto; William F. Meyers, basso-profundo; Roy Smoot, singing Caruso's famous "Pagliacci."

ONE DOLLAR AWARDED IN LOVE THEFT

Jurors Return Verdict for Small Sum in Fifty-Thousand-Dollar Action.

Mrs. Beatrice Lau may have stolen the love of Charles F. Simpson, but it was not worth much, according to the verdict returned last evening by a jury in Judge McCormick's court when Mrs. Mary E. Simpson, wife of Simpson, was awarded $1 damages. Mrs. Simpson was suing for $50,000 because, she charged, Mrs. Lau stole her husband's effections. But the jury could see only a dollar's worth of damage done. The award was for compensatory, not punitive, damages.

According to the suit, Mr. Simpson and Mrs. Lau were business partners in "The Frolic," a concession on the Ocean Park pier. During the carnival season in the winter the two traveled from town to town with their amusement; but this, they both stated, they did only as business partners. Mrs. Simpson, however, thought differently.

Throughout the hearing it has been the contention of Arthur C. Webb, defense counsel, that there was no love to steal and therefore, no case. He introduced testimony to show that Mr. and Mrs. Simpson quarreled every day. But Mrs. Catherine McKenna, attorney for Mrs. Simpson, came right back with evidence to show that while they quarreled, it was over the attention and devotion paid Mrs. Lau by Mr. Simpson.

BURBANK RESIDENTS PROTEST SEWER FARM

BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSIONERS OPPOSES ESTABLISHMENT.

Residents and property owners from Burbank appeared before the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday afternoon and asked and received a promise of the board's co-operation in preventing the establishment of a sewer farm by the City of Burbank near their homes.

The speakers stated that the sewer farm was adjacent to the Los Angeles River and would menace the Los Angeles water supply. Property owners of Glendale have also protested to the board on the same ground against the establishment of a sewer farm in that city and Chief Engineer Mulholland of the water department is preparing a report to the board on both matters. The speakers yesterday declared that the city officials of Burbank had ignored their protests.

At yesterday's meeting of the board, President Del Valle called attention to the fact that Monday marked the twentieth anniversary of the creation by the city of a Board of Water Commissioners, the functions of which are now carried on by the Board of Public Service Commissioners.

Mother Clasps Child and is Shot to Death.

How Roy Grove is said to have returned his baby to his wife, Mrs. Lillian Grove, and then shot her, was brought out in testimony yesterday in Justice Forbes's court by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts. The mother, it was stated by witnesses, died in the presence of the baby. Grove shot himself and hovered between life and death for some time. He is accused of the murder of his wife.

Testimony indicated that the baby was taken from the mother by the husband while two men held Mrs. Grove and that Grove, the defendant, later returned the baby on January 9, and then shot his wife and himself. The case was continued until today.

MAYOR SIGNS BONDS.

Resumes Work on Power Issue After Clearing Tangle.

So that the city may be in a position to deliver the $13,500,000 of electric power bonds on or before the 27th inst. to the First Securities Company Syndicate, Mayor Cryer yesterday once more took up the task of signing the securities, and City Clerk Dominguez began the work of attaching the city's seal to them. The Mayor had signed 6500 of the 13,500 bonds when he was stopped by a tangle which arose over the interest and payment charges on the bonds. The First Securities Company syndicate has now agreed to accept the bonds as printed. The only obstacle which will prevent or delay the city's turning over the bonds to the purchasers on or before the 27th inst. is the suit of C. B. Minter now pending in the Superior Court, attacking the validity of the issue.

READING CHARACTER FROM HANDWRITING.

BY DR. JAMES M. HEADY.

Caution, Coarseness, Concentration and Other Traits Revealed.

When the writing shows evidence of having been written with deliberation, with the "o" entirely round, a graceful curve to all of the letters, the "t" well crossed in the center of the stem, and the entire writing indicates deliberate movements on the part of the writer, calmness of nature and disposition is easily predicated.

Caution is revealed by the signs of commas and the addition of superfluous use of dashes after words in the place of punctuation. It would be a difficult task to catch unawares an individal who makes frequent use of this sign.

COARSENESS.

Coarseness of nature implies and is evidenced by coarseness of taste and manner, a lack of refinement and sensitiveness, as well as many other salient characteristics. It is, of course, only a relative word, and by no means a term of reproach, but it is a well defined indication that the individual in question is not refined to the extent that he is able to appreciate and consider the feelings of others, or to enjoy and count worth while, things that seem all-important to those whose natures are different.

Just as coarse clothing, flashy jewelry, and a love of display, heralds the coarse individual, so his thick, blurred writing, in its general appearance shows a lack of harmony, want of culture and unconventionality of mind. This writing is, as a rule, illegible, giving one the impression that the writer did not seem to care whether the person who received it would be able to read it or not. As a rule the writing abounds in flourishes and adornments that are crudely and poorly made, and is always heavy, but not always black because many coarse people have a penchant for inks of a variety of colors, chiefly green, purple and red.

Charity is indicated by smooth, even writing, with well-balanced curves, long strokes, and well-rounded letters, in which the finals are usually expressed by a distinctive curve. There is a wide spacing between each letter, and the letters themselves are joined together by a curve, rather than a straight line. In the signatures of those whose charity is well known, we are struck with the afct that there is a liaison between the capitals and the next letter, and also between the initials of the name when the abbreviation is used.

MUST

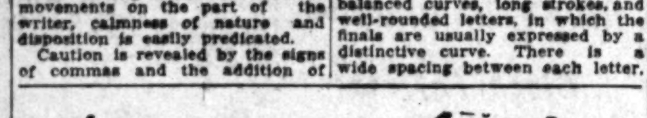
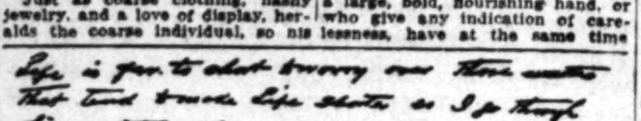
Concentration reveals itself by small, even writing, which indicates that the writer observes minutely the details of human character and events, and to do this requires the power of concentration. Shakespeare, and many other writers possessed the power of concentration and observation that was largely responsible for their greatness. Few people who write a large, bold, flourishing hand, or who give any indication of carelessness, have at the same time the ability to concentrate.

In the majority of cases, there is but little of adornment in the handwriting of one who evidences concentration. It is, however, a handwriting that is legible and suggests withal an artistic creativeness.



"Character qualities" do you recommend?

COARSENESS



Life is far to short worry over those matters that tend to make life shorter as I go through life with a laugh—n enjoy it

CONCENTRATION

The number of letters addressed to Dr. Heady asking for individual character analyses has become so large that The Times has arranged with him to make such analyses for those sending in a three-months' subscription to The Times. This may be either a new subscription or the renewal of an old one. Send name, address and subscription, paid in advance, with your request for an individual character analysis and a blank will be sent you to fill out. ENDS ELECTION SUIT.

District Court Drops Council Case From Bakersfield.

Department No. 1, District Court of Appeal, yesterday ordered a dismissal of the action brought by W. S. Renfro against C. A. Hare, on appeal from Kern county Superior Court, involving a contested election for the office of Councilman from the Fourth Ward in Bakersfield.

It appears that since the case was submitted there has been an election in Bakersfield, in which Mr. Renfro was recalled, and Mr. Hare elected as his successor, so there was nothing left for the court to pass on, except to fix the costs of the appeal.

POT CALLING KETTLE BLACK.

[Editorial from the Salt Lake Telegram of the 11th inst.]

With each succeeding day producing new gossip concerning life in California's film colony, it is to be hoped that the Taylor murder mystery, which has baffled the Coast police for a week, will be solved. The speculation and gossip which go with the effort to solve the mystery is bad for California and the motion-picture industry for the reason that it is general and not confined to the specific issues of the case.

A solution of the mystery is necessary to clear the air and to separate the true from the false. Unfortunately the whole motion-picture colony is under investigation for something which concerns only a few members of the profession. The East has raised its voices in shocked tones in an effort to move the industry from California to New York, as if a mere shifting of location could change the prevailing morals.

And when it comes to morals are we to judge the entire profession by the individual acts of the few? We know that the industry includes big men and pure women and we do not think we are far wrong when we say that the greater part of the colony is comprised of these people. Even if they were not, we could hardly change the morals by moving the industry eastward. Moral cleansings must come from within and a complete change would necessitate beginning all over again.

Still we do not admit that the morals of the film people are worse than those in other walks of life. In the case at issue we have heard brokers and business men mentioned, but no long-haired reformer has risen to cry out for a moral cleansing of the business world. The fact of the matter is that questionable morals creep into every walk of life. They seldom prevail, as a general rule, but isolated cases of immorality may be attached to every art and every profession known to our people.

Film stars are essentially public idols. They are constantly before the gaze of the people. They are known by name and face to more people than any other class. For this reason their actions are subject to closer scrutiny than those of people who are not so widely known. No doubt this is the reason why the occasional sins of members of the profession claim nation-wide attention, when the same deeds would go practically unnoticed in another walk of life. Judgment of the film colony should not be based on what any individual member of it has done. A solution of the Taylor mystery will help to remove many of the libels which have been attached to the profession by gossip and speculation, and before we move the industry to New York, let us have some assurance that the metropolis is free of the things it condemns in California.

LYNN (Mass.) The action was taken at the request of the city's board of censors.

WILL QUESTION STAR'S DRIVER.

pany by which Taylor was employed brings the total of rewards up to $3500. An additional $1000 for the arrest and conviction of Taylor's slayers was offered a few days ago by the Screen Writers' Guild.

Despite handicaps suffered by the force of investigators from the Police Department, the District Attorney's office and the Sheriff's office through sickness, every effort was being made yesterday to glean additional information that may be injected into the investigation of the mystery.

During the afternoon Dist.-Atty. Woolwine interviewed Carl M. Meister, a driver for the Yellow Taxi Company. Mr. Meister had previously told police detectives of having carried as passengers, on the night of the murder, a party of suspicious persons, one of whom alighted from his car near the Taylor home. After a lengthy conference with the taxicab driver, whose story was one woven with mystery, Dist.-Atty Woolwine announced he had failed "to get anywhere with Meister's story."

FOUR IN PARTY.

On the night of the murder Meister's party consisted of two men and two women. One of the men carried a conspicuous brief case, which was being guarded as if it were a chest of gold. They first entered his car at 10:55 p.m. at a downtown corner and after riding around the Wilshire district, during which time Meister overheard many remarks that aroused his suspicions, the man with the brief case was deposited in the neighborhood of Taylor's home. After hearing the taxicab driver's story, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine, in his process of elimination, ejected Meister's information from further investigation.

A long-distance controversy between Dist.-Atty. Woolwine and Mabel Normand, though indirectly, was one of the minor events of yesterday's developments in the case. Miss Normand had issued a statement that her letters to William Desmond Taylor had been returned to her by Mr. Woolwine. This was denied by the District Attorney who, in reference to the statement made by Miss Normand, had the following to say:

"I understand that the press has carried a story to the effect that the letters of Miss Mabel Normand have been returned to her, when, as a matter of fact, such letters are still in my possession in the district-attorney's office. These letters are not in any manner significant of anything in relation to the Taylor murder and there is absolutely nothing in them that throws any light upon the case."

Though repeatedly denying that he is directing the investigation in the Taylor murder, it was apparent that Dist.-Atty. Woolwine is the directing head. Captain of Detectives David L. Adams is at the head of the police squad, consisting of Detective Sergeants Herman Cline, Cahill and Cato. During the illness of Detective Sergeant King, Detective Sergeant Winn, of Central Station, has been assigned to assist Charles A. Jones, former chief of police and a special investigator appointed by the district attorney. At the Sheriff's office, Sheriff Traeger is directing a separate investigation, assisted by Undersheriff Biscailuz. Deputy Sheriffs Dewar and Bell. Deputy Sheriff Nolan, who had been working on the case, was confined to his home because of illness.

These officers daily hold numerous conferences with Dist.-Atty. Woolwine.

DISCREDITS REPORT.

The story published yesterday that a bootlegger had heard a shot fired at the Taylor home and immediately thereafter had seen a woman flee from the director's apartment, received but little attention from Mr. Woolwine. The bootlegger, whose name was withheld by the informant, had stated he was delivering liquor at the Taylor bungalow when he heard the shot.

Mr. Woolwine, in discrediting the story, stated that he had made two appointments to interview the bootlegger, who disregarded both appointments and then later informed the District Attorney that he, the bootlegger, was not the man who heard the shot, but that he could produce him. Mr. Woolwine told him to do so, but the bootlegger failed to keep his word.

SAYS TRAMPS WERE TO SHOOT TAYLOR.

MAN TELLS BAY CITY POLICE HE MET TWO COMING HERE TO KILL DIRECTOR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—A statement that he met two armed tramps at Lathrop Junction near Tracy, Cal., last December and they notified him that they had been hired to go to Los Angeles and kill a motion-picture director by the name of Taylor, was made to Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson today by a man giving the name of Charles Carsen, who said he was a sea captain sailing out of the port of San Francisco. Capt. Matheson is inclined to doubt his story. Carsen said he knew one of the tramps, whom he called Bill Burns, who, he said, was wearing a cartridge belt and holster, containing a loaded pistol. Later he saw Burns and his companion and another man leave in a gondola car in the direction of Los Angeles.

Carsen said he was released from a Santa Clara hospital a week ago and did not know of the murder of William Desmond Taylor until four days ago. Fear of Burns, he said, kept him away from the police until today.

The Los Angeles police were notified of Carsen's story. He is being kept under surveillance by the San Francisco police.

CLUBS REJECT BAN ON ACTRESS' FILMS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Feb. 14. — The City Federation of Women's Clubs in their quarterly convention today defeated a resolution directed at banning motion pictures in which Mary Miles Minter and Mabel Normand were featured. In the discussion on the motion-picture question, delegates declared that actresses were not so much to blame for all that had come out as their managers and directors.

CLUB WOMEN BRAVE SNOW.

Members Walk Two Miles Through Drifts.

Various Cities Report New Organizations.

Ventura Federation Will Hold Convention.

BY MYRA NYE.

Imagine, O ye club women of sunny California, tramping two miles through four feet of snow to get to a club meeting! That is exactly what thirty-two women in the Los Angeles district have done within the last four weeks. It was up in Lancaster, the newly organized club there as reported by Mrs. Mollie Bloom Flagg, State chairman of the country life, at the executive meeting of the Los Angeles district yesterday.

This is only another index of the prosperity and growth of women's clubs in the district, the Lancaster Woman's Club having been organized by Mrs. Flagg six weeks ago with eighteen members and now numbering nearly 100 with "California weather—not climate"—pervading the atmosphere of every day they have met.

Other newly organized clubs about to federate as reported by Mrs. Flagg and Mrs. C. D. Taylor, chairman of extension secretaries, are: Palmdale, Hermosa Beach, La Canada and the Newhall Club, where fifty women, far from city or large town are delighted in club activities, meeting in a little dance hall in a four-cross-road town where there is not even a motion-picture theater to distract and where the Chamber of Commerce is delighted to have them co-operate.

The late unusual weather has affected more seriously in another way the district activities. The Indian exhibit scheduled for the latter part of April in the Southwest Museum was to have been financed by a philanthropic woman whose income is from her orange groves, and since she has lost $90,000 by the freeze some other way must be found to finance this vnpture of the district. Mrs. J. C. Urquhart stated yesterday that undoubtedly the plans would proceed, but in a modified form. Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, chairman of art for the district, is chairman of this committee for the exposition and other members of the committee are Mrs. H. A. Atwood, Mrs. Kate Vosburg and Mrs. J. A. Chilberg. Dr. John Cumstock, curator of the museum, will serve as chairman of the speakers' bureau.

CONVENTION ANNOUNCED.

Mrs. Bret H. Brigham of Simi, president of Ventura county federation, announced the convention which will be held at Filmore the 28th inst., in the Masonic Temple of that city. Mrs. Urquhart and Mrs. Robert J. Burdette will be the chief speakers. Many women of this city are planning to attend and Venture country district is an integral part of the Los Angeles district. The clubwomen will be conducted through the refineries and wax-work factories by experienced guides.

Know what you pay before you eat. This might well be the slogan of the high-cost-of-food committee appointed yesterday by Mrs. Urquhart: Mrs. H. F. Boeasche, corresponding secretary and Miss Flora Belle Nelson, chairman of legislation. Encouraged by the step forward made when cafeteria proprietors were compelled by the law to show a price sign by each kind of food, but not satisfied at the wide discrepancy between the wholesale cost of food and the retail, the women led by the committee, plan unceasing warfare against high prices and will consult with members of the Prosecuting Attorney's office as to how best to bring about results.

"Hats off the flag is passing by," since clubwomen don't come in on this they have made a new one for themselves. Hats off! the annual district convention is in session. This is one of the rules and regulations of the coming convention to be held in Santa Monica next month as presented by Mrs. Charles McKelvey. No matter if it is near the Eastertide, when new "bonnets" blossom, the stern unalterable edict is hats off in the convention hall which is to say the auditorium of the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club. Moreover every woman must pay in advance—not for her hat necessarily, but for the privilege of taking it off. That is, no delegate will be seated hated or hatless whose dues are not paid by March 14.

No one, not a delegate, shall be allowed to speak from the floor without the consent of the entire assembly. This is in the interest of the campaign to reduce the high flow of words and the low pressure of blood to the brain. All resolutions must be handed to the chairman, Mrs. Arthur C. Wier, the first day of the convention, or from the floor by a two-thirds vote of the assembly.

A very dignified member of the board said sotto voce to the president yesterday that the resolution that should take precedence of all others should be one to Senator Johnson, reminding him that he represented the people, and especially the women of Southern California, who demand that he vote to ratify the five regular and two supplementary treaties drawn up at the Washington conference.

TO PRESENT PLAYS.

According to Mrs. Raymond E. Chase, chairman of drama, the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, will present three one-act plays under her direction for the last program session of the convention. This is a highly appreciated gift of the Glendale Club, and action was taken to accept.

Miss Sally Jean Lucas and Mrs. John Collier were the luncheon speakers bringing the story of the work of the National Child Health Organization.

QUEEN'S DAUGHTERS.

Miss Sallie Lucas Jean will talk on the work of the National Child Health organization before the Queen's Daughters Sewing Club tomorrow at Boyle Heights Orphanage. The daughters brought Cho Cho, the health clown to Columbus Auditorium last Saturday, when he entertained and instructed the 500 children from the parochial schools orphanages and settlements. Music was furnished by the Juvenile Orchestra from the Twenty-fourth-street school, directed by Miss Mary Bhudlow. This meeting awakened much interest and paved the way for the address of Miss Jean tomorrow.

DRAMA LEAGUE.

Dr. Margaret S. Carhart of the University of California, Southern Branch, will speak on "The Requirements of Dramatic Success" tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Miss Mary Nelson, 333 Plymouth Boulevard, for members and friends of the Drama League.

Boyle Heights Woman's Club.

Mrs. Carol Marks will speak before the Boyle Heights Woman's Club at 2:30 p.m. today at the branch library, First and Chicago streets. Marian Tracy Whiting, assisted by two disabled veterans will give the musical portion of the program, and current events will be in charge of Miss Alice McDonald and Mrs. J. A. Smith.

SPORT SILK POPULAR.

Angeleno Back From East Says Sweaters Much Worn.

Louis Rivers, merchandise manager for A. Hamburger & Sons, Inc., who has just returned from a tour of eastern cities, said yesterday regarding modes and materials:

"Capes have the call. Knitted fabrics in silks and in mixtures are very much in vogue. Sweaters will be extremely popular in all styles, with the slip-on models favorites for the younger set and high colors chosen by most. In blouses, tailored and semitailored modes are good. Tweeds for skirts vie with homespuns. Skirts are, in some instances, a trifle longer than last year. All sports attire is in demand, even in the eastern cities. Sports silks are liked, with white in the lead. In dresses there are the many weaves of silk, mignonettes, satins, taffetas, jerseys and krapeknits. Cottons, such as ginghams, organdies, voiles and other fine weaves will come into use later in the season.

Mr. Rivers visited New York, Boston, Chicago and other eastern points, where he reports business conditions improving.

Valentine Day Gifts Add to Molokan Fund

Several Southern California citizens celebrated St. Valentine's Day by sending checks to The Times fund for the relief of the starving Molokans of Russia. Contributions yesterday amounted to $15, making the total collected to date, $286.21. Those who donated yesterday are: I. L. F., Paso Robles, $10, and H. N., Pasadena, $5.

Donations of clothing and canned foods are still being received at the warehouse of the Los Angeles Molokan Relief Committee, 172 South Utah street, where supplies are gathered for shipment to the local colony's coreligionists of Russia.

VANCE QUITS FEDERAL JOB.

Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue Conradi Vance, attached to the income tax department, under Collector Carter, yesterday resigned his position. He will today accept a position with Bond, Goodwin & Tucker in the Title Insurance Building.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Mrs. Johnson is Hostess.

Mrs. O. T. Johnson of 1221 Orange street was hostess yesterday afternoon at a tea, arranged in the nature of a farewell to her old home, where she has lived for twenty-eight years. She has just bought a new residence at 545 South Irving Boulevard, where she will move shortly. One hundred guests were at the tea and a group of old friends poured. The rooms were gay with spring flowers in a riot of colors.

For Mrs. Wheeler.

The luncheon at which Mrs. Daniel Murphy entertained at her West Adams-street home yesterday, marked one of the delightful functions of the week. It was arranged as a courtesy to Mrs. Thomas Wheeler of New York, who is at the Hotel Huntington, Pasadena, for the winter. Plates were set for fourteen.

Mrs. Murphy gave another luncheon for fourteen guests a few days ago in honor of her house guest, Mrs. William Nelson of Santa Barbara. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will go to Pebble Beach next week to close their summer home and with their daughter, Bernardine Murphy, and Mrs. Murphy's sister, Miss Sue Sinnott, will sail March 21 for Europe, where they expect to spend the summer. They may leave Miss Bernardine abroad to continue her studies.

Club Woman Weds.

A wedding of interest to a large number of persons in Los Angeles and elsewhere in Southern California took place at Montecito yesterday afternoon when Carl E. McStay and Mrs. Ida M. Parmelee of this city were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Evans, pastor of the Montecito Presbyterian Church, at the Presbyterian parsonage.

Mrs. McStay was the widow of E. R. Parmelee, who died in 1920. She is an active member of the Friday Morning Club. In the past year or so she has spent considerable time in Europe.

Mr. McStay has been an active participant in Southern California business and civic activities for more than twenty years. For nearly ten years he has been connected with the Automobile Club of Southern California and is now field secretary of that organization. He was for eight years a director of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The marriage plans had been announced only to a few close friends of Mr. and Mrs. McStay and their honeymoon plans have not been made known, but they will return home to Los Angeles soon.

For a Bride.

Mrs. Earl Webster Huntley, a bride who has come here from St. Paul, Minn., is to be honor guest at a luncheon at which Mrs. C. J. Heyler and Mrs. J. H. Martindale are to entertain at the California Club Friday. There are to be twenty-six guests.

At Luncheon.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Helps for Epicures and All Who Appreciate Good Cooking.

By Chef A. L. Wyman, M.C.A.

[Chef Wyman will give his tested and proved recipes to the readers of The Times, and any information pertaining to the preparation and serving of foods that they may ask. All questions will be answered in this column, which is published every Wednesday. Address all requests for information to Chef. A. L. Wyman, Box 991, Station C, Los Angeles.—Ed.]

Many of the letters received contain requests for recipes that have been published during the past year in this column and I would like to answer them all, but as the space is limited to one column once a week, I think that we should publish recipes that have not been asked for before.

This column was first published Wednesday, Oct. 27, 1920, and has been published every Wednesday since that date. Back numbers of The Times can be obtained at the circulation department, Broadway and First street.

Thousand Island Dressing.

G. H. G., city, requests recipes for Thousand Island dressing and the preparation of finnan haddie. The recipe for Thousand Island dressing was published over a year ago, but as we have so many new readers will give it again, so cut it out and paste in your recipe book. Rub a bowl with a clove of garlic, remove the garlic pulp and place in the bowl the chopped white of one hard-boiled egg, press the yolk through a sieve and add, then add one cup of mayonnaise, four tablespoons of chili sauce, three tablespoons of French dressing, one finely chopped pimento, one tablespoon of chopped olives and a seasoning of salt and paprika. The dressing should be kept very cold.

Finnan Haddie.

Finnan haddie or findon haddock is generally served either boiled, broiled or in cream. For boiled finnan haddie, remove all bones and skin from the haddie and boil for ten minutes in plenty of water to cover. Remove from the water and place on a hot platter, pour over some melted butter and garnish with lemon slices and parsley branches.

For the finnan haddie in cream remove the skin and bones from a two-pound piece of the haddie and break into pieces about half an inch in size. Pour over two cups of boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain off the water. Place in a saucepan two tablespoons of butter and two tablespoons of flour and stir until well blended. Add two-thirds of a cup of milk and half a cup of cream and stir until thick and smooth. Season with salt, paprika and a little nutmeg. Add the haddock and cook four minutes. Serve in a deep dish garnished with chopped parsley and points of toast.

Mint Jelly.

H. D., city, asks for a recipe for the making of mint jelly to serve with roast lamb. At this time of year one should make enough mint jelly to last for a whole year. The apples are at their best, and in California the young tender mint is just coming up. Wipe ten pounds of cooking apples, remove the stems and cut into eighths. Place in a kettle and pour over four cups of cold water. Bring to a boil and simmer until the apples are tender. Mash in the kettle with a potato masher and drain on a wire sieve. Strain the juice through a jelly bag or six layers of cheese cloth. Return the juice to the kettle and bring to a boil, allow to boil twenty minutes. Measure the boiled juice and add an equal amount of sugar, bring to a boil and let boil five minutes. Wash a large bunch of mint and hold in the hand and pass back and forth through the boiling syrup until the syrup has the desired flavor. This will take about five minutes. Color green with color paste and add one tablespoon of lemon juice. Remove the skum on top and pour into jelly glasses. Stand for a day in the sun. Cover and store in a cool dark place.

Ice Cream Cake.

M. M. H., city, would like recipes for the cooking of ground or Jerusalem artichokes and an ice cream cake. The recipe for cooking ground artichokes was published last January 4. For the ice cream cake beat to a cream one-third of a cup of butter with one and two-thirds cups of sugar. Sift three cups of sifted flour with four level teaspoons of baking powder and add to the sugar and butter with a scant cup of milk. Beat smooth, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, flavor with vanilla and bake in two layers in a medium oven twenty minutes. Cover the top and put between the layers ice cream frosting. For the ice cream frosting boil two cups of sugar with five tablespoons of water until it will spin a thread. Beat the whites of two eggs a medium stiff froth and slowly pour the hot syrup into them, beating constantly. Beat until stiff enough to spread. Flavor with vanilla or lemon.

Crumb Pie.

F. E. J., Porterville, wants a recipe for crumb pie, like the one sent to President Harding. The only crumb pie that I have a recipe for is one that was given me last year in Baltimore. Line a pie tin with good pastry and fill with a mixture of four cups of bread crumbs, one-half pound of seeded raisins, one-half pound of currants, three-quarters cup of cider vinegar, one cup of brown sugar, one cup of molasses, one teaspoon of soda, three and one-half cups of cider and a seasoning of cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Cover with pastry and bake forty minutes.

For Children's Party.

C. A. M., Santa Barbara, would like a menu for a children's supper party to be served at 6 p.m. Washington's Birthday. The table should be lined with red, white and blue ribbons, the centerpiece could be made of a square, low box covered with earth, in the center place a small branch and cut two inches from the box top and let the top fall over to represent a tree cut down. For favors have small candy hatchets. For the supper serve creamed chicken in baked potato boats, fringed celery, graham bread and butter sandwiches, honey sandwiches, hot chocolate with whipped cream and individual cherry pies.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

A woman writes me a gentle protest regarding feminine jury service. Must they really be given all this embarrassing publicity, their clothes and manners and psychology dissected, just because they are doing a citizen's duty, she asks plaintively.

Isn't it hard to please some people? Why should they mind? Do they want the fair defendants and the fair witnesses to have all the eclat? Isn't it rather encouraging to find that the ordinary women can be frightfully interesting too, by just doing a noble duty? Wasn't it rather a shame when this eclat was exclusive to the very naughty or the very beautiful women?

But now we apparently homely, ordinary females can count upon the amiable reporters discovering all sorts of interesting things about us and making them public, which otherwise would have had to bloom unseen.

An irate mamma-in-law has just played a naughty trick on her son's frisky bride. Mamma had kept house for her son for lo, these many years, and the house and furniture all belonged to him. So when he was to wed a pretty theatrical lady, mamma graciously announced her intention of moving out—which she duly did before the return of the pair from their honeymoon. The bride had asked a number of friends to the house for a week-end party to celebrate the home-coming.

But—well, in mamma's day the bride always provided all her own house linen. Mamma therefore had removed all of hers with her other belongings, leaving just enough for the maids and no more. Not a tablecloth, not a napkin, not a sheet or pillowcase, not a towel for that gay party.

Fortunately there was a handy hotel where hurried borrowings could be negotiated. But the incident did dim the glamor and distinction of the occasion.

Mamma has expressed her regret. She was not aware the linen tradition had died out—ahem!

Club women and patronesses have often been surprised and indignant at being "capitalized"—and it is annoying. On the other hand, both club women and patronesses are not entirely averse to occasionally doing a little capitalizing themselves. Particularly in their charities. True, their motives are less dubious and charity covers a multitude of sins, but it is a poor rule that doesn't work both ways.

And club women are so bright, even if mere patronesses are occasionally feeble-minded. Hence, knowing something of the "capitalizing" game, they should be quite capable of matching wits and taking care of themselves.

As a matter of fact many club women encourage capitalization. They will accept a free lunch from a cooking school, with a good deal of clever advertising of certain commodities thrown in. They will permit speakers sometimes to come before them for no other purpose than advertising, if they can see a commensurate advantage to their cause of the moment. They will accept free programs to give the artistes "a start," and gain for them the necessary publicity—by no means first assuring themselves that it is a good program and deserving of that publicity.

So when some enterprising business genius trades upon this little weakness of their and puts something over to his own advantage, they may feel reproachful, but they shouldn't be surprised.

While masculinity is fussing about our clothes, there is a good deal to be said on the subject of theirs. What, for instance, could be more absurd than their stiff white collars? They are not comfortable and they are not becoming, they are not healthy, and they are not beautiful. The men's throats don't need that starched support and it doesn't even keep them warm.

And where is the sense of their silly short socks and their ugly trousers? A mere inartistic caricature of a leg. Most men fancy themselves in knee breeches, and fret at the persistent knee-bagginess of their trousers, but the supine things fear to rebel and would rather cut a ridiculous figure in traditional unity, than a fine manly figure individually.

What can be said in favor of the foolish stiff-fronted dress shirt? It always bulges and crackles and it can't possibly be comfortable.

In fact men's clothing is most complicated, comfortless and ugly—bad art, and bad hygiene, and drab, drab, everlastingly drab.

They have a good deal to say about our ear puffs and our bobbed hair. But what can be said of the modern male haircut? Clipped to the skin above their ears, with a ridiculous Chinese tuft, like those funny Chinese dolls, left as a topknot? Some of them affect a pompadour that looks like a greasy doormat—a possession that occasions them infinite concern, because it never will stay put.

It is, of course, sheer vanity on their part—to make themselves as unattractive as possible, conceal any charms they may have, and prove how irresistible they can remain in spite of everything. So different from the inherent modesty of women, who realize the necessity for aiding, not handicapping nature, who meekly believe they would never stand a chance without carefully exploiting such meager charms as nature has deigned to bestow upon them.

Those gentlemen who yearn for the good old days, should read the recipe by which the mother of James Wolfe, the victor of Quebec, restored her weakly boy to robust health and made his fame possible. Here it is:

Wash a peck of garden snails in beer, put them in an oven and let them stay there till they have done crying. Beat them, shells and all, in a stone mortar. Take a quart of green earthworms and stew them with salt. Place them in a pot with two handfuls of angelico, a quart of rosemary flowers, two handfuls each of agrimony, bear's foot, red dock roots, barbery brake, biloney, wormwood, one handful of ruetumeric and one ounce of saffron. Two big tablespoonsful taken three times a day was the dose that turned sickly little James Wolfe into Gen. James Wolfe of fame and fortune.

Perhaps we modern mamas are a little remiss and have not properly learned that old maxim which taught us that:

"Slugs and snails and puppy dog tails."
"What are little girls made of?
"Sugar and spice and all things nice."

Palms Residents Protest Electric Car Service.

George P. Shanks headed a delegation of residents of the Palms district who appeared before the Board of Public Utilities yesterday afternoon and protested against the fares charged and the service given them by the Pacific Electric. The speakers declared that although Palms is but one more mile further from the center of Los Angeles than is Hollywood, the latter patrons pay a single fare of only 10 cents, while Palms patrons pay 27 cents. The Palms residents also declared that the service rendered is poor. The board took the matter under advisement.

Realizing the uncertainty of life and the desirability of protecting and providing for their families, many men draw their Wills with great care—then hide them in some secluded place where they can be found only after long and troublesome searching, if at all.

The difficulties and expense occasioned by lost Wills frequently prove so embarrassing that it is a source of wonder why these precious documents are not either filed with this company for safekeeping until they become operative, or placed in a safe deposit box where they can be found with certainty, at a man's death.

BAR CHICKENS AT LONG BEACH.

Feathered Variety Placed Under Restrictions.

Told to Go to Nut House, Woman Seeks Council.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Feb. 14.—No chickens can be kept in Long Beach in the district south of Fourth street as far east as Cherry avenue when an ordinance ordered drafted today by the City Council goes into effect.

Legislative action regulating the keeping of chickens was taken following a protest from Mrs. Sue Harrold, an apartment-house owner of 1816 East First street, who complained to the Council that one of her tenants had given notice he would move if the chicken nuisance next door was not abated. Mrs. Harrold told the legislative body she appealed to the owner of the fowls but was told to "go to the nut house." "But I came here instead," said the complainant and the Councilmen smiled at the sally.

SINGING HENS.

Councilman Welch had previously declared war on vociferous roosters and was kindly disposed toward restrictions. Mrs. Harrold explained however, that singing hens are the chief source of annoyance in her case. "Yes, and there are talking hens in that neighborhood," commented Councilman Beck. The instruction for drafting the ordinance was carried unanimously. A suggestion from the lobby that goats also be exiled did not meet with the legislative response.

Requesting the initiation of proceedings looking toward the abolition of the State Railroad Commission, a petition signed by 175 Long Beach voters was presented to the City Council today. The Council was asked in the petition to prepare a petition and provide for its circulation. The Council decided to consider the petition at an executive session to be held at a later date.

City Manager Charles E. Hewes today received a check for $4135.89 from the Standard Oil Company as the second payment on royalty claims for oil sold from the Ramsey municipal well. This covers 40 per cent of the output during January. The royalty for December production totaled $5269.75.

The Board of Education today decided to sell the Pine avenue school, located in the downtown business section, placing a minimum price on the property of $262,500.

District Attorney Makes His Policy on Shipments Known in Statement.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 14.—After a conference here today in the office of the District Attorney between a delegation of independent shippers and representatives of the State inspection service relative to policies in the matter of fruit inspection, Dist.-Atty. T. W. Duckworth announced the following to be the policy of his office:

"The District Attorney will not consider it advisable to issue a criminal complaint when evidence of frost injury in fruit has to depend on opinion on what condition the fruit might be in when it reached the market.

"The evidence must be that the oranges conclusively showed real marks of frost injury when shipped."

A tense situation has again been created in this county by the shipment by C. M. Brown of Redlands, of a car of fruit condemned by Inspector Coy on the ground that in his opinion it would show a poor condition in the East on account of evidence of drying here.

Mr. Brown produced several packers who said they had examined the fruit and passed it as good. The buyer, they said, is willing to take it at a good price. Mr. Brown said that one car he had shipped after it was condemned by inspectors, brought $4.60 per box in the East. He was backed up in his position by I. L. Lyon of Redlands, head of the Citrus Protective League, Harry B. Chase of Riverside, Sales Manager Pratt of the Mutual Orange Distributors, and others. The State representatives present were H. H. Warner, southern head of the inspection service, Attorney Leighton and County Horticultural Commissioner John P. Coy. Attorney Helyer was present for the shippers.

FRESNO, Feb. 14.—Three hundred Fresno men attended the annual meeting and banquet here tonight of the Fresno county Chamber of Commerce, and tomorrow will launch the annual membership drive of the organization under the direction of the American City Bureau and its representative, P. E. Magruder.

Speakers at the meeting here tonight included Chester H. Rowell, member of the Railroad Commission, Chase S. Osborn, Jr., Fresno editor, and Dr. W. E. Bobbitt of Woodland; President C. T. Gearley presided.

The membership campaign is under the direction of W. A. Sutherland, who is assisted by five team captains and their aides.

An increase from 6 3-4 per cent net income to 7 4-10 per cent net income on the reproduction or market value of the power plant of the corporation is said to be involved in the proposed rates. G. S. [LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 14.—Modern doctors of medicine and surgery were urged to throw off the veil of secrecy that has characterized the profession in years past and to adopt modern methods, by Dr. F. H. Martin, director of the American College of Surgeons, Chicago, who, with Dr. G. W. Crile of Cleveland, has just arrived at the Hotel Huntington here.

"The great objective toward which the American College of Surgeons is striving," said Dr. Martin, "is to educate the people to recognize disease in early stages and take corrective steps before it was too late."

Dr. Martin mentioned cancer, as an example, saying that no cure for that disease had been discovered, but that it could be prevented in a great many instances if properly treated in its incipient stages.

Dr. Martin and Dr. Crile are members of a commission of American surgeons now visiting California. They will attend a conference at the Alexandria in Los Angeles Friday night.

MAGNIFICENT BALLS.

Eastern visitors at the great Pasadena hotels danced and held St. Valentine's Day carnival here tonight, when two of the biggest social events of the winter season were held, with hundreds of celebrants at each.

The St. Valentine balls were given at the Vista del Arroyo and Green hotels, each having huge quotas of the winter colony and resident society in attendance. Colorful entertainments in which corps of entertainers from Los Angeles and elsewhere appeared were incidents of the functions.

Many beautiful gowns and jewels were observed among the women guests. The social season in the winter colony is now at its height. On Thursday night there will be a Washington dinner-dance at the Huntington; on Saturday night the annual bal masque at the Maryland, and on next Tuesday night the annual charity ball at the Vista del Arroyo. All these are in addition to the regular minor social affairs at the hotels.

LAUDS GOLF SITE.

Walter J. Travis, the famous amateur golfer and ex-American and British champion, who is spending the winter at the Vista del Arroyo here, visited the proposed Pasadena municipal golf course in the Arroyo Seco in company with Chairman H. W. Wadsworth of the city directorate and City Manager C. W. Koiner, today. He pronounced the site, which lies between Brookside Park and Devil's Gate dam, was one that will make the finest golf course in Southern California. Funds to build the course are to be included in park improvement bonds to be voted on this spring.

BIDS OPENED.

Bids for construction of the new Andrew Jackson elementary school were opened today by the Board of Education, but the awarding of the contract was postponed until Thursday. The lowest bid was that of L. P. Pomeroy, $75,959. Contracts for the plumbing and heating plants also will be awarded on Thursday.

Creation of a community publicity fund to advertise Pasadena's attractions as a world-famous resort was proposed at a conference of hotel men, bankers, merchants, city officials and others, held at the Hotel Green. J. B. Coulston, president of the California Hotel Company, presided. Further meetings will be held to push the project.

THE TIMES is conducting an earnest search for the most beautiful girl in the Southwest. Prizes totaling $4900 will be awarded the eighteen girls adjudged the prettiest by a board of competent art judges. The contest is now on. It closes February 22.

Carl McStay is Married to Ida Parmelee.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 14.—Carl E. McStay and Ida Maria Parmelee of Los Angeles were married this afternoon by the Rev. C. A. Grant Evans of El Montecito Presbyterian Church. The couple motored up from Los Angeles for the wedding, being accompanied to the marriage license bureau by Ralph Coane, manager of the Automobile Club of Southern California here. Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. McStay left for the south, according to information given out at the Auto Club office here.

Mr. McStay is field secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California. He resides at 1231 Randolph avenue. An announcement that he was to wed a club woman of Los Angeles recently created a considerable stir in club circles.

REPORTED EPIDEMIC DENIED.

Official denial was made at San Pedro last night by Admiral Eberle, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet, of statements published Monday to the effect that a serious epidemic of Spanish influenza had broken out among the enlisted personnel of the battleships. It was asserted in one newspaper that on one ship alone, the flagship California, there were fifty-four cases of the disease, and that the epidemic would prevent the proposed departure today of the New Mexico, Idaho and Tennessee for San Francisco, and the sailing tomorrow of the California for San Diego. "There are not fifty-four cases of influenza in the entire battle force," Admiral Eberle stated last night.

POLICE SERGEANT WEDS.

Police Sergeant Day of the Los Angeles Harbor police division, was married yesterday to Miss Lois Ethelbert Parks of Los Angeles. Plans for the wedding were kept secret from Sergt. Day's fellow officers at the harbor and other than that the wedding was held in Los Angeles, details were entirely lacking yesterday but brother officers were sending out the best detectives of the division to learn the facts. A surprise reception awaits the officer and his bride upon their return to Los Angeles Harbor, it was said at the Police Station yesterday.

ARRANGE CITRUS DISPLAY.

Army of Workmen Placing Oranges and Lemons for Great Show to Open at San Bernardino Friday.

Millions of oranges and lemons are today placed in exhibits in the National Orange Show, which open in San Bernardino Friday night. Officials of the show are directing an army of workmen in final preparations for the annual display, to continue until the 27th inst.

The exhibits this year are greater and more in number than ever before. They are much larger than any former feature exhibits and many of them are of intricate construction, necessitating the outlay of a large amount of money on the part of the exhibitors.

CITY TO HAVE FLOAT.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will have a novel display, for the first time in the history of the exposition. Los Angeles organizations are taking a greater interest in the exposition than ever before. Practically the entire membership of the Rotary, Progressive Business Mens' and Lions clubs will visit the orange show on their special days. The San Bernardino clubs will be hosts and are planning banquets and other gatherings in honor of the visitors.

Tuesday, the 21st inst. is Rotary Club day, Wednesday the 22nd inst. is Progressive Business Mens' Club day, Thursday, the 23rd inst. Gov Stephens will be a special guest on Lions Club day. The Governor is an honorary member of the San Bernardino Lions Club.

Members of the Los Angeles Advertising Club will visit the exposition Saturday, the 25th inst. They will take their own entertainers who will appear in conjunction with the regular Orange Show program.

LEGION EXPECTS CROWD.

The first American Legion day every held at the exposition will be the 26th inst. San Bernardion Post No. 14, will act as host and expects to accommodate the largest crowd of the entire show. A crowd of nearly 40,000 is expected on that day.

Besides these special club days, every day is taken up with honoring communities which are placing displays. The larger exhibits this year are being sponsored and placed by the civic bodies of practically every section of the California citrus belt. The exhibitors include: The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the Ocean Park-Santa Monica Chamber of Commerce, the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Fresno county, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Riverside county, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of San Gabriel Valley, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Hemet Valley, the Riverside Chamber of Commerce, the Redlands Chamber of Commerce, the Ontario Chamber of Commerce and many others.

CARRY OUT STATE MOTIF.

The decorations this year will be in a strictly California note. Grizzly bears, poppies, mission arches, orange blossoms and American flags will form the motif.

Besides the fruit sections, where 10,000,000 specimens of fruit will be shown, there will be an automobile and industrial display of magnitude.

A crowd of more than 200,000 is expected during the show.

PALESTINE COMMITTEE RECEIVED.

Creation of Homeland for Jews of Eastern Europe is Commission's Plan.

The international commission to create a homeland in Palestine for the Jews of Eastern Europe was received here yesterday with many honors and the three commissioners tonight will address a mass meeting in Philharmonic Auditorium. They were received by several hundred citizens of Los Angeles at the Santa Fe station and escorted to the Alexandria.

The reception banquet was held at the Alexandria last night and brief addresses were made by the commissioners—Dr. Nathan Sokolow, the Jewish statesman of international prominence; Prof. Otto Warburg, who has the chair of chemistry and botany in Berlin University, and Col. J. H. Patterson, who commanded Allied troops in Palestine in the war. Mayor Cryer, Thomas Osborn, the British Consul at this port, Dr. E. W. Eidelman and P. M. Raskin, the English poet, spoke. The speakers explained about the campaign in which a $100,000,000 fund is being raised. Albert M. Rosenthal was chairman and Marco R. Newmark, honorary president of the Southern California Palestine Foundation, was toastmaster.

Rabbi Neches of Congregation Beth Israel, Rabbi Magnin of Temple B'nai B'rith and Rabbi Berman will speak at the meeting tonight. Rabbi Rosenthal will deliver the opening prayer. Mr. Newmark will preside.

TWO ARE INJURED.

Fractured Skulls Believed Result of Car Accidents.

Walking into the rear of an automobile at Grand avenue and Sunset Boulevard early last night, Charles Rohebach, aged 29 years, of 6918 Franklin avenue, Hollywood, fell to the pavement and suffered a basal fracture of the skull. The automobile was the property of Paul Bell of 128 South Ditman street. Rohebach was taken to the Receiving Hospital and given emergency treatment.

An unidentified man, about 85 years of age, fell from Los Angeles street car No. 302 at Normandie avenue and Adams street early last night and suffered a possible basal skull fracture, according to a report at the Receiving Hospital, where the aged man was given emergency treatment. O. L. Miller, conductor on the street car, told University police officers that the elderly man fell from the street car before it stopped moving at the intersection.

BANS TOO MUCH PRIDE.

Wife Seeks Divorce from "Superior" Husband.

No wife likes to be reminded that her husband's family tree is superior to her own. Mrs. Maud E. Davis, whose husband, Richard F. Davis, was a probate judge and a deputy U. S. Attorney in Arizona, blames her husband's family pride for a separation, followed by a brief reconciliation, another parting and the suit for divorce which was filed yesterday. She declares her husband's attitude caused her suffering. The couple have been married nineteen years.

History Repeats Itself

From the Evening Express, December 24, 1881.

Complaint is made by farmers, merchants and townspeople generally, of the congested condition of Spring St. between Temple and First, the heart of the business district. The street, which is rather narrow, is lined with teams on both sides all day, and with the car track down the centre it is almost impossible to drive through. The switch at Temple St. makes it all the worse. An effort will be made to have the cars turn on to Main and continue along that to First, and turn up there to Spring. This would relieve the congestion materially.

Today

From the Evening Express, January 11, 1922.

A novel system for the handling of the traffic problem in the downtown section, said by experts to be rapidly growing more serious, was offered to the board of public utilities today.

(January 12, 1922.)

Members of the Greater Los Angeles traffic commission today were plunging into the task of working out plans for the permanent relief of traffic congestion.

Merchants and townspeople complain generally of traffic conditions. Spring St., while not the heart of today's business district, remains congested. Teams have given away to automobiles—horse cars to electrics—traffic problems increase. Truly, history repeats itself.

TRAFFIC has increased by leaps and bounds since 1881. The congestion of yesterday would be but a tiny eddy in today's vast stream of commercial and pleasure vehicles.

California Bank has also grown—not by leaps and bounds, however—but in the sane, steady way that an efficient institution must grow. Through the years California Bank has kept abreast with the growth of Los Angeles.

Forty years ago they went downtown to the bank—today your neighborhood bank is just around the corner or a few blocks away. No need to struggle with congested traffic or spend your valuable time and energy in a trip downtown. Get acquainted with California Bank—your neighborhood boasts a branch—use it!

The selling of Oriental rugs ought not to be influenced by commercial motives alone.

To the connoisseur-merchant there is a fascination and pride in the collecting of rare pieces, and almost a reluctance in parting with them.

In order that those who are really interested in fine Oriental rugs may see and enjoy my very wonderful collection—without any feeling that they will be called upon to buy—I am going to have a Public Exhibition of Antiques beginning Thursday, February twenty-third, and continuing until Saturday, March 4th.

Inasmuch as my collection is entirely new, and personally selected you may anticipate one of the most interesting exhibitions ever presented in Southern California.

You and your friends are cordially invited.

OUTLINES WORK ON TELEPHONES.

Company to Spend Nine Million This Year.

New Equipment Purchased, is Engineer's Report.

Co-operation of Public is Asked by Osborne.

The Southern California Telephone Company's efforts to provide service for thousands of new subscribers, due to the phenomenally rapid growth of Los Angeles, are explained in a report submitted yesterday to the Board of Public Utilities by Chief Engineer Osborne. The report declares that the company is spending a large amount of money for additions and betterments. Officials of the company have stated that this year's construction program calls for an expenditure of $9,000,000 to meet the needs of the city.

"It is our conclusion," says Chief Engineer Osborne, "that the service cannot be improved much if the company is hampered in its efforts."

The report sets forth that the company has purchased equipment costing $729,400 to improve and enlarge the service in Hollywood and which, when installed, will provide service for 10,000 new subscribers in this section of the city.

BUSINESS DISTRICT.

In the downtown district equipment will be in place on March 1 to serve 2000 new subscribers. The plans also call for installation of equipment already ordered and costing $1,304,740 which, when in place, will serve 10,000 new subscribers from the company's principal exchange on Olive street.

The report declares that the company could, if it had the equipment, connect 50,000 new subscribers at the present time, so rapidly has the population of the city increased and so urgent is the demand for service.

Complaints made to the board by subscribers were rapidly cleared by the company, the report states.

ASKS CO-OPERATION.

The report asks the public's cooperation with the company in accepting changes of subscribers' telephone numbers, because of the fact that the changing of numbers is necessary incident to the installation of telephones to waiting subscribers.

Of the matter of changing of numbers of present subscribers, Commercial Superintendent Powley of the Southern California Telephone Company said yesterday:

"We appreciate the co-operation we are receiving from the public in the matter of acceptances of the changing of their numbers. These changes are made only when it is necessary and are due to the fact that we are constantly rearranging lines to add new subscribers to them. When the number of a subscriber is changed it simply means that he is assisting us in making room all along the line so that we can give service to a waiting subscriber. Those whose numbers we are compelled to change can assist us further by informing their business and personal friends of the change in number so as to relieve the load of telephone traffic as much as possible."

REFUSAL TO MARRY CHARGED IN SUIT.

Mayre Hall demands $50,000 damages from F. J. Betanzo in a suit filed in the Superior Court yesterday for his purported refusal to marry her after asking for her hand, December 16, last. The suit was prepared and filed yesterday by Attorney D. A. Hill.

HITS STATE RULE OVER UTILITIES.

City Board May Renounce "Gentlemen's Agreement" With Rail Commission.

Public Utilities Commissioner Kennedy at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Public Utilities took steps to sweep aside the "gentlemen's agreement" under which the State Railroad Commission and the board have worked together in the regulation of the service rendered in Los Angeles by the telephone, street railways, gas and other public utility corporations.

Commissioner Kennedy contends that the city has under its City Charter supreme power to regulate the service rendered by the public utilities inside of the city, and that the State Railroad Commission has jurisdiction only over the matter of the rates to be charged. The resolution of Commissioner Kennedy, which was unanimously adopted by the board, was as follows:

Whereas, the Supreme Court of the State of California has held that the California Railroad Commission has jurisdiction in the matter of fixing rates; and,

Whereas, the city of Los Angeles, in the opinion of the Board of Public Utilities, has jurisdiction over all matters of service rendered by the public utilities, other than the fixing of rates; and,

Whereas, we believe grave danger may come to the city of Los Angeles through either loss of powers or disuse of powers which our City Charter prescribes.

Therefore be it resolved by the Board of Public Utilities of the city of Los Angeles that the interests of the city of Los Angeles are best served by contesting all exercise of jurisdiction in the city of Los Angeles by the Honorable California Railroad Commission other than the fixing of rates.

Therefore be it further resolved that the Honorable Mayor of the city of Los Angeles be and is hereby requested to confer with the City Attorney and determine upon a policy which will clearly define the rights of the city under our charter, and settle for all time the question of jurisdiction and the control within the city of corporate interests.

DAM PLAN ELECTION ABANDONED

Proceedings in Pacoima Project Are Stopped, but Will be Started Again.

The present proceedings for the issuance of $500,000 in bonds for the construction of the first unit of the proposed $1,500,000 flood control dam in Pacoima Canyon were abandoned yesterday afternoon by the City Council, and this action automatically cancels the municipal improvement district election, which had been called for next Monday. The vote of the Council on sustaining the protest of the Amestoy estate and other property owners against the boundaries of the proposed improvement district was six in favor of sustaining the protest, with Councilman Mallard and Wheeler voting "No."

President B. R. Holloway of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce spoke strongly in opposition to any delay in the carrying through of the dam project, saying that the people of Van Nuys and other adjacent parts of the San Fernando Valley needed protection from storm waters and wanted the dam built. The Councilmen who voted in favor of sustaining the protest said that they did so because they were convinced that the present municipal improvement district would not stand the test of the courts.

Under the law, no new proceedings to create a bond district for the building of the dam can be instituted for six months. The Councilmen believe that if the property owners in the district will confer before the new improvement map is drawn for submission to the voters, a district can be agreed upon that will not be protested so that the election can be held.

Under the plan, the carrying out of which was by yesterday's action of the Council delayed for at least six months, the improvement district will bond itself for $500,000 for the building of the first section of the dam, and the County Supervisors will then appropriate $1,000,000 for the completion of the improvement.

PRIMARIES BAR CHIEF JUSTICE.

my judicial work. The favor and voluntary support of the members of the bar insured my nomination at the party conventions, even in the face of the opposition of the party leaders, and my election followed. If these methods now prevailed, I might perhaps consider favorably the idea of becoming a candidate.

"But the primary system of nominating candidates, and especially the nonpartisan plan applying to judicial and other offices, has worked a marked change in the conditions attending a campaign. Under this system every candidate for a State office of that class, must organize and finance a personal campaign to obtain his nomination and election.

NEEDS PRIVATE OFFICE.

"He must have a private office manned by a capable secretary and stenographer. A publicity agent must be engaged, all the varied activities of a political bureau must be carried on solely in his own behalf, and this must continue for at least six months.

"The candidate must give a large part of his time, energy and personal attention to the business of getting himself elected. He must endeavor to present the fact of his candidacy to every voter whom he can reach in any legitimate way, and to impress on their minds such merits as he thinks, or is willing for others to say, he possesses. The campaign of 1914 was under this system and although I had the efficient assistance of a voluntary committee which performed a large part of the actual work, that campaign required of me far more than double the time and effort that I had expended in all three of my previous campaigns combined. I may add that the cost was in the same proportion."

WILBUR IS CANDIDATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—Associate Justice Curtis D. Wilbur of the State Supreme Court today announced his candidacy to succeed Chief Justice Lucien Shaw.

Coincident with his announcement, Justice Wilbur said he would have submitted to the next Legislature a draft of a proposed constitutional amendment he has prepared changing the method of electing judicial officers. Under Justice Wilbur's plan the electorate would pass on the plan of continuing in office the incumbent judge or justice, without the alternative of a choice of candidates.

If the electorate failed to return a majority vote for the continuation in office of the incumbent the Governor, under the proposed amendment, would be required to appoint a successor who would serve until the next general election. The electorate would again follow this same procedure and vote on continuing the incumbent in office. The amendment would be made to apply to the Supreme Court, district courts of appeal and Superior courts.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

In part the draft of the proposed amendment reads:

"All appointments by the Governor to judicial office shall be subject to confirmation at the next general election and the question whether or not such appointed shall be elected shall be submitted to the electors at the next general election and determined by a majority of the electors voting thereon. If the appointment is confirmed the officer shall serve during the balance of the term. If the appointment is not confirmed the Governor shall appoint another person to fill the office until the next general election, at which the question of confirmation of such appointment shall be submitted in like manner and with like effect. If, however, the confirmation of such appointment is submitted at the next general election preceding the end of the term, the question to be submitted shall be: 'Shall the appointee be elected and shall the justice or judge be retained in office for another term?'"

WILBUR APPOINTED.

Justice Wilbur was chief deputy District Attorney of Los Angeles county from 1889 to 1903, and a judge of the Superior Court of the county from 1903 to 1918. In 1918 Gov. Stephens appointed him an associate justice of the Supreme Court, and at the end of the year he was elected to the same office for a twelve-year term. His term as associate justice expires in 1931, but if he should be elected chief justice his tenure of the bench will be shortened four years. He is a brother of President Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford University. Justice Wilbur was brought up in North Dakota and was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1888 along with Admiral C. F. Hughes, in charge of part of the Pacific Fleet and Capt. E. L. Beach, former commandant of the Mare Island navy yard. The Constellation, a Revolutionary War frigate, was his training ship.

Justice Wilbur had ten years in the Juvenile Court and was instrumental in drafting the Juvenile Court laws of 1909 and 1915.

Your Profits Rise
the Pound Sterling

The treaty with Ireland was a big step on the return to normal for England. And it has been reflected in the strong upward tendency of the English pound. Therein lies convincing evidence of the advisability of such an investment as—

Province of Buenos Aires
3½% Sterling Sinking Fund
Loan of 1906

It may be safely assumed that the pound will eventually reach normal—$4.86. Each point that it rises adds to the maturity value and yield to the investor who buys bonds of this loan with American dollars. The following table shows the attractive possibilities in this respect.

Assuming a price of $475.00
for a £200 Bond

With Sterling at	Annual Income Per Cent	Maturity Value	Profit on Investment
4.40	6.48	$880.00	$30.80
4.50	6.63	900.00	31.50
4.60	6.78	920.00	32.20
4.70	6.93	940.00	32.90
4.86	7.17	973.00	34.07

These bonds are a direct obligation of the Province of Buenos Aires, specially secured as to sinking fund and interest requirements by a lien on revenues from the territorial and the production taxes. In 1921 these were 4½ times the requirements for this loan.

We regard this as one of the best secured of foreign loans, and recommend it for investment.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The stock market continued to move towards irregular higher price levels today, although much of the advance was forfeited in the general profit taking of the later dealings.

Further lowering of local money rates and signs that world-wide monetary conditions are tending in the direction of greater ease, together with the small floating supply of popular stocks, were the sustaining factors.

Demand loans opened at 4½ per cent, but fell to 4 per cent before noon. In private transactions plenty of call money was available at 3¾ per cent, and prime mercantile paper of 30 to 90 days was sold at 4⅝ per cent.

Reduction of the Cleveland Federal Reserve bank rate directed renewed attention to prospects of another reduction at this center. Private cables from London predicted an early cut in the Bank of England rate. The greater part of today's fairly large business was restricted to steels, oils, equipments, motors and coppers, United States Steel making a new high since 1920 and retaining all but the smallest fraction of its gain at 90⅝. Rails also showed further improvement, but buying of those issues lacked the substantial character of the previous day's accumulation. Sales amounted to 800,000 shares.

Trade reviews again stressed the uncertain state of the steel and iron industry. This was strongly illustrated in the annual reports of the Midvale and Pressed Steel Car companies, which were in keeping with unfavorable forecasts.

Trading in foreign exchanges fell off perceptibly, the British and Allied remittances reacting moderately. The Dutch rate also eased, but bills on the Scandinavian countries, to strengthen the Eastern European remittances.

8% Preferred Stock
at $115

The SOUTHWEST CATTLE LOAN COMPANY makes short time loans to cattlemen.

Its management attributes its success to the fact that the majority of its loans have always been feeder loans, secured by cattle that are ready for market before the maturity of the loan. This security often doubles in value before maturity.

The Federal War Finance Corporation has recognized the desirability of financing the cattle industry and has placed cattle loan companies on the same basis as state banks, restricting the amount of their loans to ten times their capital.

This issue of $200,000 cumulative preferred 8% stock, will consequently make it possible to loan advantageously an additional $2,000,000.

The Company would then have $4,000,000 outstanding in loans. Its experience in the past indicates its earnings on these loans should be practically five times the amount necessary to pay 8% on this issue of preferred stock now offered at par.

At the end of three years, when the War Finance Corporation will cease to function, this preferred stock will be callable at a premium of 15%.

A Definite Financial Plan

The impelling motive behind the purchase of probably 90 per cent of the securities bought by investors is the desire to accumulate money for future financial independence. Yet the method of accumulation is usually haphazard.

We have published a book entitled "Building an Income Fund." It is by no means an advertisement. It urges the purchase of no particular class of securities—in fact, stocks and bonds are dealt with in its pages only as a means to an end. But it does suggest to investors of every class the absolute need of a definite financial plan and outlines several possible plans.

This booklet is illustrated by various charts and tables. This information will be of as much value to the man investing $10,000 a year as to the younger investor who can put aside only $200 a year.

Call at our office, or telephone, and we will gladly mail you a copy of this booklet.

What Accounts for These Enormous Profits?

A compilation of the records of mortgage companies in the United States develops that the dividends paid by these institutions are unusually high, reaching in some instances 200% per annum.

Factors which are calculated to bring about such profits are:

The frequent turn-over of the company's invested capital.
The great demand for and inadequate supply of funds to finance buildings of all kinds.
The fact that the company's funds are always in a fluid state.
The fact that mortgage companies buy and sell commodities which do not depreciate in value.
The fact that such companies are usually in the hands of veterans of finance, who, taken alone, are an assurance of large accomplishments.

UNION MORTGAGE COMPANY of California Stock

Yielding 8% with safety on Preferred—plus profits on Common combines all these factors in one investment, and this company is operating in the local community which now stands unrivaled in the PROGRESSIVE movement.

FEW FLUCTUATIONS IN STOCK PRICES.

OATMAN UNITED IS STEADY AT 85 CENTS; UNION WEAKENS BEFORE THE CLOSE.

A generally featureless market ruled at the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. The usual price fluctuations in the mining group were missing, and the volume of sales fell off slightly. Trading in San Francisco, one of the newly listed gold stocks, was the central point of interest in the mining list, but the price remained at its pegged level of 25 cents. Even Oatman United, long the speculative favorite of the market, sold at unchanged figures, with a close at 85. Big Jim was more active than usual, and advanced ¼ cent to 9½, touching a high point of 10½ cents earlier. United American was again popular with the traders, and closed at its high for the day, at 42½ cents, a net gain of 1½. United Eastern had a heavier volume of sales than has been usual lately, but was slightly weaker, declining 1 cent to $2.04.

Los Angeles Investment was steady at 99 cents, and Southern California Edison common was firm at 97.

Following are the closing prices and sales as posted in the Stock Exchange Building yesterday.

his opinion, that there is very little intrinsic value behind the German money and that there is no reason for expecting any gain in this currency in the near future.

A SAVING IN TAXES.

One of the changes effected by the Revenue Act of 1921 that is particularly interesting to buyers of municipal bonds is the provision that at the redemption of the bonds a premium paid is deductible as a loss in the income tax return. As the consequent saving of tax is equivalent to additional income to the investor, the actual yield on premium bonds will be higher than it would be if the premium was not deductible.

As an example of this, Drake, Riley & Thomas have prepared a table which gives due consideration to the income value of deducting the premium and indicates the return that would be required from fully taxable bonds to be equivalent to the return from the issue of Federal land bank 5 per cent bonds, which may be called optionally in 1931 and are offered at 102 3-8 and interest. According to this table, individuals with an income of $20,000 would have to have a taxable bond yielding at least 5.63 per cent to bring the same return; a $50,000 income would require a 6.88 per cent bond; for $100,000 a year, a 10.91 per cent, and for $200,000, an 11.45 per cent bond. Corporations would require an income of 5.39 per cent to get an equivalent return.

BUENOS AIRES ISSUE.

The American Express Company yesterday brought a large block of Province of Buenos Aires loan of 1906 sterling sinking fund, 3½ per cent bonds, into the local market. The issue was priced at 47½, to yield, at the present rates for sterling, 6.42 per cent. The bonds were rapidly taken at this figure, investors recognizing the possibilities for enhancement in values that would be brought about by further gains in sterling exchange. The fact that the bonds are callable by lot at par furnished another feature of increased returns that attracted buyers. The issue will be retired by lot or by purchase in the open market before 1950. Local firms handling the issue are Stephens & Co., Stevens, Page & Sterling and R. H. Moulton & Co.

CALIFORNIA PRODUCTS.

According to New York advices interest in California products is keen in the commodity markets there in view of heavy purchases of canned fruits for shipment to Great Britain, it is reported, demand having been stimulated considerably by recent advances in sterling exchange. In addition, many steamship lines are granting a 30-cent rate on canned foods for shipment from California to Great Britain, taking this class of cargo in preference to carrying ballast. Standard peaches have met with an exceptionally heavy call for shipment abroad, and there has also been firm buying of apricots, cherries and pears. Pineapples have also sold in a fair way for export.

The trade here is advised that supplies held in California are very closely cleaned up, particularly among the smaller packers. The larger packers are said to have fair stocks on hand, although by "fair" it is not intended to create the impression that stocks are anywhere near normal for this season of the year. It is thought that even among the largest canners it would be impossible for any buyer to secure a full assortment of canned fruit for buyer's label.

LEMONS AND COLDS.

Wintertime is cold time. It is the season of the year when the sniffly nose and the achey feeling have full swing. People are either fighting a cold or fighting to keep from getting one. Grocers and fruit merchants should take advantage of this fact to push their lemon sales, according to the latest trade release of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. "A good window display heaped with lemons and a card telling how a miserable cold can be broken up with hot lemonade, would stop many a passer-by who was perhaps at that moment just 'flagging' his nose."

CREDIT LECTURE.

A lecture on "The Distribution of Credit in a Community," was recently delivered before the class in credits and collections at the College of Commerce and Business Administration of the University of Southern California by J. W. Lewis, assistant cashier of the Union Bank & Trust Company. Mr. Lewis, who was formerly president of the local Credit Men's Association and is at present a director of the National Credit Men's Association, made special references in his talk to individual credits. Credit inflation, he said, is a credit movement which is based upon goods which have been already consumed and where the basis of credit no longer exists.

WANTS LOWER RATES.

On account of high freight rates, about one-third of California's walnut production cannot be shipped, as prices to consumers are too low to give profits to producers after freight rates are paid, Carlyle Thorpe, manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, told members of the Transportation Club recently.

"Walnut men have already been granted a reduction in rates for bulk shipments of nuts in the shell, but what we must have in addition is reduced rates on by-products. We have at work in Los Angeles now 650 women, who are picking meat out of walnuts that cannot be sold in the shell at first-class prices. This must be done by hand, as the meat must be sorted, according to color. This year we can ship from seventy-five to eighty carloads. In twenty years from now these by-products will be as important as the walnuts in shells.

CREDIT MEN MEET.

Tonight's meeting of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association will be held under the direction of the women's division. The local credit women have arranged an interesting entertainment program which will be given in connection with a dinner in the Broadway store cafe. Musical numbers and addresses by prominent women speakers are on the bill. The Baroness Otilly de Ropp will speak on "America—The Land of Their Dreams." "Work and Play" is the subject chosen by Miss Lloyd Galpin, instructor of history at the Los Angeles High School. Miss Florence E. Banks will tell the credit men "How to Read People at Sight." The meeting will begin at 5:30, it was announced yesterday.

OPEN CHICAGO OFFICE.

Blyth, Witter & Co., announce the opening of their Chicago office yesterday at No. 125 South La Salle street. The office will be in charge of Charles E. Driver, resident partner, who has been associated with this firm since 1917. In 1918, as salesman, he covered all of Southern California outside of Los Angeles and Pasadena. For the last tw years Mr. Driver has developed the Northwest territory for this firm, with an office at Seattle and branches in Portland and Spokane.

L. Revelle Miller, who is well known in local financial circles as sales manager for this firm in charge of country sales, will be associated with Mr. Driver in the Chicago office as sales manager. Mr. Miller succeeded Mr. Driver in the territory outside of Los Angeles, when the Seattle office was organized, and in 1920 made an enviable record as high salesman with the entire Blyth, Witter organization.

With the opening of the new office, direct wire service is assured in the Chicago market. As the Seattle, Portland, New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles offices of this firm are already connected by private wires, this addition connects the local office with the principal markets of the United States.

BONDS REDEEMED.

The San Joaquin Valley Farm Lands Company, owners of 63,000 acres of agricultural lands in the San Joaquin Valley, west of Fresno, reports that during the last week they have redeemed $9000 additional o ftheir first mortgage 6 per cent bonds which were offered in 1919. Of the total issue at that time of $600,000, there are only $292,500 outstanding, $307,500 having been retired and canceled by the company.

This company has at the present time about 18,000 acres of lands under intensive cultivation and has sold to 475 different farmers approximately 18,000 acres of land, holding sales contracts in excess of $3,000,000.

HARDING AGAINST BONDS.

President Harding is utterly opposed to a bond issue with which to finance the soldier bonus, it was announced at the White House yesterday, according to Washington advices. It was said the President felt that the issue would not raise the amount necessary to finance the bonus, but it would increase interest rates and otherwise destroy the tranquility of the business world.

It was also pointed out that the government must redeem outstanding bonds and other debts to the amount of upward of $6,000,000,000 within the next fifteen months. This amount, it was said, would have to be met, or else the government's credit would suffer and the entire investment market would be demoralized.

MEXICAN PETE.

If current production of Mexican petroleum wells is any criterion, there "is no immediate prospect of Mexico nearing exhaustion as a producer, in the opinion of E. L. Doheny, who is authority for the statement that the five new gushers were brought in last week, one of which may turn out to be the largest well in the world.

This well had an initial flow at the rate of 261,000 barrels a day, with a pressure of 1065 pounds to the square inch, the highest pressure ever recorded, it is said. It is located in the so-called Terra Blanca field, about twenty-five miles south of the Cerro Azul pool, where the company has brought in some famous gushers. Other wells struck in the Cerro Diejo field had an initial flow ranging from 30,000 barrels to 50,000 barrels. The Mexican Petroleum Company, according to Mr. Doheny, is now producing twice as much oil as any other oil company.

TICKER TICKS.

E. L. Doheny, president of the Mexican Petroleum Company, says that the new Tierra Blanca well may be largest in world, exceeding Cerro Azul No. 4, which made 261,000 barrels a day.

British government reduced advances from Bank of England £10,000,000 and treasury bills outstanding, £22,000,000 in the week ending February 11. The floating debt has been £133,000,000 within the year.

Atty.-Gen. Daugherty favors adoption by various States of uniform blue-sky laws to prevent sales of worthless stocks.

Baldwin for year ended Dec. 31, 1921, earned $18.22 on common, against $15.14 in 1920.

New York State Attorney-General will test the validity of the law imposing 1 per cent tax on bank stock.

HEAVIER SUPPLIES SEND PRICES DOWN.

CAULIFLOWER, CABBAGE AND CARROTS RETAIL AT LOWER FIGURES.

Heavier vegetable supplies sent prices downward yesterday at the Los Angeles produce terminal. Cauliflower receipts were liberal and the best offerings sold at $1.25 to $1.50, with a great deal of stock bringing as low as 50 cents. Cabbage averaged around 25 cents a crate lower, and beets and carrots were cut about 5 cents per dozen bunches. The increase in supplies of local lettuce had a tendency to reduce prices and most stock sold around $1.50 to $2.00 per field crate. However, owing to the wide range in quality, some lettuce sold above and below those prices. Tomatoes and peppers both dropped in price, due to the increased arrivals.

Grapefruit and lemons met with a slightly better demand yesterday, but there was little change in the situation. Apples moved moderately and prices were steady. There was a weaker feeling in brown onions and some sales were made at slightly lower figures than Tuesday.

United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company

To the Citizens of Los Angeles and Those Residing in Its Contiguous Territory:

At certain stated intervals the U. S. F. & G. Co considers it not only a duty but also a pleasure to publish its financial statement, so that its financial standing and the progress it is making in the field of surety and casualty insurance may be placed openly before the public.

JOHN R. BLAND, President.

To Our Stockholders, Managers, Agents and Field Men:

Notwithstanding the great difficulties which have been encountered in the surety and casualty business during the past year, and the seductive offers made by our competitors to our agents and clients in an effort to induce them to switch their business, we are able to present to you a financial statement for 1921 that shows not only a remarkable increase in strength, but indicates that 1921 was the banner year in the history of the Company.

The managers, agents and field men who produce the business constitute the sinews of the Company, and it is their loyalty, courage and industry which have made possible such an achievement in the year marking [illegible] anniversary of the Company.

The Executive, therefore, in extending to you his best wishes for the year 1922, begs permission to acknowledge gratefully the splendid work you have performed in contributing to this magnificent showing.

In the Financial Statement found on the following pages, giving item by item our holdings in Bonds and Stocks, the valuations are based upon market values and this includes our investments in United States Government bonds. Our reserves for all outstanding liabilities are in no case less than the maximum required by law.

Our income from interest, rents and miscellaneous items other than our premium account was $285,564.64 in excess of the amount required to pay the dividends declared for the year 1921, which were at the rate of 16 per cent, and also to pay a dividend of 4 per cent which was declared and charged in our 1921 account, but paid January 5, 1922.

The building purchased for the use of our large and rapidly growing branch office in the City of New York has been completed and is carried at its appraised value of $1,026,981.12. This property is in the heart of the financial district, opposite the Federal Reserve Bank, and has added greatly to the prestige of the Company in that city.

The addition to the Home Office building, erected on property owned by the Company, at Calvert, Water and Mercer streets, is also completed and occupied; total cost, $708,915.50; and it adds greatly to the efficient conduct of our business and the comfort of our employes.

Our bonds, stocks, cash and other invested assets have been examined and found correct by a Committee of Stockholders and Directors, whose certificate is attached to this report.

Yours very truly,

John R Bland

President.

FOR SALE—

WILSHIRE CREST.

For two-story residences costing $10,000 or more.

Having decided to have a new home, the first important point is location. Most people prefer the Wilshire district, as close as possible to Wilshire boulevard.

Inspection shows Wilshire to be a section of gently rolling hills. One naturally wants to be on a hilltop, but is confronted by the high cost of the high ground.

We have the solution of this cost difficulty. Wilshire Crest was bought for half the present ruling value of Wilshire ground a mile farther out. The owners chose low lot prices and quick sales, so they are giving lot buyers the benefit of the fortunate purchase of Wilshire Crest.

In this way we have for your selection lots 60x135 to 150x250, on the highest ground on Wilshire boulevard west of Western avenue, at surprisingly low prices.

Many at $3200, $3500, $3750, $4000 and $4500. On the very highest point we have 90x195, next to the grounds of the beautiful Italian Villa soon to be built.

There are also lots 60 feet and wider by 240 feet deep, with hilltop house sites and a wooded spring brook through the garden site.

Wilshire Crest overlooks and is situated in the very best part of the Wilshire district.

STATE RULED BY OPTIMISM.

Note Little Improvement in Unemployment.

Los Angeles One Bright Spot Recorded.

Other Cities' Report Not So Favorable.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Although no general improvement is noted in unemployment conditions, a feeling of optimism for 1922 prevails throughout California, J. A. Kelly, acting district director of the employment division of the United States Department of Labor, declared in his monthly report issued here today.

Extracts from Mr. Kelly's report, covering several California cities, follow:

BUILDING SLOWS UP.

"San Francisco—Greatest falling off of employment occurs in food and kindred products, due to a large seasonal layoff in the sugar industry. Refineries are resuming operations, however. Other food industries are normal. Textiles show a slight increase in numbers employed, but is yet below normal. Iron and steel and shipbuilding are at a standstill. Building has slowed up some, but still very active. Shortage of plasterers at present. Miscellaneous group shows about 17 per cent increase in employment. Excepting the iron and steel trades, most of the unemployment is confined to this group. Foundation contract let for China Basin Terminal. This work will cost $800,000 and will employ 200 men for at least one year. Coastwise shipping active; offshore below normal. Railroad shops operating generally with decreased forces. Despite the large building program, housing shortage exists. Desirable homes at moderate rent very scarce. Many homes under construction, but prices are high. Retail business shows a seasonal falling off.

"Oakland—No improvement in the employment conditions, aside from building, which is booming, and as a consequence is keeping the lumber industry above normal. All other industries below normal. Iron and steel 75 per cent below. Shipbuilding is at a standstill; only repairs. Textiles, paper, chemicals, stone, clay and glass are also below normal. All fruit and packing-houses closed for season. Slight increase in orders for agricultural helpers for plowing. Housing situation somewhat easier. Retail trade quiet.

COMMON LABOR OUT.

"Berkeley—Unemployment confined to common labor, iron and steel trades. Building active, but few places for rent. Retail trade normal. Optimism prevails.

"Sacramento—Excepting building, industries quiet. Extensive building program, both public and private, in sight. Railroad repairs far below normal. No demand as yet for agricultural workers. Acute housing situation in evidence. Retail trade very quiet.

"Stockton—No improvement in employment conditions. Unemployment confined chiefly to common laborers, agricultural workers, iron and steel trades. Building active. Mining is picking up some, but is still far below normal. Lumber 25 per cent below normal; iron and steel, leather, paper, clay and glass also considerably below. Housing situation is easier. Retail trade reported very dull.

"San Jose—General employment situation shows some improvement over last month. Excepting pruners, no demand for orchard or agricultural help. Building fairly active, with an extensive building program in sight. One large plant, engaged in the manufacture of cannery equipment and closed for several months, has resumed operations with a small force. Housing shortage. Retail trade very quiet.

BAD AT FRESNO.

"Fresno—Unemployment in all lines, excepting building trades. Work started on new Sugar Pine mill. Farm activities have opened, pruning, plowing and leveling now going on. Hydro construction and lumber mills closed for the season. Desirable homes for rent very scarce, with rents high. Retail trade slow.

"Los Angeles—Employment conditions show favorable improvement over last month. Building activity continues. Large harbor improvements to be undertaken requiring large numbers of men. Other public work to start soon, notably the municipal stadium. Shortage of plasterers. Lumber industry flourishing. Unemployment confined chiefly to unskilled labor, iron and steel trades. Shipyards closed. Railroad shops working part time. Textile, leather, paper, clay and glass and oil below normal. Acute housing shortage exists. Retail trade for this time of year reported good."

HARDINGS TO VISIT ALASKA IN JUNE.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY MAKES TENTATIVE PLANS FOR TOUR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The President and Mrs. Harding will leave here for Alaska about June 15, and will not return until the middle of September. According to tentative plans, the Presidential party will go by special train to the Pacific Coast.

The Mayflower, the Presidential yacht in the meantime will sail to the Pacific and be ready to convoy the party down the coast late in August. Mrs. Harding feels that the only opportunity for relaxation on the President's part will present itself after his departure on the Mayflower.

The fire was in the heart of the city about a block from the Jefferson Hotel. A volunteer fireman broke an arm when he fell from the second story of a building in fighting the fire.

'GOLD ROUTE" IS REOPENED.

Graves Marked Jungle Trail Across Isthmus.

Steamer's Trip Recalls Days of Famous Gold Rush.

Argonauts of '48 and '49 Had Bitter Struggle.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—When M. Ferdinand de Lesseps, French engineer, started the construction of a great canal from the Gulf of Limon to the Bay of Panama, C. A., in 1881, he is supposed to have happened on the rude graves of many travelers over the gold route. They were the graves of those who had fallen and died on this route in the heartbreaking journey from coast to coast through the almost impenetrable jungle, while answering the feverish lure of California gold. Within the last few weeks the gold route, which really reached from New York to San Francisco, has been opened again after it had been a memory only for more than fifty years.

LEADS BY GRAVES.

Today's route leads by the graves of the hardy Argonauts and follows in a general way the jungle trails that they trod, but goes through the Panama Canal. The canal has blotted out the land lanes of the gold route.

The route was blazed when the side wheeler California left New York late in 1848 bound for a Puget Sound port. While she was still following the pathway of the balleons down the old Spanish Main, however, California blazed up on the horizon through the discovery of gold. At Aspinwall, now Colon, the hardy adventurers who made up her passenger list, heard the news, were lured on by it, and disembarked with the hope that they could speed their journey by breaking through the forty-six jungle-tangled miles that lay between them and Panama and another western port, Taboga.

RAILROAD BUILT.

History records that many of them got through after a desperate struggle, but others were not so fortunate. For some time thereafter the gold route held its own with the famed Overland Trail across the plains, but in 1855 a railroad was built across the isthmus and the old route was finally abandoned with the clearing of the Indians and kindred dangers from the all-land trail.

Sometimes the California and her sister ships, the Oregon and Panama, would discharge their argonaut passengers at Aspinwall, and after rounding the Horn would pick them up again at Panama or Taboga. The ships established the first regular all-water route between New York and San Francisco, and took a whole month in the passage. It was necessary at times to pack the passengers in rather closely because of their numbers, but there were no serious accidents reported.

Although never as well known as the Overland Trail or the route around the Horn, the gold route held as much romance and gave rise to as stirring tales as the other early travel-lanes to the gold fields. History records that the first steamer to arrive over the gold route was given a tremendous ovation in San Francisco, the event being referred to as one of great historical importance.

COMES FROM PRISON TO FACE WIVES.

CONVICTED BIGAMIST FREED OF ONE OF THREE MATES BY JUDGE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. — Lawrence A. Schaefer, convicted bigamist, was deprived of one of his three wives by Justice McCook in Supreme Court yesterday, but he lost her only after coming all the way from Auburn prison, acting as his own counsel and putting up a fight against her suit for annulment. His third wife, Estelle Farrell Schaefer, won the action. All three of his wives and ex-wives were in court and testified.

In his plea to the court, Schaefer protested that he was convicted of bigamy on a technicality. His marriage to the complainant, he said, was the only one that was valid.

Though he admitted having married Miss Florence Flamberg, wife No. 2, in Hudson, N. J., on July 7, 1919, he insisted that this marriage was void. They had not complied, he said, with the laws of the State. This, Justice McCook replied, rendered the marriage voidable, but not void.

Justice McCook rendered judgment in favor of the third Mrs. Schaefer. Mrs. Fanny G. Schaefer of Philadelphia, who divorced Schaefer in 1917, and wives Nos. 2 and 3 left the courtroom arm in arm.

SUTTER'S WIDOW IN DIRE NEED.

Daughter-in-Law of Builder of Famous Fort Impoverished by Mexican Rebels.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—In poverty and suffering with a malady that will claim her life in a few days, Mrs. Nicholasa Sutter, daughter-in-law of Gen. John A. Sutter, builder of Sutter's Fort in Sacramento and a heroic figure in the State's history, has sent an appeal to the city of Sacramento for aid, it was disclosed here today by Miss Alice H. Dougherty, Grand Secretary of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. The appeal was sent through Miss Dougherty.

Forced by a revolution to flee from the estate of her husband, John A. Sutter, Jr., near Acapulco, Mex., seven years ago, Mrs. Sutter, who is now 74 years old, has tried desperately to maintain herself, but has been forced to give up the fight, Miss Dougherty said. She is at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ina Young, who admitted her inability to care for the aged woman.

John A. Sutter, Jr., who has been dead for twenty-four years, was married about forty-five years ago, and later went to Acapulco as American Consul, where he served for a number of years. He left an estate sufficient to keep his family in comfortable circumstances until revolutionists swept through the State of Guerrero and drove out the foreign residents.

Relatives and friends have been pressing the Mexican government to restore the Sutter estate to the aged woman without avail. There is no hope that it will be returned to her before death claims her, Miss Dougherty said.

FLAPPERS ARE ALL EXCITED.

Wedding Day for Several Hundred Pullets.

Must Share Husbands With Nineteen Others.

Not Bothered They Haven't Seen Mates.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FARMINGDALE (N. Y.) Feb. 15.—The exclusive young flapper section at the State Institute of Applied Agriculture was all aflutter with excitement today. There was much artful cocking of heads and preening of fine feathers. For in some way the news had gotten about that before nightfall all the good flappers, just budding into henhood, were to get beautiful young husbands, with delightful backgrounds of wealth and social position.

The fact, savoring of Asia, that the brides-to-be had never seen their future husbands didn't seem to bother the flappers. Nor did the fact that each was to share her husband with nineteen others. Monogamy still is unknown in the world of White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds and Plymouth Rocks.

THREE-YEAR CONTEST.

Today's weddings mark the second stage of a three-year egg-laying and poultry breeding contest being conducted by B. A. Ahrens, head of the institute's poultry department.

During the last year, 900 pullets from all parts of the East have been devoting their energies solely to egg laying, and have established enviable records for themselves. The contestants entered by poultry raisers for the experiment-contest, laid 139,477 eggs in the year, or an average of 152.11 per pullet.

A single comb White Leghorn, owned by F. J. Loveland of New York, carried off first prize with 262 eggs. Loveland's White Leghorn pen also carried off the pen prize with a total of 2739 eggs. There were 107 pullets out of the 900 entered, that produced 200 or more eggs.

SECOND PHASE.

The second, or breeding phase of the contest, which starts with today's matings, will continue through March, April and May, each bride being allotted a setting of ten eggs. The hens will not be permitted to hatch their own families, however, this detail being attended to in incubators.

Next fall, twenty pullets from each pen — one from each hen's brood as far as possible—will be selected and placed in the pens their parents occupied.

Tests as to their skill as layers and parents, conducted during the following season, will conclude the contest.

OBJECT OF TEST.

The objects of the contest, which is supported by a $15,000 appropriation of the Legislature and by fees from entrants, are:

To encourage selection of stock and a closer study of the physical characteristics which determine a bird's producing and breeding ability.

To furnish each poultry raiser with an accurate record of eggs produced and the breeding ability of each hen entered.

To return to the farm at the end of each year some registered birds with their records of performance, which may be used in establishing a definite and successful method of breeding.

And to demonstrate to poultry raisers the methods and practices in breeding and management that will lead to higher production and greater profits.

IRISH FIGHTING, REBELLION IN INDIA, LOAFERS PAID WAGES, J. BULL IS AGHAST.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Facing revolution in India, Ireland and Egypt on the outside, and beset internally with an onslaught of manufacturers and traders demanding a return to anything resembling normal prosperity, the British government, pushed to the limit, is making tremendous efforts to deal with the problem of unemployment. Two millions of British people are entirely idle, while upward of 400,000 are working only part of the time.

Millions in Doles Paid Each Year to Maintain Idle

To save these and their dependents from starvation, the government is paying out in so-called doles nearly 100,000,000 pounds sterling (normally $486,000,000) a year. This exceeds enormously any amount ever before devoted to a similar purpose. It is believed to be immensely more than any other country ever distributed for unemployment.

Both the state and the municipalities are struggling to provide productive work, but can barely touch the fringe of the problem.

Unions Demanding National Plants as Work Panacea

The Labor party asks that national factories be set up. The government replies that such factories would make work for one section of the people and throw another section out of employment. It also argues that such factories would be far more expensive than factories managed by private enterprise.

Since 1920 central municipal governments have provided 40,000,000 pounds sterling (normally $194,404,000) to find work for the unemployed. Ninety thousand men are making new roads and maintaining old ones. Fourteen million pounds (normally $68,040,000) will be devoted to railway work and the manufacture of locomotives for export. All government work will be expedited.

New Drainage Plan, Government Loans, Reforestation

For the rural areas a big land-draining scheme has been sanctioned. Reforestation is proceeding in 465 localities. The government is guaranteing loans for capital undertakings up to 25,000,000 pounds ($121,500,000.) Under these loans work has been started in the north and in the midlands, giving employment to cement workers, iron, steel and electrical workers and unskilled workers connected with these craftsmen.

NEGRO UNDER ARREST AS THUG GANG CHIEF.

PRISONER IDENTIFIED BY TWO VICTIMS AS MAN WHO HELD THEM UP.

With the arrest of Thomas Rachel, a negro, aged 22 years, of 513 Ceres avenue, early last night Patrolman L. D. Moore and Detective Sergeant Green placed in the City Jail a man who, they believe, is the leader of a gang of negro footpads and auto bandits that has lately molested citizens. Rachel was booked on assault and attempted robbery charges.

One of the asserted victims of Rachel and his gang was Prof. Ralph L. Power of the University of Southern California. Prof. Power identified the colored man at Central Police Station as one of the pair of footpads who, armed with revolvers, held him up near the University grounds recently and robbed him of his gold watch and $25 in currency.

Rachel was also identified by Oliver Boudinot, a fruit dealer of 1193 West Thirty-sixth street, as the "tall negro" who, with a confederate, knocked him down in a dark spot on Santa Fe avenue the 4th inst. and attempted to rob him. Boudinot furnished the information which brought about Rachel's arrest yesterday. Passing a pool room on Central avenue late in the day, Mr. Boudinot noticed Rachel lounging inside and immediately called Patrolman Moore.

SAYS WILSON HELPED BRING WORLD PEACE.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE SENDS DONATION TO FUND FOR FOUNDATION.

One Superior Court judge in replying to a circular letter asking donations toward the $30,000 fund, Southern California's quota to the $1,000,000 national fund for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, wrote Harrington Brown and Mrs. J. Henry Stewart, in charge of campaign headquarters, 806 Security Building, as follows:

"I am in receipt of your circular letter regarding the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. I am wholly in sympathy with the movement, although, as you probably knew, I never was a political follower of the former President. I am, however, a believer in peace and all that tends to promote justice in the sorely stricken world, and to my way of thinking, Woodrow Wilson has done more to advance this sacred cause than any other living man. I take great pleasure in being able to assist this great movement by sending you the inclosed check."

According to those in charge, similar letters are received at campaign headquarters daily, and it is expected the full quota will be raised here.

DETECTIVES MEW, HOWL LIKE CATS.

New York Sleuths Pull Stunt Never Thought of by Vidocq or Hawkshaw.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. — New York detectives today hit upon a disguise that Poe, Gaboriau and Doyle missed. They became cats.

Working on a telephone tip that Henry Bownlow, who described himself as a "retired broker of New York and London" was running a little game for wealthy clubmen in his apartment on West Fifty-fifth street, Detectives Burpeau, Hock and Smith betook themselves to the house in the early morning hours.

Dropping to their hands and knees they loosed some piteous "me-e-ows" and began scratching on the door.

Then, the detectives said, they saw Bownlow and guests all in evening clothes standing in a luxuriously furnished room around a roulette wheel.

At the police station Bownlow, who claimed to be acquainted with the first families of New York and to frequent the best clubs, asked the lieutenant in charge to telephone Lord Auckland at the Buckingham Hotel, so that he could furnish bail. Lady Auckland told the police her husband was out. Bownlow, upon arraignment, was held in $500 bail. He pleaded not guilty.

SEA GIVES UP BODY.

Victim of Boat Accident is Found Off Breakwater.

The body of L. H. Jackson, captain of the harbor pilot boat Hesper, which sank outside the breakwater January 29th last, during a gale, was recovered yesterday morning and turned over to the Cleveland Undertaking Company.

Roy M. Bolmer, operator of the launch Music, operating between Los Angeles Harbor and Long Beach, discovered the body floating about two miles east of the light on the breakwater. He brought it to the Fifth-street landing on his launch. Capt. Jackson lost his life while engaged in going to the freighter Pacific through mountainous seas, which capsized his boat. His widow and two children live at 653 West Nineteenth street, San Pedro.
